TO THE READER.

READER,

Though the Title Page do ſufficiently declare the Particulars of what is moſt material in this Work, yet it may not be unneceſſary to inform you farther:

Firſt, as to the Title, That the Matter being intire, and taken from Publick Rolls of Parliament, and not lying diſperſed in Fragments, or in unknown or obſcure Places, it was not thought ſo proper to uſe the Term of A Collection, but rather to call them, (as in truth they are) The Statutes at large, i.e. not Abridg'd nor Parcel'd, but intire as in the Rolls: Not that all the Statutes are here at Large, for of ſome there are only the Titles, or a ſhort Remembrance left, but a majori, becauſe thoſe now thought fit for uſe are ſo.

Secondly, As to the Statutes themſelves, thoſe omitted in this Edition, are either ſuch as concerned the Reparation of Decayed Towns, or ſuch as by far better Advice then mine, were thought of no uſe, or Deſuete. 2. That the ſeveral Titles of each Statute and Chapter, are (as I believe, and am credibly informed) the true Titles upon the Rolls in Parliament, which ſince 11 H. 7. have been Examined with as much Care as poſſible, and Mr. Pulton aſſures you for almoſt the time precedent; and yet ſome of them alſo are now Amended, as the Statute of Rutland, the Statute of Limitations, &c. 3. That the Paragraphs in the Body of the Statutes, are not (as in the Table) diſtinguiſh'd by a § but only by the Numeral Letters, II, III, IV, &c. added to thoſe ſpaces that were before ſo deſigned when tranſacted in Parliament. And the Sections or Numbers are the leſſer Figures 2, 3, 4, &c. Superiour in every Paragraph, the uſe whereof is manifeſt upon any occaſion of Quotation or Reference, and neceſſary to make any Reading or particular Diſcourſe upon a Statute Intelligible. 4. That the adding of the Heads of Pulton's or Raſtal's Abridgment in the Margin at the beginning of each Chapter, was not ſo much for the propriety of the Head, as by that means to let you into all ſuch like Statutes as are under thoſe Heads about the ſame Matter. 5. That where it is not ſaid Raſt. before or after the Title, it muſt be intended Pulton's. 6. That the former Titles of each Statute and Chapter (which were rather Collections of the Matter contained therein) are ſtill retained next under thoſe Marginal Heads in each Chapter. 7. That the References of other Books of Law in the Margin, are doubtleſs many the ſame Caſes that were before; but different Reports add Light and Authority to the uſe and confirmation of the ſame Caſe: Yet in Proſpect of theſe, I added many more then I firſt intended. 8. That there is ſome Account in the Statutes themſelves, which are Altered, and which Repealed, or but continued, but not ſo fully aſcertained as (if poſſible to be aſcertained) Time might effect; but what I could ſay at preſent in that matter, you will find in the Table under Title Continuance.

Thirdly, as to the Table, (which is ſomewhat Enlarged ſince the firſt Edition) the Method thereof, as I think, is peculiar to theſe Laws, which are ſo ranged in a Series of time of every Kings Reign, under each General Head, that on any ſlight intimation of that Kings Time in which they were made, as in ancient Quotations, Tem. Ed. 1. or 4 H. 8, &c. (which 2 Inſt. 571. were then thought the ſureſt) on ſudden view, any Statute there may be known without long ſearch; which cannot be made in time of Study or Buſineſs, without ſome Inconveniencies, eſpecially where no Chapter is mentioned, as in the former Quotations: And though theſe be wholly new, yet, I hope, the uſe of it will Over-balance all harſh Opinions of Novelty. 2. In the Table you will find ſome Statutes, with their Paragraphs, that are only there, and yet the Statutes themſelves left out of the Book at large; that if there do ariſe any Particular Matter uſeful, as it is very probable in ſome of the larger Statutes there may, yet this will give ſufficient notice of the Matter, &c. 3. The variety of Sub-divided Heads herein that refer to others, or are added under them, were rather multiplied to meet with the different Conjectures of the Student then for any neceſſity in themſelves, that thereby they might ſooner find what they ſeek after in the more General Head; for I could not ſo appropriate any particular Head to one Matter, as not to exclude others as proper. 4. Though it ſometimes happen, that ſome ſubordinate additional Heads are not to be found in thoſe Heads to which they are added, and poſſibly ſome leſſer Heads that refer to others, are not to be found in thoſe to which they refer, yet both may be found in other Heads as proper: for there is not any Statute, Chapter nor Paragraph wilfully omitted, but every one hath ſuch place in the Table as was then thought fit, and Matters of greater moment are often repeated under ſeveral Heads, as they may be fancied to have ſeveral Intendments: And I was afraid I had tranſgreſs'd the limits of a Table in doing that. 5. Becauſe every Title diſpers'd in the Table may, perhaps, not be ſo eaſily viewed there, they are ſumm'd up in the Catalogue precedent, that therein they may be the ſooner had.

Laſtly, as to the Whole, Since every Man, by the Laws of God and Men, is bound to ſome proportionable Improvement, according to his Abilities, for the good of the Whole, I have endeavoured to add this Mite of Publick Service, which (having already found ſome Acceptance of) keeps me from Deſpair in this, which yet I leave to your Peruſal, with Submiſſion to the ſame Providence of Almighty God, who gave both the Opportunity and the Means to Effect it; To whoſe Bounty the Succeſs (if Good) is to be Attributed, (if Bad) to my own imperfect uſe of both.

HENRY, by the Grace of God, King of England, Lord of Ireland, Duke of Guyan and Normandy, Earl of Anjou, To his truſty and well beloved Gerard, ſon of Maurice Juſticer of Ireland, Greeting. Whereas certain Knights of the parties of Ireland, lately coming to Us, have informed Us, that when any Land doth deſcend unto ſiſters within our Dominion of Ireland, our Juſtices Errant in thoſe parties are in doubt whether the younger ſiſters ought to hold of the eldeſt ſiſter, and do homage unto her for their portions, or of the chief Lord, and do homage unto him. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Knights have requeſted to be certified how it hath been uſed heretofore within our Realm of England in like caſe: (2) at their inſtance we do you to wit, that ſuch a Law and Cuſtom is in England in this caſe, That if any, holding of us in chief, happen to die, having daughters to his heirs, our anceſtors and we, after the death of the Father, have always had and received homage of all ſuch daughters, and every of them in this caſe do hold of us in chief: (3) And if they happened to be within age, we have always had the ward and marriage of every of them: (4) And if he be tenant unto another Lord, and not to us (the ſiſters being within age) the Lord ſhall have the ward and marriage of them all, and the eldeſt only ſhall do homage for her ſelf and all her ſiſters. (5) And when the other ſiſters come to full age, they ſhall do their ſervice to the Lords of the Fee by the hands of the eldeſt ſiſter: yet ſhall not the eldeſt by this occaſion exact of her younger ſiſters, homage, ward, or any other ſubjection, for they be all ſiſters, and in manner as one heir to one inheritance. (6) If the eldeſt ſhould have homage of the other ſiſters, and demand wardſhip, then the inheritance ſhould be divided, ſo that the eldeſt ſiſter ſhould be ſeignioreſs and tenant of inheritance (ſimul & ſemel) that is to ſay, heirs of her own part, and ſeignioreſs to her ſiſters, which could not ſtand well together in this caſe, for the elder can demand no more then her ſiſters, but the chief meaſe by reaſon of her ancienty. (7) Moreover, if the elder ſiſter ſhould take homage of the younger, ſhe ſhould be as a ſeignioreſs to them all, and ſhould have the ward of them and their heirs; which ſhould be no other but to caſt the Lamb to the Wolf to be devoured.

(3) And then it ſhall be commanded to the Sheriff, that he, taking with him the keepers of the Pleas of the King's Crown, and other lawful Knights, in his proper perſon, ſhall go unto the land or paſture, whereof the plaint hath been made. And that he make before them by the firſt Jurors and other neighbors and lawful men, diligent inquiſition thereof: And if they find him diſſeiſed again (as before is ſaid) then let him do according to the proviſion afore-mentioned. But if it be found otherwiſe, the Plaintiff ſhall be amerced, and the other ſhall go quit: (4) Neither ſhall the Sheriff execute any ſuch plaint without ſpecial commandment of the King. ALſo becauſe many great men of England (which have infeoffed Knights and their Freeholders of ſmall tenements in their great Manors) have complained that they cannot make their profit of the reſidue of their Manors, as of waſtes, woods and paſtures, whereas the ſame feoffees have ſufficient paſture as much as belongeth to their tenements: (2) It is provided and granted, That whenſoever ſuch Feoffees do bring an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin for their common of paſture, and it is knowledged before the Juſticers, that they have as much paſture as ſufficeth to their tenements, and that they have free egreſs and regreſs from their tenement unto the paſture; then let them be contented therewith, and they on whom it was complained ſhall go quit of as much as they have made their profit of their lands, waſtes, woods and paſtures. III. Anno 12 H.3. Sententia lata ſuper Chartas, viz. A Sentence of Curſe given by the Biſhops againſt the Breakers of the Great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt. EXP.

The Statute of Weſtminſter the Firſt, made at Weſtm. 25 die Aprilis, An. 3 Ed. 1. and An. Dom. 1275.

These be the Acts of King Edward, Son to King Henry, made at Weſtminſter at his firſt Parliament general after his Coronation, on the Monday of Eaſter utas, the third year of his Reign, by his Council, and by the aſſent of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors, Earls, Barons, and all the Commonalty of the Realm being thither ſummoned, becauſe our Lord the King had great zeal and deſire to redreſs the ſtate of the Realm things as required amendment, for the common profit of Holy Church and of the Realm. And becauſe the ſtate of Holy Church had been evil kept, and the Prelates and Religious Perſons of the Land grieved many ways, and the People otherwiſe intreated than they ought to be, and the Peace leſs kept, and the Laws leſs uſed, and the Offenders leſs puniſhed than they ought to be, by reaſon whereof the People of the Land feared the leſs to offend: the King hath ordained and eſtabliſhed theſe Acts under-written, which he intendeth to be neceſſary and profitable unto the whole Realm.

CAP. I.

The Peace of the Church and the Realm ſhall be maintained. Religious Houſes ſhall not be overcharged.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 156.

Monaſtery, Raſt. 82. The Peace of the Church and the Realm ſhall be kept. Religious Houſes ſhall not be overcharged.

FIrſt, the King willeth and commandeth, that the Peace of Holy Church, and of the Land be well kept and maintained in all points, and that common right be done to all, as well poor as rich, without reſpect of perſons. (2) And becauſe that Abbeys and Houſes of Religion of the Land have been overcharged and ſore grieved, by the reſort of great men and other, ſo that their goods have not been ſufficient for themſelves, whereby they have been greatly hindred and impoveriſhed, that they cannot maintain themſelves nor ſuch charity as they have been accuſtomed to do: It is provided, that none ſhall come to eat or lodge in any Houſe of Religion of any others foundation than of his own at the coſts of the Houſe, unleſs he be required by the Governour of the Houſe before his coming thither. (3) And that none, at his own coſts, ſhall enter and come to lye there againſt the will of them that be of the Houſe. (4) And by this Statute the King intendeth not, that the grace of Hoſpitality ſhould be withdrawn from ſuch as need, nor that the Founders of ſuch Monaſteries ſhould over-charge, or grieve them by their often coming. (5) It is provided alſo, that none high nor low, by colour of kindred, affinity or alliance, or by any other occaſion, ſhall courſe in any Park, nor fiſh in any Pond, nor come to eat or lodge in the Houſe or Mannor of a Prelate, or any other Religious Perſon, againſt the will or leave of the Lord or his Bailiff, neither at the coſt of the Lord, nor at his own. Murther. Likewiſe it is to be inquired who were culpable, either of the act, or of the force, and who were preſent, either men or women, and of what age ſoever they be (if they can ſpeak, or have any diſcretion.) (3) And how many ſoever be found culpable by inquiſition in any of the manners aforeſaid, they ſhall be taken and delivered to the Sheriff, and ſhall be committed to the Gaol: Inquiry of the offenders. (4) and ſuch as be found, and be not culpable, ſhall be attached until the coming of the Juſtices, and their names ſhall be written in Rolls. A man found ſlain. (7) It ſhall be inquired alſo, if the dead perſon were known, or elſe a ſtranger, and where he lay the night before. The Murtherer found culpable. (9) And when they have thus inquired upon every thing, ſhall cauſe all the land, corn, and goods to be valued, in like manner as if they ſhould be ſold incontinently, and thereupon they ſhall be delivered to the whole Townſhip, which ſhall be anſwerable before the Juſtices for all. (10) And likewiſe of his freehold, how much it is worth yearly over and above the ſervice due to the Lords of the Fee; and the land ſhall remain in the Kings hands, until the Lords of the Fee have made fine for it. (8) And if he die, the Defendant ſhall be kept: and if he recover health they ſhall be attached by four or ſix pledges, after as the wound is great or ſmall. (9) If it be for a maim, he ſhall find no leſs than four pledges; if it be for a ſmall wound, two pledges ſhall ſuffice. (12) Moreover, if any be appealed of any act done, as principal, they that be appealed of the force ſhall be attached alſo, and ſurely kept in ward, until the principals be attainted or delivered. To the intent that proviſion may be had for the indemnity of us and our people, in certain things touching us and our people aforeſaid, in our ſaid Court of Exchequer, (2) We will and provide, That from henceforth the bodies of Shires ſhall not be written in ſeveral Rolls, but ſhall be written in a certain annual Roll by themſelves, and ſhall be read every year upon the Accompts of Sheriffs, that is to wit, of ſeveral Counties, that it may be known, if ought may accrue unto us by any mean. (3) The remanents of the ferms of the ſame Shires ſhall be written Poſt terras datas in the annual Rolls, and the Sheriffs ſhall be charged therewith: (4) In which remanents, the Liveries and Alms aſſigned ſhall be allowed, and other allowances, (if Sheriffs have had any) of the Iſſues of their Bailiwicks by our Writs. (5) And becauſe of the ſuggeſtion of our Bailiffs, our Writs are made of divers allowances, unto our grievous damage: (6) We will and provide, That of ſuch manner allowances ſo to be made, from henceforth view ſhall be made in our Exchequer, and the ſame view being faithfully made, the ſame Treaſurer and Barons ſhall certifie our Chancellor of the due allowances ſo to be made, and that Writs of allowances ſhall be made according to the ſame Certificate, (7) Moreover, there ſhall be written in the ſame annual Rolls the ferms of the Sheriffs, the profits of Counties, the ferms of Serjeants and Aſſerts, the ferms of Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and other ferms, whereof there is anſwer made yearly in the Exchequer. (8) And in them alſo ſhall be written all Debts determined, all groſs Debts whereof there is hope that ſomewhat ſhall be paid, and all other Debts that ſeem to be clear. (9) But when it is come unto accompt to the title of new Duties, nothing ſhall be written in the annual Roll, but thoſe Debts whereof there is hope of payment, and whereof the Sheriff is anſwerable, and Debts found in the Originals.

The Bodies of Shires. Annual Rolls. 34 & 35 H. 8. 16.

A Roll of deſperate Debts.

II. Of dead ferms, and debts deſperate, whereof there is no hope, one Roll ſhall be made, and ſhall be intituled Comitatus, and read every year upon the accompt of Sheriffs; and the debts whereof the Sheriffs are anſwerable ſhall be written in the annual Roll, and there ſhall be acquitted.

Tallies for Debts.

III. Moreover, we will and provide, That it ſhall be proclaimed in every County, That all they that have Tallies of the Exchequer, for the Debts of themſelves, or their Anceſtors, hitherto paid uſually there, and not yet allowed, which yet do come in the ſummons of the Exchequer, they do deliver to the Sheriffs ſuch Tallies, to be allowed at the Exchequer upon their Accompts. (2) And the Sheriffs ſhall make to them (of whom they ſhall ſo receive Tallies) their Writings, witneſſing the receipt of thoſe Tallies, and occaſions of the Debts.

Two Knights.

IV. Two faithful Knights, deputed thereunto, ſhall be preſent at the receipt of the Tallies aforeſaid, between whom and the ſaid Sheriffs, Indentures ſhall be made of ſuch Receipts, with the Seals of them both interchangeably.

V. The foreſaid Knights, deputed thereunto, ſhall ſend the parts of their Indentures, at the term appointed, unto the Exchequer in form aforeſaid, to the end, that by the view and witneſs of them, the ſaid Tallies ſo received by the Sheriffs, may be ſhewed, and allowed upon their Accompts.

Having Tallies and not delivering them.

VI. Moreover, it ſhall be proclaimed, That except thoſe that have ſuch Tallies do deliver them to the Sheriffs and Knights, as afore is ſaid, that then they ſhall be diſtrained for the whole debt, and that the foreſaid Tallies ſhall be reputed for unpaid.

VII. Moreover, the debts which yet are to come in the ſummons of the Exchequer, whereof the debtors do proffer Tallies againſt divers Sheriffs, ſhall be defalked and acquitted.

Commiſſions to enquire of the King's Debts.

VIII. Moreover we provide, that certain perſons aſſigned thereunto on our behalf ſhall be ſent into every Shire, which ſhall have full power to enquire of ſuch manner of debts; (2) and alſo to call afore them ſolemnly, as well the Sheriffs as their heirs and aſſigns, and the Tenants of their lands, in caſe they be dead that have received the debts; (3) and alſo if need be to proceed to the taking of ſuch manner of Inqueſts, whether the parties (againſt whom the foreſaid Tallies were ſhewed) do come or not. So that the Sheriff do return a reaſonable ſommons made to them therefore; (4) and ſo the truth being inquired and diſcuſſed in preſence of the parties (if they will be there) the Inquiſitors ſhall make Rolls of them that ſhall be convict afore them, ſo that the foreſaid debts being confeſſed and inrolled, the Tallies of the ſame ſhall be forthwith broken. (5) And the Sheriffs ſhall have in their cuſtody the tranſcripts of the ſame Rolls, under the Seals of the Inquiſitor; (6) and ſhall ſurceaſe in making Diſtreſſes for the debts contained in the ſame, until they ſhall have otherwiſe in commandment from us therefore. (7) And the foreſaid Inquiſitors ſhall ſend unto the Exchequer the foreſaid Rolls under their Seals, that it may be examined there, by a ſearch to be made therefore, what debts be paid in the whole, and what are paid in part, and what debts there be, whereof the Debtors be not acquitted, according as ſhall be convenient to be done.

IX. Moreover, we will and provide, that the Chamberlains from henceforth ſhall not make to the Sheriffs or any of their Bailiffs, Tallies of dividendis, unleſs they firſt receive of them Writings containing the particular Sums of the Actions of debts, and the names of them that paid them, unto the which particulars he may part the names of ſuch manner dividendis; (2) which being ſo received under their Seals, it ſhall not be lawful to number them into other particulars.

Tallies of Dividends.

X. Moreover, we provide, that all debts, whereunto the Sheriffs make return, that the debtors have nothing in their Bailiwicks, ne had not at ſuch time as they were charged with the ſame debts, or that the debtors be not found, that the ſame debts ſhall be eſtreated in Rolls, and the ſame Rolls to be delivered unto faithful and circumſpect men, which ſhall make inquiry thereof after ſuch form as ſhall be provided by the Treaſurer and Barons.

The Sheriff returneth that the Debtor is not found, or hath nothing.

XI. But for ſo much as certain Pleas were heretofore holden in the Exchequer, which did not concern us, nor our Miniſters of the Exchequer, whereby as well our Pleas, as the Cauſes of our people are unduly prorogued and letted. (2) We will and ordain, That no Plea ſhall be holden or pleaded in the Exchequer aforeſaid, unleſs it do ſpecially concern us and our Miniſters aforeſaid. (3) And therefore we command, that ye cauſe the premiſes to be diſtinctly and openly read afore you, and to inrol it, cauſing the ſame to be ſtraitly obſerved in our Court of Exchequer aforeſaid. In witneſs of which, &c. Yeven at Rutland, the four and twentieth day of the month of May, in the tenth year of our Reign.

No Suit ſhall be proſecuted in the Exchequer, unleſs it concern the King, or his Officers there. Regiſt. fo 187.

The Statute of Acton-burnel, made Anno 11 or 13 Ed. 1. and Anno Dom. 1285.

Ordaining the Statute-Merchant for recovery of Debts.

Foraſmuch as Merchants which heretofore have lent their goods to divers perſons be greatly impoveriſhed, becauſe there is no ſpeedy Law provided for them, to have recovery of their debts at the day of payment aſſigned; (2) And by reaſon hereof, many Merchants have withdrawn to come into this Realm with their Merchandiſes, to the damage as well of the Merchants as of the whole Realm: (3) The King by himſelf and by his Council, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Merchant which will be ſure of his debt, ſhall cauſe his Debtor to come before the Mayor of London, or of York, or Briſtol, or before the Mayor and a Clerk (which the King ſhall appoint for the ſame) for to knowledge the debt and the day of payment; (4) and the Recogniſance ſhall be entred into a Roll with the hand of the ſaid Clerk which ſhall be known. (5) Moreover, the ſaid Clerk ſhall make with his own hand a Bill obligatory, whereunto the Seal of the Debtor ſhall be put, with the King's Seal, that ſhall be provided for the ſame purpoſe: the which Seal ſhall remain in the keeping of the Mayor and Clerk aforeſaid (6) And if the Debtor doth not pay at the day to him limited, the Creditor may come before the ſaid Mayor and Clerk with his Bill obligatory: (7) and if it be found by the Roll and by the Bill that the debt was knowledged, and at the day of payment is expired, the Mayor ſhall incontinent cauſe the moveables of the Debtor to be ſold, as far as the Debt doth amount, by the praiſing of honeſt men, as Chattels, Burgages deviſable, until the whole ſum of the Debt, and the mony without delay ſhall be paid to the Creditor. (8) And if the Mayor can find no buyer, he ſhall cauſe the moveables to be delivered to the Creditor at a reaſonable price, as much as doth amount to the ſum of the Debt, in allowance of his Debt. (9) And the King's Seal ſhall be put unto the ſale and deliverance of the Burgages deviſeable for a perpetual witneſs. (10) And if the Debtor have no moveables within the Juriſdiction of the Mayor, whereupon the debt may be levied, but hath ſome otherwhere within the Realm, then ſhall the Mayor ſend the Recogniſance made before him and the Clerk aforeſaid, unto the Chancellor, under the King's Seal. (11) And the Chancellor ſhall direct a Writ unto the Sheriff, in whoſe Bailiwick the moveables of the Debtor be, and the Sheriff ſhall cauſe him to agree with his Creditor, in ſuch form as the Mayor ſhould have done in caſe that the moveables of the Debtor had been within his power. (12) And let them that ſhall praiſe the moveable goods to be delivered unto the Creditor, take good heed, that they do ſet a reaſonable price upon them: for if they do ſet an over-high price for favour born to the Debtor, and to the damage of the Creditor, then ſhall the thing ſo praiſed be delivered unto themſelves at ſuch price as they have limited, and they ſhall be forthwith anſwerable unto the Creditor for his debt. (13) And if the Debtor will ſay, that his moveable goods were delivered or ſold for leſs then they were worth, yet ſhall he have no remedy thereby. For when the Mayor or the Sheriff hath ſold the moveable goods lawfully to him that offered moſt, he may account it his own folly, that he did not ſell his own moveable goods himſelf before the day of his ſuit (when he might and would not) and have levied the mony with his own hands. (14) And if the Debtor have no moveables, whereupon the debt may be levied, then ſhall his body be taken, where it may be found, and kept in priſon, until that he have made agreement, or his friends for him. (15) And if he have not wherewith he may ſuſtain himſelf in priſon, the Creditor ſhall find him bread and water, to the end that he die not in priſon for default of ſuſtenance; the which coſts the Debtor ſhall recompenſe him with his debt, before that he be let out of priſon. (16) And if the Creditor be a Merchant-ſtranger, he ſhall remain at the coſts of the Debtor for ſo long time as he tarrieth about the ſuit of his debt, and until the moveable goods of the Debtor be ſold or delivered unto him. (17) And if the Creditor do not take the Debtor alone for the ſurety of his payment, by reaſon whereof Pledges or Mainpernors be founden, then thoſe Pledges or Mainpernors ſhall come before the Mayor and Clerk abovesaid, and ſhall bind themſelves by Writings and Recogniſances, as afore is ſaid of the Debtor. (18) And in like manner, if the debt be not paid at the day limited, ſuch execution ſhall be awarded againſt the Pledges or Mainpernors, as before is ſaid of the Debtor.

WHereas of late our Lord the King, in the Quinzim of St. John Baptiſt, the ſixth year of his Reign, calling together the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and his Council, at Glouceſter, and conſidering that divers of this Realm were diſherited, by reaſon that in many caſes, where remedy ſhall have been had, there was none provided by him nor his predeceſſors, ordained certain Statutes right neceſſary and profitable for his Realm, whereby the people of England and Ireland, being ſubjects unto his power, have obtained more ſpeedy Juſtice in their oppreſſions then they had before, and certain caſes (wherein the Law failed) did remain undetermined, and ſome remained to be enacted, that were for the reformation of the oppreſſions of the people: Our Lord the King in his Parliament, after the Feaſt of Eaſter, holden the thirteenth year of his Reign at Weſtminiter, cauſed many oppreſſions of the people, and defaults of the Laws, for the accompliſhment of the ſaid Statutes of Glouceſter, to be rehearſed, and thereupon did provide certain Acts, as ſhall appear here following.

In Gifts in Tail the Donor's Will ſhall be obſerved. The form of a Formedon.

FIrſt, concerning Lands that many times are given upon condition, that is to wit, where any giveth his Land to any man and his wife, and to the heirs begotten of the bodies of the ſame man and his wife, with ſuch condition expreſſed, that if the ſame man and his wife die without heirs of their bodies between them begotten, the Land ſo given ſhall revert to the giver or his heir, (2) In caſe alſo where one giveth Lands in free marriage, which gift hath a condition annexed, though it be not expreſſed in the deed of gift, which is this: That if the husband and wife die without heir of their bodies begotten, the Land ſo given ſhall revert to the giver or his heir. (3) In caſe alſo where one giveth Land to another, and the heirs of his body iſſuing: it ſeemed very hard, and yet ſeemeth to the givers and their heirs, that their Will being expreſſed in the gift, was not heretofore, nor yet is obſerved. (4) In all the caſes aforeſaid, after iſſue begotten and born between them (to whom the Lands were given under ſuch condition) heretofore ſuch Feoffees had power to alien the Land ſo given, and to diſherit their iſſue of the Land, contrary to the minds of the givers, and contrary to the form expreſſed in the gift. (5) And further, when the iſſue of ſuch Feoffee is failing, the Land ſo given ought to return to the giver, or his heir, by form of the gift expreſſed in the deed, though the iſſue (if any were) had died: (6) yet by the deed and feoffment of them (to whom Land was ſo given upon condition) the donors have heretofore been barred of their reverſion, which was directly repugnant to the form of the gift.

(2) Neither ſhall the ſecond husband of any ſuch woman, from henceforth, have any thing in the Land ſo given upon condition, after the death of his wife, by the Law of England, nor the iſſue of the ſecond husband and wife ſhall ſucceed in the inheritance, but immediately after the death of the husband and wife, (to whom the Land was ſo given) it ſhall come to their iſſue, or return unto the giver, or his heir, as before is ſaid, Replevin 2. The miſchiefs which Lords diſtraining their Tenant did ſuffer. V.N.B. fo. 163.

FOraſmuch as Lords of Fees diſtraining their Tenants for ſervices and cuſtoms due unto them are many times grieved, becauſe their Tenants do replevy the Diſtreſs by Writ or without Writ. (2) And when that Lords, at the complaint of the Tenants, do come by Attachment into the County, or unto another Court, having power to hold Pleas of Withernam, and do avow the taking good and lawful, by reaſon that the Tenants diſavow to hold ought, nor do claim to hold any thing of him (which took the Diſtreſs, and avowed it) he that diſtrained is amerced, and the Tenants go quit; (3) to whom puniſhment cannot be aſſigned for ſuch diſavowing by Record of the County, or of other Courts having no Record.

And the cauſe ſhall be put in the Writ, becauſe ſuch a man diſtrained in his Fee for Services and Cuſtoms to him due. (3) Neither is this Act prejudicial to the Law commonly uſed, which did not permit that any Plea ſhould be moved before Juſtices at the ſuit of the defendant: (4) For though it appear at the firſt ſhew that the Tenant is plaintiff, and the Lord defendant, nevertheleſs, having reſpect to that, that the Lord hath diſtrained, and ſueth for Services and cuſtoms being behind, he appeareth indeed to be rather actor or plaintiff then defendant. (5) And to the intent the Juſtices may know upon what freſh ſeiſin the Lords may avow the diſtreſs reaſonable upon their Tenants: (6) From henceforth it is agreed and enacted, That a reaſonable diſtreſs may be avowed upon the ſeiſin of any anceſtor or predeceſſor ſince the time that a Writ of Novel diſſeiſin hath run. (7) And becauſe it chanceth ſometimes that the Tenant, after that he hath replevied his beaſts, doth ſell or alien them, whereby return cannot be made unto the Lord that diſtrained, if it be adjudged.

III. It is provided, That Sheriffs or Bailiffs from henceforth ſhall not only receive of the plaintiffs pledges for the purſuing of the ſuit, before they make deliverance of the diſtreſs, but alſo for the return of the beaſts if return be awarded. (2) And if any take pledges otherwiſe, he ſhall anſwer for the price of the beaſts, and the Lord that diſtraineth ſhall have his recovery by Writ that he ſhall reſtore unto him ſo many beaſts or cattel: (3) And if the Bailiff be not able to reſtore, his Superiour ſhall reſtore. (4) And foraſmuch as it hapneth ſometime, that after the return of the beaſts is awarded unto the diſtrainor, and the party ſo diſtrained, after that the beaſts be returned, doth replevy them again, and when he ſeeth the diſtrainor appearing in the Court ready to anſwer him, doth make default, whereby return of the beaſts ought to be awarded again unto the diſtrainor, and ſo the beaſts be replevied twice or thrice, and infinitely, and the Judgments given in the King's Court take no effect in this caſe, whereupon no remedy hath been yet provided: (5) In this caſe ſuch proceſs ſhall be awarded, that ſo ſoon as return of the beaſts ſhall be awarded to the diſtrainor, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded by a judicial Writ, to make return of the Beaſts unto the diſtrainor; in which Writ it ſhall be expreſſed that the Sheriff ſhall not deliver them without Writ, making mention of the Judgment given by the Juſtices which cannot be without a Writ iſſuing out of the Rolls of the ſaid Juſtices before whom the matter was moved. (6) Therefore when he cometh unto the Juſtices, and deſireth replevin of the beaſts, he ſhall have a judicial Writ, that the Sheriff taking ſurety for the ſuit, and alſo of the beaſts or cattel to be returned, or the price of them (if return be awarded) ſhall deliver unto him the beaſts or cattel before returned, and the diſtrainor ſhall be attached to come at a certain day before the Juſtices, afore whom the Plea was moved in preſence of the parties. (7) And if he that replevied make default again, or for another cauſe return of the diſtreſs be awarded, being now twice replevied, the diſtreſs ſhall remain irrepleviable. (8) But if a diſtreſs be taken of new, and for a new cauſe, the proceſs aboveſaid ſhall be obſerved in the ſame new diſtreſs.

CAP. III.

A Cui in vita for the Wife. Where a Wife, or he in reverſion, ſhall be received.

IN caſe when a man doth loſe by default the Land which was the right of his wife, it was very hard that the wife, after the death of her husband, had none other recovery but by a Writ of Right: (2) Wherefore our Lord the King hath ordained, that a woman, after the death of her husband, ſhall recover by Writ of Entre, (whereto ſhe could not diſagree during his life) which ſhall be pleaded in form under written. (3) If the Tenant do except againſt the demand of the wife, that he entred by judgment, and if it be found that his Entre was by default, whereto the Tenant of neceſſity muſt make anſwer, if it be demanded of him, then he ſhall be compelled to make further anſwer, and to ſhew his right according to the form of the Writ that he purchaſed before againſt the Husband and the wife. (4) And if he can verifie that he hath or had right in the Land demanded, the woman ſhall gain nothing by her Writ; which thing if he cannot ſhew, the woman ſhall recover the Land in demand: (5) This being obſerved, That if the husband abſent himſelf, and will not defend his wives right, or againſt his wives conſent will render the Land, if the wife do come before judgment, ready to anſwer the demandant, and to defend her right, the wife ſhall be admitted. (6) Likewiſe if Tenant in Dower, Tenant by the Law of the Land, or otherwiſe for term of life, or by gift, whereas the Reverſion is reſerved, do make Default, or will give up, the Heirs, and they unto whom the reverſion belongeth, ſhall be admitted to their anſwer if they come before judgment. (7) And if upon ſuch default or ſurrender judgment hap to be given: then the heirs, or they unto whom the reverſion belongeth, after the death of ſuch Tenants ſhall have their recovery by a Writ of Entre, (8) in which like Proceſs ſhall be obſerved as is aforeſaid, in caſe where the husband loſeth his wives Land by default. (9) And ſo in the caſes aforeſaid two actions do concur, one between the Demandant and Tenant, and another between the Tenant ſhewing his right and the Demandant. Raſt. IN caſe where the husband being impleaded for Land, giveth up the Land demanded unto his adverſary by covin: after the death of the husband, the Juſtices ſhall award the wife her dower, if it be demanded by Writ. (2) But in caſe where the husband loſeth the Land in demand by default, if the wife, after the death of her husband, demandeth her dower, it hath been proved, that ſome Juſtices have awarded unto the woman her dower notwithſtanding the default which her husband made, other Juſtices being of the contrary opinion and judging otherwiſe: (3) To the intent that from henceforth ſuch ambiguity ſhall be taken away, it is thus ordained in certain, That in both caſes the woman, demanding her dower, ſhall

(3) And if it be alledged againſt her, that her Huſband loſt the land, whereof the dower is demanded by judgment, whereby ſhe ought not to have dower, and then it be enquired by what judgment, and it be found that it was by default, whereunto the Tenant muſt anſwer: then it behoveth the Tenant to anſwer further, and to ſhew that he had right, and hath in the foreſaid land according to the form of the Writ that the Tenant before purchaſed againſt the Huſband: (4) And if he can ſhew that the Huſband of ſuch wife had no right in the lands, nor any other but he that holdeth them, the Tenant ſhall go quit, and the wife ſhall recover nothing of her dower; which thing if he cannot ſhew, the wife ſhall recover her dower.

(5) And ſo in theſe caſes, and in certain other following, That is to ſay, when the wife being indowed loſeth her dower by default, and Tenants in free marriage, by the Law of England, or for term of life, or in fee-tail, divers actions do concur for ſuch Tenants, when they muſt demand their land loſt by default: (6) And when it is come to that point, that the Tenants muſt be compelled to ſhew their right, they cannot make anſwer without them to whom the reverſion of right belongeth: therefore it is granted unto them to vouch to warranty, as if they were Tenants, if they have a warranty: (7) And when the warrantor hath warranted, the plea ſhall paſs between him that is ſeiſed and the warrantor, according to the tenor of the Writ that the Tenant purchaſed before, and by which he recovered by default: (8) and ſo from many Actions at length they ſhall reſort to one Judgment, which is this, That the demandants ſhall recover their demand, or the Tenants ſhall go quit. (9) And if the Action of ſuch a Tenant, which is compelled to ſhew his right, be moved by a Writ of right, though that the great Aſſiſe or Battel cannot be joyned by the words accuſtomed, yet it ſhall be joyned by words convenient: (10) for when the Tenant, in that he ſheweth his right, which belongeth to him by the Writ that he before purchaſed, in ſtead of a demandant, the warrantor may well defend the right of the Tenant, which is accounted in place of the demandant, as before is ſaid, and offer to defend the ſeiſin of his anceſtors by the body of his freeman, or put himſelf in the great Aſſiſe, and pray recogniſance to be made, whether he hath more right to the land in demand, or elſe the party before named: (11) Or otherwiſe the great Aſſiſe may be joyned thus: Talis defendit jus, &c. and ſo the warrantor may defend the right, and knowledge the ſeiſin of his anceſtor, and put himſelf in the great Aſſiſe, &c. and pray recogniſance to be made, whether he hath more right in the foreſaid land, as in that whereof he infeoffed ſuch a man, or that ſuch a one releaſed and quite claimed, &c. or elſe the foreſaid party, &c.

The Heir avoideth a woman of her dower recovered againſt his Gardian. A woman's dower recovered againſt her by default.

Yet ſo, that the woman ſhall have her exception ſaved againſt the demandant, to ſhew that ſhe had right to her dower; which if he can ſhew, ſhe ſhall go quit and retain her dower and the heir ſhall be grievouſly amerced, according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices: And if not, the heir ſhall recover his demand, &c. (14) In like manner the woman ſhall be aided, if the heir or any other do implead her for her dower, or if ſhe loſe her dower by default, in which caſe the default ſhall not be ſo prejudicial to her, but that ſhe ſhall recover her dower, if ſhe have right thereto, and ſhe ſhall have this Writ:

Whereas of Advowſons of Churches there be but three original Writs, that is to ſay, one Writ of Right, and two of Poſſeſſion, which be Darrain preſentment, and Quare impedit: (2) and hitherto it hath been uſed in the Realm, that when any having no right to preſent, had preſented to any Church whoſe Clerk was admitted: he that was very Patron could not recover his Advowſon, but only by a Writ of Right, which ſhould be tried by Battail or by great Aſſiſe, whereby heirs within age, by fraud or elſe by negligence of their Wards, and Heirs both of great and mean Eſtate, by negligence or fraud of Tenants by the courteſie, women Tenants in Dower, or otherwiſe, for term of life, or for years, or in Fee-tail, were many times deſherited of their Advowſons, or at leaſt (which was the better for them) were driven to their Writ of Right, in which caſe hitherto they were utterly diſinherited: (3) It is provided, that ſuch Preſentments ſhall not be ſo prejudicial to the right heirs, or to them unto whom ſuch Advowſons ought to revert after the death of any perſons: (4) For as often as any, having no right, doth preſent, during the time that ſuch heirs are in Ward,

II. Neither ſhall this Act be ſo largely underſtood, that ſuch perſons, for whoſe remedy this Statute was ordained, ſhall have the recovery aforeſaid, ſurmiſing that Gardians of Heirs, Tenants in tail, by the Courteſie, Tenants in dower, for term of life, or for years, or husbands, which faintly have defended Pleas moved by them or againſt them: (2) becauſe the Judgments given in the Kings Courts ſhall not be adnulled by this Statute, the Judgment ſhall ſtand in his force, until it be reverſed in the Court of the King as erroneous, if errour be found; (3) or by Aſſiſe of Darrein preſentment, or by Enqueſt by a Writ of Quare impedit, if it be paſſed, or be adnulled by attaint or certification, which ſhall be freely granted. (4) And from henceforth one form of pleading ſhall be obſerved among Juſtices in Writs of Darrein preſentment and Quare impedit, in this reſpect, if the defendant alledgeth plenarty of the Church of his own preſentation, the plea ſhall not fail by reaſon of the plenarty: ſo that the Writ be purchaſed within ſix months, though he cannot recover his Preſentation within the ſix months. (5) And ſometimes when an agreement is made between many claiming one Advowſon, and inrolled before the Juſtices in the Roll, or by Fine, in this form, That one ſhall preſent the firſt time, and at the next avoidance another, and the third time another; and ſo of many, in caſe there be many. (6) And when one hath preſented, and had his Preſentation, which he ought to have according to the form of their agreement and fine, and at the next avoidance he to whom the ſecond Preſentation belongeth, is diſturbed by any that was party to the ſaid fine, or by ſome other in his ſtead: (7) It is provided, That from henceforth they that be ſo diſturbed, ſhall have no need to ſue a Quare impedit, but ſhall reſort to the Roll or Fine. (8) And if the ſaid concord or agreement be found in the Roll or Fine, then the Sheriff ſhall be commanded, that he give knowledge unto the diſturber, that he be ready at ſome ſhort day, containing the ſpace of fifteen days, or three weeks, (as the place happeneth to be near or far) for to ſhew if he can alledge any thing, wherefore the party that is diſturbed ought not to preſent. (9) And if he come not, or peradventure doth come, and can alledge nothing to bar the party of his Preſentation, by reaſon of any deed made written ſince the Fine was made or inrolled, he ſhall recover his preſentation with his damages. (10) And where it chanceth that after the death of the anceſtor of him that preſented his Clerk unto a Church, the ſame Advowſon is aſſigned in dower to any woman, or to tenant by the courteſie, which do preſent, and after the death of ſuch tenants, the very Heir is diſturbed to preſent when the Church is void: (11) It is provided, That from henceforth it ſhall be in the election of the party diſturbed, whether he will ſue a Writ of Quare impedit, or of Darrein preſentment: the ſame ſhall be obſerved in Advowſons demiſed for term of life or years, or in fee-tail.

(13) And if the Sheriff return, that he hath nothing to be attached by, he ſhall nevertheleſs ſue his writ of Great diſtreſs, and Proclamation ſhall be made in form aboveſaid. (14) And if the mean have no land in the Shire where the diſtreſs is taken, but hath land in ſome other Shire, then a writ original ſhall iſſue to ſummon the Mean unto the Sheriff of the ſame Shire, (where the diſtreſs is taken) and when it is returned by the Sheriff, that he hath nothing in his Shire, a Writ judicial ſhall iſſue to ſummon the Mean unto the Sheriff of the ſame Shire, in which it ſhall be teſtified, that he hath land, and Suit ſhall be made in the ſame Shire, until they have paſſed unto the Great diſtreſs and Proclamation, as above is ſaid, of the Mean having land in the ſame Shire in which the diſtreſs is taken. (15) And nevertheleſs ſuit ſhall be made in the ſame Shire where he hath nothing, as above is ſaid of the Mean that hath nothing, until the Proceſs come to the Great diſtreſs and Proclamation; (16) and ſo after Proclamation made in both Counties, the Mean ſhall be forejudged of his fee and ſervice. (17) And where it happeneth ſometimes, that the tenant in demean is infeoffed to hold by leſs ſervice than the Mean ought to do unto the chief Lord, when after ſuch Proclamation the tenant hath atturned to the cyief Lord, and the mean being excluded, the tenant muſt of neceſſity anſwer unto the chief Lord for all ſuch ſervices and cuſtoms as the Mean was wont to do to him, (18) And after that the Mean is come into the Court, and hath confeſſed that he ought to acquit his tenant, or be compelled by judgment to acquit, if after ſuch confeſſion or judgment it is complained, that the Mean doth not acquit his tenant, then ſhall iſſue a Writ judicial, that the Sheriff ſhall diſtrain the mean to acquit the tenant, and to be at a certain day before the Juſtices, for to ſhew why he hath not acquitted him before; and when they have proceeded unto the Great diſtreſs, the plaintiff ſhall be heard. (19) And if the plaintiff can prove that he hath not acquitted him, he ſhall yield damages, and by award of the Court the tenant ſhall go quit from the Mean, and ſhall atturn unto the chief Lord. (20) And if he come not at the firſt diſtreſs, a Writ ſhall go forth to diſtraiu him again, and Proclamation ſhall be made, and as ſoon as it is returned, they ſhall proceed in judgment, as afore is ſaid. (21) And it is to be underſtanden, that by this Statute tenants are not excluded, but they ſhall have a warranty of the Means and their Heirs, if they be impleaded of their lands, as they have had before, (22) nor the tenants ſhall be excluded, but that they may ſue againſt their Means, as they uſed heretofore, if they ſee that their Proceſs may be more available by the old cuſtom, then by this Statute. (23) And it is to wit, that by this Statute no remedy is provided to any Means, but only in the caſe where there is but one only Mean between the Lord that diſtraineth, and the tenant; (24) and in caſe where that Mean is of full age; (25) and in caſe where the Tenant may attorn unto the chief Lord without prejudice of any other than of the mean, which is ſpoken for women, tenants in dower, and tenants by the courteſie, or otherwiſe for term of life, or in fee-tail, unto whom for certain cauſes remedy is not yet provided, but (God willing) there ſhall be at another time. CAP. X.

At what time Writs ſhall be delivered for Suits depending before Juſtices in Eyre.
Any perſon may make a general Attorney.

Whereas in the circuit of Juſtices, it was proclaimed, that all ſuch as would deliver Writs, ſhould deliver them within a certain time, after which no Writ ſhould be received: many truſting upon the ſame, and tarrying until the ſaid time, and no Writ ſerved upon them, departed by licence of the ſaid Juſtices; after whoſe departure their adverſaries, perceiving their abſence, delivered their writs in war, which ſometime by fraud, and ſometimes for rewards be received of the Sheriff, and they, that thought to have departed quiet, loſe their lands. (2) For the remedy of ſuch fraud from henceforth, the King hath ordained, that the Juſtices in their circuits ſhall appoint a time of fifteen days, or a month, or a time more or leſs, (after as the County ſhall happen to be more or leſs) within which time it ſhall be openly proclaimed, that all ſuch as will deliver their writs, ſhall deliver them before the ſame time. (3) And when the time cometh, the Sheriff ſhall certifie the chief Juſtice in Eyre, how many writs he hath, and what, and that no writ be received after the ſame time: (4) and if it be received, the proceſs iſſuing thereupon ſhall be of none effect, but only that a writ abated, any time during the circuit, may be amended. (5) Alſo writs of dower of men that died within the ſummons of the circuit, aſſiſes of Darrein preſentment, Quare impedit, of Churches vacant, within the foreſaid ſummons, ſhall be received at any time before the departure of the Juſtices. (6) Alſo writs of Novel diſſeiſin, at what time ſoever the diſſeiſin was done, ſhall be received in the circuit of Juſtices. (7) Our Lord the King of his ſpecial grace granteth, that ſuch as have Land in divers Shires, where the Juſtices make their circuit, and that have Land in Shires where the Juſtices have no circuit, that fear to be impleaded, and are impleaded of other Lands in Shires where they have no circuit, as before the Juſtices at Weſtminſter, or in the Kings Bench, or before Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, or in any County before Sheriffs, or in any Court Baron, may make a general Attorny to ſue for them in all Pleas in the circuit of Juſtices moved or to be moved for them, or againſt them, during the circuit. (8) Which Attorney or Attornyes ſhall have full power in all Pleas moved during the circuit, until the Plea be determined, or that his Maſter remove him: (9) yet ſhall they not be excuſed thereby, but they ſhall put in Juries and Aſſiſes before the ſame Juſtices.

by the teſtimony of the Auditors of the ſame accompt, ſhall be ſent or delivered unto the next Gaol of the Kings in thoſe parts; (2) and ſhall be received of the Sheriff or Gaoler, and impriſoned in iron under ſafe cuſtody, and ſhall remain in the ſame priſon at their own coſt, until they have ſatisfied their maſter fully of the arrerages. (3) Nevertheleſs if any perſon being ſo committed to priſon, do complain that the Auditors of his accompt have grievd him unjuſtly, charging him with receipts that he hath not received, or not allowing him expences, or reaſonable diſburſments, and can find friends that will undertake to bring him before the Barons of the Exchequer, he ſhall be delivered unto them. (4) And the Sheriff in whoſe priſon he is kept ſhall give knowledge unto his maſter, that he appear before the Barons of the Exchequr at a certain day, with the Rolls and Tallies by which he made his accompt, and in the preſence of the Barons, or the Auditors that they ſhall aſſign him, the accompt ſhall be rehearſed, and Juſtice ſhall be done to the parties, ſo that if he be found in arrerages, he ſhall be committed to the Fleet, as above is ſaid. (5) And if he flee, and will not give accompt willingly, as is contained elſewhere in other Statutes, he ſhall be diſtrained to come before the Juſtices to make his accompt, if he have whereof to be diſtrained; (6) and when he cometh to the Court, Auditors ſhall be aſſigned to take his accompt, before whom, if he be found in arrerages, and cannot pay the arrerages forthwith, he ſhall be committed to the Gaol to be kept in manner aforeſaid. (7) And if he flee, and it be returned to the Sheriff that he cannot be found, Exigents ſhall go againſt him from County to County, until he be outlawed, and ſuch priſoner ſhall not be replevisable. (8) And let the Sheriff or Keeper of ſuch Gaol take heed, if it be within a Franchiſe or without, that he do not ſuffer him to go out of priſon by the common Writ called Replegiare, or by any other means, without aſſent of his maſter. (9) And if he do, and thereof be convict, he ſhall be anſwerable to his maſter of the damages done to him by ſuch his ſervant, according as it may be found by the Country, and ſhall have his recovery by Writ of Debt. (10) And if the Keeper of the Gaol have not wherewith he may be juſtified, or not able to pay, his ſuperiour that committed the cuſtody of the Gaol unto him, ſhall be anſwerable by the ſame Writ. FOraſmuch as many, through malice intending to grieve other, do procure falſe appeals to be made of Homicides and other Felonies by Appellors, having nothing to ſatisfie the King for their falſe appeal, nor to the parties appealed for their damages: (2) it is ordained, that when any, being appealed of Felony ſurmiſed upon him, doth acquit himſelf in the Kings Court in due manner, either at the Suit of the Appellor, or of our Lord the King, the Juſtices before whom the appeal ſhall be heard and determined, ſhall puniſh the Appellor by a years impriſonment, and the Appellors ſhall nevertheleſs reſtore to the parties appealed their damage, according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices, having reſpect to the impriſonment or arreſtment that the party appealed hath ſuſtained by reaſon of ſuch appeals, and to the infamy that they have incurred by the impriſonment or otherwiſe, and ſhall nevertheleſs make a grievous fine unto the King. In caſes whereas a Writ is granted out of the Chancery for the fact of another, the plaintiffs from henceforth ſhall not depart from the Kings Court without remedy, becauſe the Land is transferred from one to another. (2) And in the Regiſter of the Chancery there is no ſpecial Writ found in this caſe, as of a houſe, a wall, a market, but the Writ is granted againſt him that levied the nuſance. (3) And if the houſe, wall, or ſuch like be aliened to another, the writ ſhall not be denied: but from henceforth, where in one caſe a writ is granted, in like caſe, when like remedy falleth, the Writ ſhall be made as hath been uſed before:

(2) And in like manner as a writ is granted to try whether land be the free alms of ſuch a Church, or the lay-fee of ſuch a man, even ſo from henceforth a writ ſhall be made to try whether it be the free alms of this Church, or of another Church; in caſe where the free alms of one Church is transferred to the poſſeſſion of another Church. (3) And whenſoever from henceforth it ſhall fortune in the Chancery, that in one caſe a writ is found, and in like caſe falling under like law, and requiring like remedy, is found none, the Clerks of the Chancery ſhall agree in making the writ; (4) or the Plaintiffs may adjourn it until the next Parliament, and let the caſes be written in which they cannot agree, and let them refer themſelves until the next Parliament, by conſent of men learned in the Law, a writ ſhall be made, leſt it might happen after that the Court ſhould long time fail to miniſter juſtice unto complainants.

Foraſmuch as there is no writ in the Chancery whereby Plaintiffs can have ſo ſpeedy remedy, as by a writ of Novel diſſeiſin; (2) our Lord the King willing that Juſtice may be ſpeedily miniſtred, and that delays in Pleas may be taken away or abridged, granteth, that a writ of Novel diſſeiſin ſhall hold place in mo caſes than it hath done heretofore; (3) and granteth, that for eſtovers of wood, profit to be taken in woods by gathering of nuts, acorns and other fruits, for a corody, for delivery of corn and other victuals and neceſſaries to be received yearly (in a place certain) toll, tronage, paſſage, pontage, pawnage, and ſuch like, to be taken in places certain, keeping of parks, woods, foreſts, chaſes, warrens, gates and other Bailiwicks and officers in fee, from henceforth an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin ſhall lie. (4) And in all the caſes afore rehearſed, according to the accuſtomed manner, the Writ ſhall be De libero tenemento. (5) And as before times it hath lien and holden place in Common of paſture, ſo ſhall it from henceforth hold place in Common of turf-land, fiſhing, and ſuch like Commons, which any man hath appendant to free-hold, or without free-hold by ſpecial deed, at the leaſt for term of life. (6) In caſe alſo when any holding for term of years, or in ward, alieneth the ſame in fee, and by ſuch alienation the free-hold is transferred to the Feoffee, the remedy ſhall be by a writ of Novel diſſeiſin, and as well the Feoffors as the Feoffee ſhall be had for diſſeiſors, ſo that during the life of any of them, the ſaid Writ ſhall hold place. (7) And if by the death of the parties remedy happen to fail, by that Writ, then remedy ſhall be obtained by a writ of Entry. (8) And albeit that above mention is made of ſome caſes wherein a Writ of Novel diſſeiſin held no place before, let no man think therefore that this writ lieth not now where it hath lien before. (9) And though ſome have doubted whether a remedy be had by this writ in caſe where one feedeth in the ſeveral of another, let it be had for certain, that a good and a ſure remedy is given in that caſe by the ſaid writ. (10) And let them which be named diſſeiſors beware from henceforth that they alledge not falſe exceptions, whereby the taking of the Aſſiſe may be deferred, ſaying, that another time an Aſſiſe of the ſame land paſſed between the ſame parties, for ſaying, and falſly, that a Writ of more high nature hangeth between the ſame parties or the ſame land, and upon theſe and like matters do vouch Rolls or Records to warranty, to the end that by the ſame vouching they may take away the veſture, and receive the rents and other profits, to the great damage of the plaintiff. (11) And where before none other pein was limited againſt him that falſly had alledged ſuch untrue exceptions, but only that after ſuch falſe ſurmiſes diſproved, the Aſſiſe ſhould paſs. (16) In the ſame manner, if the Defendant againſt whom the Aſſiſe paſſed in his abſence, ſhew any Deeds or Releaſes, upon the making whereof the Jury were not examined, nor could be examined, becauſe there was no mention made of them in pleading, and by probability might be ignorant of the making of thoſe writings; The Juſtices upon the ſight of thoſe writings ſhall cauſe the party to be warned that recovered, that he appear at a certain day, and ſhall cauſe the Jurors of the ſame Aſſiſe to come. (17) And if he ſhall verifie thoſe writings to be true by the verdict of the Jurors, or by inrollment. he that purchaſed the Aſſiſe contrary to his own Deed, ſhall be puniſhed by the pein aforeſaid. (18) And the Sheriff from henceforth ſhall not take an Ox of the Diſſeiſee, but of the Diſſeiſor only; and if there be many Diſſeiſors named in one writ, yet ſhall he be contented with one Ox: nor ſhall receive any Ox but of v.s. price or the value.

(5) And ſuit ſhall be made againſt the party on whom complaint is made, until he come in by diſtreſs, if he have whereby he may be diſtrained; or elſe for his contumacy, in caſe he be not juſtifiable, he ſhall be outlawed: (6) And if percaſe the Heir be married or carried into another County, then a Writ ſhall be directed to the Sheriff of the ſame Shire in this form:

Queſtus eſt nobis A. quod B. nuper talem hæredem infra ætatem & in cuſtodia ſua exiſtentem tali loco in Comitatu tali rapuit, & de Comitatu tali ad talem locum in Com' tuo adduxit, contra voluntatem ipſius A. & contra pacem noſtram, &c. (7) And if the Heir do die afore he can be found, or before he can be reſtored to the plaintiff, the plea ſhall paſs between them nevertheleſs, until it be tried unto whom he ought to have been reſtored, if he had been living. (8) Neither ſhall the raviſher of ſuch a one excuſed or eaſed of the puniſhment aforeſaid, by the death of the Heir, whom he did withhold by wrong during his life. (9) And if the plaintiff die before the plea determined, if the right belong to him by reaſon of his proper fee, the plea ſhall be reſummoned at the ſuit of the Heir of the plaintiff, and the plea ſhall paſs in due order. (10) But if the right belonged to him by another title, as by a title of gift, ſale, or other ſuch like, then the plea ſhall be reſummoned at the ſuit of the executors of the plaintiff, and the plea ſhall paſs as before is ſaid. (11) In the ſame manner if the defendant die before the plea be tried, or the Heir be reſtored, the plea ſhall paſs by reſummons between the plaintiff, his heirs or executors, and the executors of the defendant and his heirs: if the executors be not ſufficient to ſatisfie for the value of the marriage, after as it is contained in other Statutes, but not as to the pein of impriſonment: for none ought to be puniſhed for the offence of another. (12) In the ſame manner when a plea hangeth between parties for the ward of land, and of an heir, or of both, by the common Writ that beginneth, Præcipe tali, &c. quod reddat, &c. Reſummons ſhall be made between the heirs and executors of the plaintiff. And likewiſe the heirs and the executors of the defendant, if death prevent any of the parties before the plea determined. (13) And when they have paſſed to the great diſtreſs, a day ſhall be given, within which three County-Courts may be holden at the leaſt: in every of which open Proclamation ſhall be made, that the deforcer ſhall come into the Bench at the day contained in the Writ to anſwer the plaintiff; (14) at which day if he come not, and the Proclamation be ſo returned once, twice or thrice, the judgment ſhall paſs for the plaintiff, ſaving the right of the defendant, if after he will claim it. Foraſmuch as Juſtices, to whoſe Office it belongeth to miniſter Juſtice to all that ſue before them, are many times diſturbed in execution of their Office, for that Sheriffs do not return Writs original and judicial; (2) and alſo for that they make falſe returns unto the King's Writs: Our Lord the King hath provided and ordained, That ſuch as do fear the malice of Sheriffs, ſhall deliver their Writs original and judicial in the open County, or in the County where the collection of the King's mony is; (4) and may take of the Sheriff or Underſheriff, being preſent, a Bill, wherein the names of the Demandants and Tenants mentioned in the Writ ſhall be contained; (5) and at the requeſt of him that delivered the Writ, the Seal of the Sheriff or Underſheriff ſhall be put to the Bill for a teſtimony, and mention ſhall be made of the day of the deliverance of the Writ. (6) And if the Sheriff or Underſheriff will not put his ſeal to the Bill, the witneſs of Knights and other credible perſons being in preſence ſhall be taken, that put their ſeals to ſuch Bill. (7) And if the Sheriff will not return Writs delivered unto him, and complaint thereof be made to the Juſtices, a Writ judicial ſhall go unto the Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, that they ſhall inquire by ſuch as were preſent at the deliverance of the Writ to the Sheriff, if they knew of the deliverance, and an Inqueſt ſhall be returned. (10) Oftentimes alſo Pleas be delayed by reaſon that the Sheriff returneth, that he hath commanded the Bailiffs of ſome Liberty which did nothing therein, and nameth Liberties that never had the return of Writs; whereupon our Lord the King hath ordained, That the Treaſurer and Barons of the Exchequer ſhall deliver to the Juſtices in a Roll all the Liberties in all Shires that have return of Writs. did not execute the King's precept. (13) And if they come at the day, and acquit themſelves, that no return was made to them, the Sheriff ſhall be forthwith condemned to the Lord of the ſame Liberty, and likewiſe to the party grieved by the delay, for to render damages. (14) And if the Bailiffs come not in at the day, or do come, and do not acquit themſelves in manner aforeſaid in every judicial Writ, ſo long as the Plea hangeth, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded that he ſhall not ſpare the Liberty, &c. (19) And let the Sheriff know, that rents, corn in the grange, and all moveables (except horſe, harneſs, and houſhold-ſtuff) be contained within the name of Iſſues. (20) And the King hath commanded, That Sheriffs ſhall be puniſhed by the Juſtices once or twice (if need be) for ſuch falſe returns. (21) And if they offend the third time, none ſhall have to do therewith but the King. (22) They make alſo many times falſe anſwers, returning that they could not execute the King's precept, for the reſiſtance of ſome great man: wherefore let the Sheriffs beware from henceforth; for ſuch manner of anſwers redound much to the diſhonour of the King. (23) And aſſoon as his Bailiffs do teſtifie that they found ſuch reſiſtance, forthwith all things ſet apart, (taking with him the power of the Shire) he ſhall go in proper perſon to do execution: and if he find his Under-bailiffs falſe he ſhall puniſh them by impriſonment, ſo that other by their example may be reformed. And if he do find them true, he ſhall puniſh the reſiſters by Impriſonment, from whence they ſhall not be delivered without the Kings ſpecial commandment. (24) And if percaſe the Sheriff when he cometh do find reſiſtance, he ſhall certifie to the Court the names of the Reſiſters, Aiders, Conſenters, Commanders, and Favourers, and by a Writ judicial they ſhall be attached by their bodies to appear at the Kings Court: (25) and if they be convict of ſuch reſiſtance, they ſhall be puniſhed at the Kings pleaſure: neither ſhall any Officer of the Kings meddle in aſſigning the puniſhment, for our Lord the King hath reſerved it ſpecially to himſelf, becauſe that Reſiſters have been reputed Diſturbers of his Peace, and of his Realm. (7) Of religious men that hold in free Alms, and not by a Barony, nor part of a Barony, the Marſhal from henceforth ſhall demand nothing. (8) And our Lord the King hath granted, That by this Statute a Marſhal of Fee ſhall not be barred hereafter to demand more, if he can ſhew that he hath right unto more. (9) The King's Chamberlains from henceforth ſhall have of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors and other perſons ſpiritual, of Earls and Barons, holding an entire Barony, a reaſonable Fine when they do their homage or fealty. (10) And if they hold by a part of a Barony, they ſhall take a reaſonable Fine, according to the portion to them belonging. Whereas in a Statute made at Merton it was granted, that Lords of waſtes, woods and paſtures, might approve the ſaid waſtes, woods and paſtures, notwithſtanding the contradiction of their Tenants, ſo that the Tenants had ſufficient paſture, to their tenements with free egreſs and regreſs to the ſame. (2) And foraſmuch as no mention was made between neighbours and neighbours, many Lords of waſtes, woods and paſtures, have been hindred heretofore by the contradiction of neighbours having ſufficient paſture: (3) And becauſe foreign Tenants have no more right to Common in the waſtes, woods or paſtures, of any Lord then the Lords own Tenants: (4) It is ordained, That the Statute of Merton, provided between the Lord and his Tenants, from henceforth ſhall hold place between Lords of waſtes, woods and paſtures, and their neighbours, having ſufficient paſture to their Tenants and Neighbours, ſo that the Lords of ſuch waſtes, woods and paſtures, may make approvement of the reſidue: (5) And this ſhall be obſerved for ſuch as claim paſture as appurtenant to their tenement. (6) But if any do claim Common by ſpecial Feoffment or Grant for a certain number of Beaſts, or otherwiſe, which he ought to have of Common right, whereas Covenant barreth the Law, he ſhall have ſuch Recovery as he ought to have had by form of the Grant made unto him. (7) By occaſion of a Windmill, Sheepcote, Deyry, inlarging of a Court neceſſary or Courtelage, from henceforth no man ſhall be grieved by Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, for Common of Paſture. (8) And where ſometime it chanceth, that one having right to approve, doth then levy a dyke or an hedge, and ſome by night or at another ſeaſon, when they ſuppoſe not to be eſpied, do overthrow the hedge or dyke, and it cannot be known by Verdict of the Aſſiſe or Jury, who did overthrow the hedge or dyke, and men of the Towns near will not indite ſuch as be guilty of the fact: (9) The Towns near adjoyning ſhall be diſtrained to levy the hedge or dyke at their own coſt, and to yield damages. (10) And where one, having no right to Common, uſurpeth Common what time an heir is within age, or a Woman is Covert, or whilſt the Paſture is in the hands of Tenants in Dower, by the Courteſie, or otherwiſe for term of Life, or Years, or in Fee-tail, and have long time uſed the Paſture, many hold opinion, that ſuch Paſtures ought to be ſaid to belong to the Free-hold, and that the Poſſeſſor ought to have Action by a Writ of Novel diſſeiſin, if he be deforced of ſuch Paſture: (11) But from henceforth this muſt be holden, that ſuch as have entred within the time that an Aſſiſe of Mortdanceſtor hath lien, if they had no Common before, ſhall have no Recovery by a Writ of Novel diſſeiſin, if they be deforced.

The Statute of Merchants made at Weſtminſter, Anno 13 Ed. 1. and Anno Dom. 1258.

CAP. I.

The form of knowledging a Statute Merchant. The Creditor's remedy if his Debt be not paid. The King's Seals ſhall be ſent to Keepers of Fairs. Taking of a Recognizance.

FOraſmuch as Merchants, which heretofore have lent their goods to divers perſons, be fallen in poverty, becauſe there is no ſpeedy remedy provided, whereby they may ſhortly recover their debt at the day of payment: (2) and for this cauſe many Merchants do refrain to come into the Realm with their Merchandize, to the damage of Merchants and of all the Realm: (3) The King and his Council at his Parliament holden at Acton Burnel, after the Feaſt of St. Michael, the eleventh year of his Reign, hath ordained theſe eſtabliſhments thereupon for the remedy of ſuch Merchants: which ordinances and eſtabliſhments, the King commandeth that they ſhall be firmly kept and obſerved throughout this Realm, whereby Merchants may have remedy, and leſs trouble and buſineſs to recover their debt, then they have had heretofore. (4) But foraſmuch as Merchants after complained unto the King, that Sheriffs miſinterpreted his Statutes, and ſometimes by malice and falſe interpretation delayed the execution of the Statute, to the great damage of Merchants: (5) The King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter after Eaſter, the thirteenth year of his Reign, cauſed the ſaid Statute made at Acton Burnel to be rehearſed. (6) And for the declaration of certain Articles in the Statute aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That a Merchant who will be ſure of his debt, ſhall cauſe his Debtor to come before the Mayor of London, or before ſome chief Warden of a City, or of another good Town, where the King ſhall appoint, (7) and before the Mayor and chief Warden, or other ſufficient men choſen and ſworn thereto, when the Mayor or chief Warden cannot attend, (8) and before one of the Clerks that the King ſhall thereto aſſign, when both cannot attend, he ſhall knowledge the debt, and the day of payment: (9) And the Recognizance ſhall be inrolled by one of the Clerks hands being known; and the Roll ſhall be double, whereof one part ſhall remain with the Mayor or chief Warden, and the other with the Clerks that thereto ſhall be firſt named: (10) And further, one of the ſaid Clerks with his own hand ſhall write an Obligation, to which Writing the Seal of the Debtor ſhall be put with the Kings Seal, provided for the ſame intent: which Seal ſhall be of two pieces, whereof the greater piece ſhall remain in the cuſtody of the Mayor, or the chief Warden, and the other piece in the keeping of the foreſaid Clerk. (11) And if the Debtor do not pay at the day limited unto him, then ſhall the Merchant come to the Mayor and Clerk with his Obligation: (12) And if it be found by the Roll or Writing, that the debt was knowledged, and the day of payment expired, the Mayor or chief Warden, ſhall cauſe the Body of the Debtor to be taken (if he be Lay) whenſoever he happeneth to come in their power, and ſhall commit him to the priſon of the Town, if there be any, and he ſhall remain there at his own coſts, until he hath agreed for the debt. (13) And it is commanded, That the Keeper of the Town-priſon ſhall retain him upon the delivery of the Mayor or Warden. And if the Keeper ſhall not receive him, he ſhall be anſwerable for the debt, if he have whereof; and if he have not whereof, he that committeth the priſoner to his keeping ſhall anſwer. (14) And if the Debtor cannot be found in the power of the Mayor or chief Warden, then ſhall the Mayor or chief Warden ſend into the Chancery under the King's Seal, the recognizance of the debt: and the Chancellor ſhall direct a Writ unto the Sheriff, in whoſe Shire the Debtor ſhall be found, for to take his Body (if he be Lay) and ſafely to keep him in priſon until he hath agreed for the debt. (15) And within a quarter of a year after that he is taken, his chattels and lands ſhall be delivered him, ſo that by his own he may levy and pay the debt. (16) And it ſhall be lawful unto him, during the ſame quarter, to ſell his lands and tenements for the diſcharge of his debts, and his ſale ſhall be good and effectual. (17) And if he do not agree within the quarter, next after the quarter expired, all the lands and goods of the Debtor ſhall be delivered unto the Merchant by a reaſonable extent, to hold them until ſuch time as the debt is wholly levied. And nevertheleſs the Body ſhall remain in priſon, as before is ſaid. (18) And the Merchant ſhall find him bread and water, (19) and the Merchant ſhall have ſuch ſeiſin in the lands and tenements delivered unto him or his aſſignee, that he may maintain a Writ of Novel diſſeiſin, if he be put out, and Rediſſeiſin alſo, as of Free-hold, to hold to him and his aſſigns until the debt be paid. (20) And aſſoon as the debt is levied, the Body of the Debtor ſhall be delivered with his lands. (21) And in ſuch Writs as the Chancellor doth award, mention ſhall be made, that the Sheriff ſhall certifie the Juſtices of the one Bench or of the other, how he hath performed the Kings commandment at a certain day, at which day the Merchant ſhall ſue before the Juſtices, if agreement be not made: (22) and if the Sheriffs do not return the Writ, or do return that the Writ came too late, or that he hath directed it to the Bailiffs of ſome Franchiſe, the Juſtices ſhall do as it is contained in the latter Statute of Weſtminſter. (23) And if in caſe the Sheriff return, that the Debtor cannot be found, or that he is Clerk, the Merchant ſhall have Writs to all the Sheriffs, where he ſhall have land, and that they ſhall deliver unto him all the goods and lands of the Debtor by a reaſonable extent, to hold unto him and his aſſigns in the form aforeſaid: and at the leaſt he ſhall have a Writ to what Sheriff he will, to take his Body (if he be Lay) and to retain it in manner aforeſaid. The Statute of Fines, made Anno 18 Ed. 1. *St.*4. and Anno Dom. 1290.

The manner of levying of Fines: What things be requiſite to make them good, and who are bound by them.

When the Writ original is delivered in preſence of the parties before Juſtices, a Pleader ſhall ſay this: Sir Juſtice, Conge de accorder. (2) And the Juſtice ſhall ſay to him, What ſaith Sir R. and ſhall name one of the parties. (3) Then, when they be agreed of the ſum of mony that muſt be given to the King, then the Juſtice ſhall ſay, Cry the peace. (4) And after the Pleader ſhall ſay; In ſo much as peace is licenſed thus unto you W. S. and A. his wife, that here be, do acknowledge the Mannor of B. with the appurtenances contained in the Writ, to be the right of our Lord the King: which he hath of their gift. (5) To have and to hold to him and his heirs, of the ſaid W. and A. and the heirs of A. as in Demeans, Rents, Seigniories, Courts, Pleas, Purchaſes, Wards, Marriages, Reliefs, Eſcheats, Mills, Advowſons of Churches, and all other Franchiſes and free Cuſtoms to the ſaid Mannor belonging, paying yearly to R. and his heirs, as chief Lords of the Fee, the ſervices and cuſtoms due for all ſervices. (6) And it is to be noted, that the order of the Law will not ſuffer a final accord to be levied in the Kings Court without a Writ original, and that muſt be at the leaſt before four Juſtices in the Bench, or in Eyre, and not otherwiſe, and in preſence of the parties named in the Writ, which muſt be of full age, of good memory, and out of priſon. (7) And if a woman covert be one of the parties, then they muſt be firſt examined by four of the ſaid Juſtices. And if he doth not aſſent thereunto, the fine ſhall not be levied. (8) And the cauſe wherfore ſuch ſolemnity ought to be done in a fine, is, becauſe a fine is ſo high a bar, of ſo great force, and of ſo ſtrong nature in it ſelf, that it concludeth not only ſuch as be parties and privies thereto, and their heirs, but all other people of the world, being of full age, out of priſon, of good memory, and within the four Seas, the day of the fine levied, (9) if they make not their claim of their action within a year and a day by the Country. The Statute of Touchers, made Anno 20 of Ed. 1. & Anno Dom. 1292.

In a Plea of Land the Tenant voucheth, and the Demandant counterpleadeth.

Whereas the Tenant impleaded in a Plea of Land heretofore had vouched to warranty, and thereupon the Demandant would aver, That neither he that is vouched, nor any of his Anceſtors (ſince the time that the Anceſtor of the Demandant was ſeiſed) was in poſſeſſion of the ſaid Lands, neither in Demean, nor in Service, (2) if the party vouched were preſent, and would warrantiſe the Land freely unto the Tenant, ſuch averment of the Demandant hath not been uſed to be admitted, unleſs the party vouched had been abſent, and that by reaſon of a certain Statute of the Kings lately made amongſt other Statutes of Weſtm. 1.

II. Wherefore our Lord the King, conſidering the fraud, deceit, and malice, and alſo his own damage and diſheriſon of his Crown, that in the ſaid caſe hath many times happened in this Court, and daily doth, whereas ſome holding of the King in chief by a whole Barony, in a Plea hanging before the Juſtices of the Bench, upon their demand do vouch particularly baſe perſons unknown and ſtrangers (which they will bring forth) and of whom neither they nor their Anceſtors had ever any thing in the Lands that they warranted, nor in any other Lands or Tenements within this Realm, neither in Demean nor in Service, as hath been teſtified by divers of the Kings faithful Subjects; (2) ſo that by ſuch cautel, fraud and malice, the ſame Tenants, holding by an entire Barony, do defraud the King of the americiament that they ſhould incur, if the Demandant ſhould recover againſt them:

III. And likewiſe when ſuch baſe perſons have warranted, that is to wit, every one for his portion that he ought to warrant, he may defend himſelf by the body of his ſervant procured and hired by them that hold Baronies, and ſo upon one Writ and one Demand, there were two or three wagers of battail, the which was a hard and perillous example for poor men in time coming that ſhall be Demandants againſt great and rich men, which will defend themſelves by the malice aforeſaid: (2) and the Demandant cannot have his averment againſt ſuch Warrantors, when they be vouched in form aforeſaid, becauſe they be preſent, and will warrantiſe freely: (3) By his Common Council hath ordained, and from henceforth, that is to ſay, from the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the twentieth year of his Reign, he hath commanded to be obſerved, that when the Tenant doth vouch any to warranty, and the Demandant will aver in form before rehearſed, his averment ſhall be admitted, whether the party vouched be abſent or preſent, without any reſpect had unto his abſence or preſence. Tenant for Life committeth Waſte, he in the Reverſion brought an Action of Waſte, and dieth before Judgment, his heir brought an Action for the ſame Waſte.

William Butler, which is within age, and in Ward of our Lord the King, hath ſhewed unto his Highneſs, that where Gawin Butler, his brother, (whoſe heir he is) had impleaded one Walter de Hapeton, by the Kings Writ, for waſte and deſtruction made by him the ſaid Walter, in certain his Lands and Tenements which the ſame Walter held for term of his life, of the Inheritance of the foreſaid Gawin in Wimme and Thirke: And the foreſaid Gawin, before he had obtained Judgment died. After whoſe death the foreſaid William by like Writ impleaded the foreſaid Walter, for the waſt and deſtruction made by him of long time. The ſame Walter, before Gilbert Thornton and his companions, aſſigned to hear the Kings Pleas, came in, and ſaid, that he ought not to anſwer to the ſame William for the waſte and deſtruction made in the time of another, before the Right of the ſaid Inheritance deſcended unto him, and thereupon demanded Judgment. (2) And foraſmuch as certain Juſtices did not agree in giving of the ſaid Judgment, becauſe it ſeemeth to ſome that it ſhould not be agreeable to the Law, that any perſon ſhould obtain advantage and recompence by the foreſaid Writ, which is a Writ of Treſpaſs done to a perſon certain, but only the ſame perſon to whom, and in whoſe time the Treſpaſs was done. (3) Other Juſtices with the more part of the King's Council were in the contrary opinion, alledging by divers reaſons, that the ſaid William ought to be heard and anſwered unto, and all other whatſoever they be, in like caſes, or in like Treſpaſſes. And becauſe like matters have remained not amended, and Treſpaſſes unpuniſhed which was inconvenient:

Tenant for life commiteth waſte, and he in the reverſion hangeth an action of waſte and dieth before judgment, and his heir bringeth an action of the ſame waſte, and recovereth.
St. 13 Ed.3.14.

II. Wherefore our Lord the King, in his full Parliament holden the day after the Feaſt of the Purification, in the twentieth year of his Reign, by a general Council hath ordained, and from henceforth hath commanded to be ſtraightly obſerved, that every Heir (in whoſe ward ſoever he be, and as well within age as of full age) ſhall have his Recovery by a Writ of Waſte in the foreſaid caſe, and alſo in other where the ſame Writ ought to hold place: (2) and it ſhall hold place as well for Waſte and Deſtruction made in Lands and Tenements of his own Inheritance, and as well in the times of his Anceſtors, as at any other time that the Fee and Inheritance deſcended unto him, and ſhall be anſwered unto therefore. (3) And that he ſhall recover the Tenements waſted, and damages, as it is ordained in the ſecond Statute of Weſtminſter, of damages to be recovered in a Writ of Waſte, if the Tenant be convict of Waſte. (4) And it is commanded by the King himſelf unto the ſame Gilbert Thornton and his companions, that they do proceed in the foreſaid matter, and in other like from henceforth, and Judgment ſhall be given according as the matter is found. (5) And likewiſe it is commanded unto the Juſtices, that they ſhall cauſe all the aforeſaid things to be ſtraightly obſerved before them from henceforth. Regiſt. fo. 73.

Foreſt 4. Co. Inſt. 1 par. 233. Co.pl. fo. 643. In what caſes the killing of ſome perſons in Foreſts, Chaſes, or Parks, is lawful, in what not.

TO the intent that Treſpaſſors in Foreſts, Chaſes, Parks and Warrens, may more warily fear hereafter to enter and treſpaſs in the ſame then they have heretofore, Our Lord the King, at his Parliament after Eaſter, the xxi. year of his Reign, at the inſtance of the Nobles of his Realm, hath granted and commanded to be from henceforth firmly obſerved, that if any Foreſtor, Parker or Warrenor, ſhall find any Treſpaſſors wandring within his Liberty, intending to do damages therein, and that will not yield themſelves to the Foreſters, Warrenors or Parkers, after huy and cry made to ſtand unto the peace, but do continue their malice, and diſobeying the Kings peace, do flee, or defend themſelves with force and arms: although ſuch Foreſters, Parkers and Warrenors, or any other coming in their company, and aiding ſuch Foreſters, Parkers and Warrenors, in the Kings peace, do kill any offender or offenders being ſo found, either in arreſting or taking them, or any of them, they ſhall not be troubled upon the ſame before the King and his Juſtices, or before any other the Kings Bailiffs, or any other within any Franchiſe or without; nor ſhall leeſe for ſo doing either life or limb, or ſuffer any other puniſhment, but ſhall enjoy the Kings Peace as they did before.

Notwithſtanding, let all ſuch Foreſters, Parkers, Warrenors, and all other beware, that, by reaſon of any malice, diſcord, debate, other evil will had before time, they do not maliciouſly pretend againſt any perſon paſſing through their Liberties, that they came thither for to treſpaſs or miſdo, when of truth they did nothing, nor were not found as Treſpaſſers, and ſo kill them: for if they do, and be convict thereupon, the death of ſuch perſons ſhall be inquired, and execution ſhall be done in like manner as is done for other of the Kings Subjects ſtanding in his peace; and like as it ought to be done of right and according to the Law and Cuſtom of our Realm. (2) And that in the extreats of Juſtices, every head ſhall be charged for Iſſues forfeited, like as of amerciaments. (4) And let the Sheriffs beware, under pein of great forfeiture, that from henceforth they do make Tallies of all ſuch mony as they or their Officers have received by our commandment. (5) And that they do not return any where, the names of any Mainpernors, Jurors or any other, execept ſuch Mainpernors, Jurors, or others, according to the tenour of our Writs being directed to the Sheriffs for the ſame cauſe, be lawfully and manifeſtly impanelled thereupon. (6) And they ſhall not return the names of any Freemen as Pledges, without that they will plainly conſent and agree to the ſame. (8) And the ſame Baron and Clerk ſhall view all ſuch Tallies and inrol them, and ſhall hear and determin complaints made againſt Sheriffs and their Clerks, and Bailiffs that have done contrary to the premiſſes, and the Offenders ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed.

FOraſmuch as Sheriffs and other heretofore have let out by Replevin common Felons and openly defamed, being taken and impriſoned for Murther and Felony, and ſuch as be not replevisable, contrary to the form of our Statute of perſons repleviſable and not repleviſable, lately made, whereby ſuch tranſgreſſors, not repleviſable, be let out: (2) and to deliver them deceitfully before the coming of the Juſtices errant, or other aſſigned for their deliverance, they procure by themſelves and by their friends Jurors of the Country, and ſome they threat, whereby as well for fear of the Sheriff, and other that let them at large by plevin, as for fear of the Thieves being ſo delivered before the Juſtices aſſigned for Gaol-deliveries, ſuch Felonies and Murthers are concealed, and ſo being concealed, remain ſtill unpuniſhed: (3) We, for the utility of our Realm, and for the more aſſured conſervation of our Peace, have provided and ordained, That Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes in every County where they do take Aſſiſes, as they be appointed, incontinent after the Aſſiſes taken in the Shires, ſhall remain both together if they be Lay: And if one of them be a Clerk, then one of the moſt diſcreet Knights of the Shire being aſſociate to him that is a Lay-man, by our Writ ſhall deliver the Gaols of the Shires, as well within Liberties as without, of all manner of Priſoners, after the form of the Gaol-deliveries of thoſe Shires beforetime uſed. (4) And the ſame Juſtices ſhall inquire then, if Sheriffs or any other have let out by Replevin Priſoners not repleviſable, or have offended in any thing contrary to the form of the foreſaid Statute lately made at Weſtminſter; and whom they ſhall find guilty they ſhall chaſten and puniſh in all things according to the form of the Statute aforeſaid. IT is to wit, That where any Relief is given, there Wardſhip is incident, and contrariwiſe. (2) And ſuch as hold by Serjeanty, to go with the King in his Hoſt, there Ward and Relief are incident. (3) And ſuch as hold by Petty Serjeanty as to bear Shield or Spear in the King's Hoſt, or to bear or to carry, there is neither Ward, Marriage, or Relief. (4) Alſo a free Sokeman ſhall not give Ward, nor Relief, but he ſhall double his Rent after the death of his Anceſtor, according as he hath uſed to pay to his Lord, and ſhall not be unmeaſureably grieved. (5) Now ſomewhat is to be ſaid of the nature of having Wards. There be two manner of Writs to have Wards; one is, where Lands be holden in Knights-ſervices; the other is, where Lands be holden in Socage. (6) The Ward of Land that is holden in Knights-ſervice belongeth to the chief Lord, and the Marriage, which ought to be without diſparagment, as the great Charter limiteth, until he cometh to the age of one and twenty years. (7) The Ward of an Heir that holdeth in Socage, if the Land or Inheritance deſcend of his Mothers ſide, then it belongeth to the next Friend on the Fathers ſide, and contrariwiſe. (8) And a Writ to recover Ward may be brought in three manners, One is, when a man demandeth Ward of the Land and of the Heir, and that is in caſe, when a man holdeth Land of another, by Knights-ſervice, and the Tenant dieth, then may the chief Lord (if he be deforced) demand the Ward of his Land and Heir, and ſhall have both Ward and Marriage. (9) Another manner is, when a man is infeoffed of a Verge of Land by one man, and by another of a Carve Land, the ſecond Lord may not bring a Writ of Ward to recover either the Land or the Heir, for the Ward belongeth to him, of whom he was firſt infeoffed. (10) The third manner is, where a man hath Land in his hands by reaſon of a Ward, and hath not the Heir, then he may bring a Writ to demand the Heir, and not the Land. St. 52 H. 3. 7. Articuli ſuper Chartas, made at Weſtminſter, Anno 28 Ed. 1. St. 3. and Anno Dom. 1300.

Foraſmuch as the Articles of the great Charter of Liberties, and of the Charter of the Foreſt, which King Henry, Father of the King that now is, granted to his people, for the Weal of his Realm, have not been heretofore obſerved he kept, becauſe there was no puniſhment executed upon them which offend againſt the points of the Charters before mentioned: Our Lord the King hath again granted, renewed and confirmed them, at the requeſt of his Prelates, Earls and Barons, aſſembled in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eight and twentieth year of his Reign, and hath ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed, certain Articles againſt all them that offend contrary to the points of the ſaid Charters, or any part of them, or that in any wiſe tranſgreſs them, in the form that enſueth.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 537.

Confirmation Raſt. 2. A Confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt.

That is to ſay, That from henceforth the great Charter of the Liberties of England granted to all the Comminalty of the Realm, and the Charter of the Foreſt, in like manner granted, ſhall be obſerved, kept and maintained in every point, in as ample wiſe as the King hath granted, renewed and confirmed them by his Charter. (2) And that the Charters be delivered to every Sheriff of England, under the Kings Seal, to be read four times in the year before the people in the full County, that is to wit, the next County day after the Feaſt of Saint Michael, and the next County day after Chriſtmas, and at the next County after Eaſter, and at the next County after the Feaſt of Saint John. (3) And for theſe two Charters to be firmly obſerved in every point and article (where before no remedy was at the Common Law) there ſhall be choſen in every Shire-Court by the Comminalty of the ſame Shire, three ſubſtantial men, Knights, or other lawful, wiſe and well-diſpoſed perſons, which ſhall be Juſtices ſworn and aſſigned by the Kings Letters Patents under the great Seal, to hear and determine (without any other Writ, but only their Commiſſion) ſuch Plaints as ſhall be made upon all thoſe that commit or offend againſt any point contained in the foreſaid Charters, in the Shires where they be aſſigned, as well within Franchiſes as without: And as well for the Kings Officers out of their places, as for other: and to hear the Plaints from day to day without any delay, and to determine them, without allowing the delays which be allowed by the Common Law. (4) And the ſame Knights ſhall have power to puniſh all ſuch as ſhall be attainted of any Treſpaſs done contrary to any point of the foreſaid Charters (where no remedy was before by the Common Law) as before is ſaid, by impriſonment, or by ranſom, or by amerciament, according to the Treſpaſs. (5) Nevertheleſs, the King, nor none of thoſe that made this Ordinance, intend, that by virtue hereof any of the foreſaid Knights ſhall hold any Plea, by the power which ſhall be given them in ſuch caſe, where there hath been remedy provided in times paſſed, after the courſe of the Common Law by Writ, nor alſo that any prejudice ſhould be done to the Common Law, nor to the Charters aforeſaid in any point. (6) And the King willeth, that if all three be not preſent, or cannot at all time attend to do their office in form aforeſaid, that two of them ſhall do it. (7) And it is ordained, That the Kings Sheriffs and Bailiffs ſhall be attendant to do the commandments of the foreſaid Juſtices, as far forth as appertaineth unto their Offices. (8) And beſides theſe things granted upon the Articles of the Charters aforeſaid, the King of his ſpecial grace, for redreſs of the grievances that his people hath ſuſtained by reaſon of his Wars, and for the amendment of their Eſtate, and to the intent that they may be the more ready to do him ſervice, and the more willing to aſſiſt and aid him in time of need, hath granted certain Articles, the which he ſuppoſeth ſhall not only be obſerved of his liege people, but alſo ſhall be as much profitable, or more, then the Articles heretofore granted.

Commiſſioners to enquire of offences done contrary to the Charters.

Other Officers ſhall be attendant upon the Commiſſioners.

CAP. II.

None ſhall take Prices, but the Kings Purveyors, and their Deputies.

Purveyors, 3, 4, 11. Co. Inſt. 2 par. 541.

No Purveyors ſhall take any prices but the Kings, and they only for his Houſe.

Secondly, Foraſmuch as there is a great grievance in this Realm, and damage without meaſure, for that the King and the Miniſters of his Houſe, as well of Aliens as Denizens, do make great Prices where they paſs through the Realm, and take the Goods as well of Clerks as of Lay-people, without paying therefore any thing, or elſe much leſs then the value:

II. It is ordained, That from henceforth none do take any ſuch Prices within the Realm, but only the Kings Takers, and the Purveyors for his Houſe; (2) and that the Kings Takers and Purveyors of his Houſe ſhall take nothing, but only for his Houſe. (3) And touching ſuch things as they ſhall take in the Country, of meat and drink, and ſuch other mean things neceſſary for the Houſe, they ſhall pay or make agreement with them of whom the things ſhall be taken.

Purveyors ſhall have their Warrant and ſhew it.

III. And that all the Kings Takers, Purveyors, or Catours, from henceforth ſhall have their Warrant with them, under the Kings great or petty Seal, declaring their authority, and the things whereof they have power to make price or purveyance: (2) the which Warrant they ſhall ſhew unto them whoſe Goods they take, before they take any thing.

St 36 Ed. 3. 2.

Purveyors ſhall take no more then is needful.

IV. And that thoſe Takers, Purveyors or Catours for the King, ſhall take no more then is needful or meet to be uſed for the King, his Houſhold, and his Children.

V. And that they ſhall not take any thing for them that be in wages, nor for any other.

VI. And that they ſhall make full anſwer in the Kings Houſe, or in the Wardrobe, for all things taken by them, without making their larges any other where, or Liveries of ſuch things as they have taken for the King.

St. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

All purveyance taken away.

VII. And if any Taker for the Kings Houſe, by reaſon of his Warrant, make any price or livery, otherwiſe then before is mentioned, upon complaint made to the Steward, and to the Treaſurer of the Kings Houſe, the truth ſhall be enquired. (2) And if he be attainted thereof, he ſhall forthwith make agreement with the party, and ſhall be put out of the Kings ſervice for ever, and ſhall remain in priſon at the Kings pleaſure.

Taking without Warrant, Felony.

VIII. And if any make price without Warrant, and carry it away againſt the will of the Owner, he ſhall immediately be arreſted by the Town where the price was made, and ſhall be committed to the next Gaol; (2) and if he be attainted thereupon, it ſhall be done unto him as unto a Felon, if the quantity of the Goods do ſo require.

Purveyances made for the Kings Wardrobe.

IX. And concerning prices made in Fairs, and good Towns, and in Ports, for the Kings great Wardrobe; the Takers ſhall have their common Warrant under the great Seal.

X. And for the things that they ſhall take, it ſhall be teſtified under the Seal of the Keeper of the Wrrdrobe; (2) and of thoſe things that they have taken, the number of the things, the quantity and the value, ſhall be ſpecified in a Divident, made between the Takers and the Keepers of Fairs, Mayors or chief Bailiffs of Towns and Ports, by the view of Merchants whoſe goods ſhall be ſo taken, (3) and they ſhall not be ſuffered to take any more then is contained in their Divident; (4) and the ſaid Divident ſhall be taken into the Wardrobe, under the Seal of the Warden, Mayor or chief Bailiff, aforeſaid, and there ſhall remain until the Accompt of the Keeper of the Kings Wardrove: (5) And if it be found, that any hath taken otherwiſe then he ought to do, upon his Accompt he ſhall be puniſhed by the Keeper of the Kings Wardrobe after his deſert: (6) and if any make ſuch prices without warrant, and be attainted thereupon, he ſhall incur the ſame pein as they which take prices for the Kings Houſe without warrant, as before is ſaid.

Rep. St. 12. Car. 2. cap. 24.

The Kings Prerogative reſerved.

XI. Nevertheleſs the King and his Council do not intend, by reaſon of this Eſtaute, to diminiſh the Kings Right, for the ancient prices due and accuſtomed, as of Wines, and other goods, but that his Right ſhall be ſaved unto him whole, in all points.

King: that where Inqueſts taken by his Eſcheators by any of the Kings Writs purchaſed out of the Chancery being returned, and it be found by ſuch Inqueſts that nothing is holden of the King whereby the King ought to have the cuſtody of ſuch Lands and Tenements by reaſon of the Inqueſt taken by his Eſcheators, that immediately, and without any delay, the Eſcheators ſhall be commanded by the Kings Writ had out of the Chancery, to put from their hands all the Lands and Tenements ſo taken into the Kings poſſeſſion: (2) And if they have taken any profits of ſuch Lands and Tenements ſo taken into the Kings hands by them, from the time that ſuch Lands and Tenements fell into the Kings hands, they ſhall make full reſtitution to him or them, for whom it was found by Inqueſts taken by the ſame Eſcheators, that ſuch Lands ought to remain: (3) ſaving alway to the King (in caſe that after ſuch time as his Eſcheators have diſcharged their hands by force of the Kings Writ, as before is ſaid) if any thing happen to be found in the Chancery or the Exchequer, or in any other of the Kings Courts, whereby the cuſtody of ſuch Lands, whereof the Eſcheators have diſcharged their hands in form aforeſaid, ſhould belong unto the King, that immediately he in whoſe poſſeſſion ſuch Lands happen to be, ſhall be ſummoned by a Writ out of the Chancery to be before the King at a certain day whereſoever, &c. to ſhew if he can ſay any thing, wherefore the King ought not to have the cuſtody of ſuch Land, according to the form of the evidences or remembrances found for the King. (4) And if he come in and ſhew why the cuſtody of ſuch Lands do not belong or ought not to belong unto the King, but that it ought to remain to himſelf, he ſhall go quit, and retain the cuſtody. (5) But if the party warned doth not come, or if that he come, and can ſhew nothing to put the King from the cuſtody, the Lands and Tenements ſhall be forthwith reſeiſed into the Kings hands, to be kept in name of Wardſhip until the lawful age of ſuch Heirs, as before is ſaid. (6) And as it is ſaid before, if it be found by Inqueſts taken by the Eſcheators and returned, that the cuſtody of the ſame Lands and Tenements contained in the Inqueſt, and ſeiſed into the Kings hands, ought not to remain unto the King, then the Eſcheator ſhall be commanded forthwith to diſcharge his hands thereof, and to reſtore the Iſſues wholly. (7) In like manner if it be found afterward by Evidences and remembrances in the Chancery, Exchequer, or otherwhere, as before is ſaid, that our Lord the King ought to have the Wardſhip thereof, the King ſhall be anſwered for the whole Iſſues and Profits, by the hands of ſuch as held the ſame Lands and Tenements, from the time they were firſt taken into the Kings hands by his Eſcheators by the Writs abovesaid. (8) And this order ſhall be held from henceforth in the Chancery, notwithſtanding a certain Ordinance lately made by our Lord the King, concerning Lands and Tenements taken into his hands by Officers, and not to be delivered but by the King himſelf, and as it is contained in a certain Dividenda, or Indenture, made between the King himſelf and his Chancellor, whereof one part remaineth in the cuſtody of the Chancellor.

III. In like manner and the ſame form Writs ſhall be directed to Sheriffs and other Bailiffs for every Demandant, and the form ſhall be changed after the diverſity of the Liberty which any man claimeth to have, in this wiſe:

(3) And if the ſame party be impleaded upon ſuch manner of Liberties before one or two of the foreſaid Juſtices, the ſame Juſtices before whom the party is impleaded, ſhall ſave him harmleſs before the other Juſtices: And ſo ſhall the King alſo before him, when it ſhall appear by the Juſtices that ſo it was in Plea before them, as is aforeſaid. (4) And if the foreſaid party be afore the King, ſo that he cannot be the ſame day afore the ſaid Juſtices in their Circuits, the King ſhall ſave that party harmleſs before the foreſaid Juſtices in their Circuits, for the day, whereas he was before the King. And moreover, they ſhall have ſuch Judgment as the Court of our Lord the King will award, (8) And if they will ſay further, that their Anceſtors died ſeiſed thereof, they ſhall be heard: And the truth ſhall be inquired incontinent, and according to that Judgment ſhall be given. (9) And if it appear that their Anceſtors died ſeiſed thereof, then the King ſhall award an Original out of the Chancery in this form: Rex, Vic', ſalutem. (10) And if they come in at the ſame day, they ſhall anſwer, and Replication and Rejoynder ſhall be made; (11) and if they do not come nor be eſſoined before the King, and the King do tarry longer in the ſame Shire, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded to cauſe them to appear the fourth day; (12) at which day if they come not, and the King be in the ſame Shire, ſuch order ſhall be taken as in the Circuit of Juſtices. (13) And if the King depart from the ſame Shire, they ſhall be adjourned unto ſhort day, and ſhall have reaſonable delays according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices, as it is uſed in perſonal Actions. (14) Alſo the Juſtices in Eyre in their Circuits ſhall do according to the foreſaid Ordinance, and according as ſuch manner of Pleas ought to be ordered in the Circuit. (15) Concerning Complaints made and to be made of the Kings Bailiffs, and of other, it ſhall be done according to the Ordinance made before thereupon, and according to the Inqueſts taken thereupon heretofore; (16) and the clauſe ſubſcribed ſhall be put in a Writ of Common Summons in the Circuit of the Juſtices aſſigned to Common Pleas directed to the Sheriff, &c. and that ſhall be ſuch: Rex, Vic', ſalutem. Præcipimus tibi, quod publice proclamari facias, quod omnes conquerentes ſeu conqueri volentes, tam de miniſtris & aliis, ballivis noſtris quibuſcunque, quam de miniſtris & ballivis aliorum quorumcunque, & aliis, veniant coram Juſticiariis noſtris ad primam Aſſiſam, ad quaſcunque querimonias ſuas ibidem oſtendendas & competentes emendas inde recipiendas ſecundum legem & conſuetudinem Regni noſtri, & juxta ordinationem per nos inde factam, & juxta tenorem ſtatutorum noſtrorum, & juxta articulos iiſdem Juſticiariis noſtris inde traditos, prout prædicti Juſticiarii tibi ſcire faciant ex parte noſtra. Jointenancy pleaded in Abatement of a Writ, &c.

Jointenancy, 1. St.14 Ed.1.35.

The King, unto all, to whom theſe, &c. greeting. It is no new thing that among divers eſtabliſhments of Laws which we have ordained in our own time upon the great and hainous miſchiefs that happen in Writs of Novel diſſeiſin, chiefly above other, we have deviſed more ſpeedy remedy in thoſe Writs then was before. (2) And foraſmuch as it chanceth many times in Aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin, That the Tenant doth except againſt the Plaintiff, that he holdeth the Tenements in demand jointly with his Wife, not named in the Writ, and ſometime with a ſtranger not named in the Writ, and ſheweth forth a Deed teſtifying the ſame, and demandeth Judgment of the Writ: (3) It is agreed and ordained, That if the Plaintiff will offer to aver by Aſſiſe, that the day of his Writ purchaſed, he that alledged the exception was ſole Tenant, ſo that neither his wife, nor any other had any thing in the ſaid Lands, then the Juſtices, before whom the Aſſiſe is arraigned, ſhall retain the ſame Deed ſafely in their keeping (until the Aſſiſe be tried between them thereupon) as that which is in a ſort denied. (4) And they ſhall let the party abſent to underſtand by their Writ under their teſtimony, and alſo to the Jointenant that is preſent, of whom the Deed maketh mention, that he be preſent at a certain day with the other Tenant, to anſwer unto the party Plaintiff as well upon the exception alledged as of the Lands demanded and put in view, if it ſeem expedient for him: (5) at which day if both that are named Tenants do come in, and do juſtifie the ſame Feoffment, they ſhall anſwer and maintain the exception alledged by one of them, and further ſhall anſwer unto the Aſſiſe as though the original Writ had been purchaſed againſt both of them jointly. (6) And if it be proved by Aſſiſe, that the exception was alledged maliciouſly to delay the Plaintiff of his right, ſo that they held not the ſame Land jointly the day of the Writ purchaſed, then albeit the ſame Aſſiſe do paſs for the Tenants, and againſt the Plaintiff, yet they that alledge the exception ſhall be puniſhed by one years Impriſonment, whence they ſhall not be delivered without a grievous Fine. (7) And let the Juſtices be well adviſed, that from henceforth they do not allow an exception alledged by the Bailiffs of any ſuch Tenants: (8) and if he that alledgeth the exception abſent himſelf at his day, and the other that is named Jointenant do appear, although he that doth appear doth diſavow the ſame Deed, and ſay that he hath nothing in the foreſaid Tenements; nevertheleſs the Aſſiſe ſhall paſs againſt the Tenant that is abſent by his default. (9) And if it be found by Aſſiſe, that they were not jointly enfeoffed the day of the Writ purchaſed, and likewiſe that the Tenant againſt whom the Writ was purchaſed, or another named in the Writ did diſſeiſe the Plaintiff, then having regard to the exception that was falſly and maliciouſly alledged to the hurt of the party, and to the diſſeiſin that they made the party Plaintiff ſhall recover his ſeiſin and double damages, and they that alledge the falſe exception ſhall have the puniſhment aforeſaid. (10) But if neither of the Tenants do come at the day, then upon their default the Aſſiſe ſhall paſs againſt them. (11) And if it be found thereby that the ſame exception was lawfully and truly alledged, and that they which alledged it were jointly ſeiſed before the Plaintiff purchaſed his Writ againſt them, the Aſſiſe ſhall paſs no further, but the Writ ſhall be abated. (12) The ſame ſhall be obſerved, if both or one only do appear, if it be found by Aſſiſe, that the exception aforeſaid was truly alledged, as before is ſaid. (13) In the ſame order it is eſtabliſhed and agreed, that in Aſſiſes of Mortdanceſtor, and

The cauſe of foundation of Religions Houſes.

Impoſitions ſet by certain Religious Houſes upon their inferiours.

Co. Inſt. 1 par. 38c.

Hob. 148.

Co. l. 11 f. 71.

OF late it came to the knowledge of our Lord the King, by the grievous complaint of the Honourable perſons, Lords, and other Noble-men of his Realm, that whereas Monaſteries, Priories and other Religious houſes were founded to the honour and glory of God and the advancement of the holy Church, by the King and his Progenitors, and by the ſaid Noblemen and their Anceſtors, (2) and a very great portion of Lands and Tenements have been given to them to the ſaid Monaſteries, Priories and Houſes, and the Religious men ſerving God in them, To the intent that Clerks and Lay-men might be admitted in ſuch Monaſteries, Priories and Religious houſes, according to their ſufficient ability, and that ſick and feeble men might be maintained, Hoſpitality, Alms-giving, and other charitable deeds might be done, and that in them prayers may be ſaid for the Souls of the ſaid Founders and their heirs: (3) The Abbots, Priors, and Governours of the ſaid houſes, and certain Aliens their ſuperiours, as the Abbots and Priors of Ciſtercienſes, and Premonſtratenſes, and of the Order of St. Auguſtine and St. Benedict, and many more of other Religion and Order, have at their own pleaſures ſet divers unwonted, heavy, and importable tallages, payments, and impoſitions upon every of the ſaid Monaſteries, and Houſes in ſubjection unto them in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, without the privity of our Lord the King and his Nobility, contrary to the Laws and Cuſtoms of the ſaid Realm: (4) And thereby the number of Religious perſons, and other ſervants in the ſaid Houſes and Religious places being oppreſſed by ſuch tallages, payments and impoſitions, the ſervice of God is diminiſhed, alms be not given to the poor, the ſick and feeble, the healths of the living, and the ſouls of the dead be miſerably defrauded, hoſpitality, alms-giving, and other godly deeds do ceaſe. (5) And ſo that which in times paſt was charitably given to godly uſes, and to the increaſe of the ſervice of God, is now converted to an evil end. By permiſſion whereof there groweth great ſcandal to the people, and infinite loſſes and diſheritances are like to enſue to the Founders of the ſaid Houſes, and their heirs, unleſs ſpeedy and ſufficient remedy be provided to redreſs ſo many and grievous detriments.

3 Bulſtr. 45.

II. Wherefore our foreſaid Lord the King, conſidering that it would be very prejudicial to him and his people if he ſhould any longer ſuffer ſo great loſſes and injuries to be winked at, and therefore being willing to maintain and defend the Monaſteries, Priories and other Religious houſes erected in his Kingdom, and in all lands ſubject to his Dominion, and from henceforth to provide ſufficient remedy to reform ſuch oppreſſions as he is bound: By the counſel of his Earls, Barons, great Men, and other Nobles of his Kingdom in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the five and thirtieth year of his Reign, hath ordained and enacted. 3 Ed. 3. cap. 3.

CAP. II.

Religious perſons ſhall ſend nothing to their Superiours beyond the Sea.

THat no Abbot, Prior, Maſter, Warden, or any other Religious perſon, of whatſoever condition, ſtate or Religion he be, being under the Kings power or juriſdiction, ſhall by himſelf, or by Merchants, or others ſecretly or openly, by any device or means, carry or ſend, or by any means cauſe to be ſent any tax impoſed by the Abbots, Priors, Maſters, or Wardens of Religious houſes their Superiours, aſſeſſed amongſt themſelves, out of his Kingdom and his Dominion, under the name of a Rent, Tallage, or any kind of impoſition, or otherwiſe by the way of exchange, mutual ſale, or other contract howſoever it may be termed. (2) Neither ſhall depart into any other Country for viſitation, or upon any other colour, by that means to carry the goods of their Monaſteries and Houſes out of the Kingdom and Dominion aforeſaid. (3) And if any will preſume to offend this preſent Statute, he ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed according to the quality of his offence, and according to his contempt of the Kings prohibition. 4 Ed.3.cap.6.

MOreover, our foreſaid Lord the King doth inhibit all and ſingular Abbots, Priors, Maſters and Governours of Religious Houſes and places, being Aliens, to whoſe authority, ſubjection and obedience the Houſes of the ſame Orders in his Kingdom and Dominion be ſubject, that they do not at any time hereafter impoſe, or by any means aſſeſs any tallages, payments, charges, or other burdens whatſoever, upon the Monaſteries, Priories, or other Religious Houſes in ſubjection unto them (as is aforeſaid) and that upon pain of all that they have or may forfeit.

ANd further, our Lord King hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Abbots of the Orders of Ciſtercienſes and Premonſtratenſes, and other Religious Orders, whoſe Seal hath heretofore been uſed to remain only in the cuſtody of the Abbot, and not of the Covent, ſhall hereafter have a common Seal, and that ſhall remain in the cuſtody of the Prior of the Monaſtery or Houſe, and four of the moſt worthy and diſcreet men of the Covent of the ſame Houſe, to be laid up in ſafe keeping under the private Seal of the Abbot of the ſame Houſe: (2) So that the Abbot or Prior which doth govern the Houſe, ſhall be able of himſelf to eſtabliſh nothing, though heretofore it hath been otherwiſe uſed. (3) And if it fortune hereafter, that writings of Obligations, Donations, Purchaſes, Sales, Alienations, or of any other Contracts be ſealed with any other Seal than ſuch a common Seal, kept as is aforeſaid, they ſhall be adjudged void, and of no force in Law. (4) But it is not the meaning of our Lord the King to exclude the Abbots, Priors, and other Religious Aliens by the Ordinances and Statutes aforeſaid, from executing their office of Viſitation in his Kingdom and Dominion: but they may viſit at their pleaſures, by themſelves or other, the Monaſteries and other places in his Kingdom and Dominion in ſubjection unto them, according to the duty of their office, in thoſe things only that belong to regular obſervation, and the diſcipline of their Order.

Abbots aliens may viſit their inferiours in England.

BEcauſe we do underſtand, that controverſies do oft-times grow between Parſons of Churches and their Pariſhioners, touching Trees growing in the Church-yard, both of them pretending that they do belong unto themſelves: (2) We have thought it good rather to decide this controverſie by writing then by Statute; (3) Foraſmuch as a Church-yard that is dedicated, is the ſoil of a Church, and whatſoever is planted belongeth to the ſoil, it muſt needs follow that thoſe Trees which be growing in the Church-yard, are to be reckoned amongſt the goods of the Church, the which Lay-men have no authority to diſpoſe: but as the holy Scripture doth teſtifie, the charge of them is committed only to Prieſts to be diſpoſed of.

Prohibition 1. No Prohibition ſhall be granted but where mony for them.

(3) But if a Clerk or a Religious man do ſell his Tithes being gathered in his Barn, or otherwiſe, to any man for mony, if the mony be demanded before a Spiritual Judge, the Kings prohibition ſhall lie; for by the ſale, the ſpiritual goods are made temporal, and the Tithes turned into Chattels. (2) Alſo if a Prelate enjoyn a Penance pecuniary to a man for his offence, and if it demanded, the Kings prohibition ſhall hold place. (3) And if they deny them their ſervices, the demandants ſhall immediately name two witneſſes, whoſe names ſhall be inrolled, and ſhall have day to bring them forth at the next Huſtings; (4) at which day, if they bring forth witneſſes, and it is ſhewed by them in the full Court of their own ſight and hearing, that the ſame plaintiffs have any time received the rents which they demand of the tenements, then the tenants ſhall leeſe their fees by award of the Court, and the plaintiffs ſhall recover their tenements in demean. The Statute of York, made the twentieth of October, Anno 12 Ed. 2. & An. Dom. 1318.

FOraſmuch as divers people of the Realm of England and Ireland have heretofore many times ſuffered great miſchiefs, damage and diſheriſons, by reaſon that in ſome caſes where the Law failed no remedy was ordained; (2) and alſo foraſmuch as ſome points of the Statute heretofore made had need of expoſition: (3) our Lord King Edward, Son to King Eward, deſiring that full right be done to his people, at his Parliament holden at York, the third week after the Feaſt of S. Michael, the twelfth year of his Reign, by the Aſſent of Prelates, Earls, Barons, and the Commonalty of his Realm there aſſembled, hath made theſe Acts and Statutes here following, the which he willeth to be ſtraitly obſerved in his ſaid Realm and Land.

FIrſt, for divers miſchiefs that have been becauſe tenants in Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin might not make Attornies heretofore: (2) It is agreed that the Tenants in Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin from henceforth may make Attornies: (3) Yet the King intendeth not hereby that the tenants and defendants in Aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin ſhould not plead by Bailiffs, if they will as they have uſed to do heretofore.

ALſo it is agreed, that when a Deed, Releaſe, Acquittance, or other Writing is denied in the Kings Court wherein witneſſes be named, Proceſs ſhall be awarded to cauſe ſuch witneſſes to appear, as before hath been uſed, ſo that if none of them come at the great Diſtreſs returned, or if it be returned, that they have nothing, or that they cannot be found, yet the taking of the Inqueſt ſhall not be deferred by the abſence of ſuch witneſſes. (2) And if the witneſſes do come in at the great Diſtreſs, and the Inqueſt for ſome cauſe remaineth untaken, the witneſſes that come in ſhall have like day given them as is aſſigned for the taking of the Inqueſt: (3) at which day, if the witneſſes do not appear, the iſſues that were returned upon them ſhall be forfeit: (4) and the taking of the Inqueſt ſhall not be deferred becauſe of their abſence. (5) And for abſence of witneſſes dwelling within Franchiſes, where the Kings Writ original doth not lie, the taking of an Inqueſt ſhall not be omitted.

(2) And that in ſuch Inqueſts the Juſtices ſhall do as they think moſt expedient for the wealth of the Realm, the which Statute needeth to be better declared: (3) It is agreed, that Inqueſts and Juries that be and ſhall be taken in pleas of land, that require not great examination ſhall be taken in the Country before a Juſtice of the place where the plea is, accompanied with a ſubſtantial man of the Country, Knight or other, ſo that a certain day be given in the Bench, and a certain day and place in the Country in the preſence of the parties, if the demandant requeſt it. Statutum de terris Templariorum, made Anno 17 Ed. 2. Stat. 3. Anno Dom. 1323.

Templers 1. Co. l. 11. f. 21.

1 Roll

For that the military Order of Templers ceaſing and being diſſolved, the lands and tenements in demeſns, fees and ſervices of the Brethren of the ſame Order which they held in their Fraternity in the Realm of England in the time of the ſame ceaſing and diſſolution of the foreſaid Order, which were holden of our Lord the King, and divers other Lords in this Kingdom, were ſeiſed into the hands of our Sovereign Lord the King, and of divers others Lords of the fees of them, who challenged the ſame Lands for the conſideration aforeſaid, that the ſame Lands ought to revert to them as their Eſcheats. (2) Whereupon after, in a Parliament of the moſt noble Prince King Edward, Son of King Edward, ſummoned and aſſembled at Weſtminſter, three weeks after the day of the Purification of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of the ſame King, great conference was had before the King himſelf, in the preſence of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, Nobles and great men of the Realm, and others there preſent, whether the foreſaid Lords of the fees, or others which held thoſe Lands that were the foreſaid Templers, as is aforeſaid, might retain them by the Law of the Realm, and with falſe conſcience. (3) Whereupon the greater part of the Kings Council, as well the Juſtices at other Lay-perſons being aſſembled together: The ſaid Juſtices affirmed preciſely, that our Lord the King, and other Lords of the fees aforeſaid, might well and lawfully by the Laws of the Realm retain the foreſaid Lands as their Eſcheats, in regard of the ceaſing and diſſolution of the Order aforeſaid.

Whether the Order of Templers being diſſolved, the Lords of the Fees might enjoy their Lands. 5 H. 7. 37. Corporat. Br. 15.

II. But becauſe the Lands and Tenements aforeſaid were given to the Brethren of the ſaid Order for the Defence of Chriſtians, and the Holy Land, againſt Pagans and Sarazens, and other Enemies of Chriſt and Chriſtians, and the univerſal holy Church: It ſeemed good to our Lord the King, the Noble-men, and others aſſembled in the ſame Parliament, for the health of their Souls, and diſcharge of their Conſciences, that whereas the ſaid Military Order of Templers were originally inſtituted for the Defence of Chriſtians, and the univerſal holy Church, Subverſion of the Enemies of Chriſt and Chriſtians, and canoniſed to the augmentation of the honour of God, and liberal Alms-giving; That the foreſaid Lands and Tenements in demeſns, Lordſhips, Services, Liberties, Cuſtoms and all other things pertaining thereunto, and by any thing depending thereupon, according to the Wills of the Givers, ſhall be aſſigned and delivered to other men of moſt holy Religion, to the intent the fruits, obventions and profits of the ſaid Lands and Tenements, and other things, may be converted and charitably diſpoſed to godly uſes. (2) And thereupon in the ſame Parliament it is agreed, ordained and eſtabliſhed for Law to continue for ever, That neither our Lord the King, nor any other Lords of the fees aforeſaid, or any other perſon, hath title or right to retain the aforeſaid lands and tenements, with the appurtenances or any part thereof, in regard of Eſcheat, or by any other means, or hereafter to challenge the ſame lands in reſpect of the ceaſing or diſſolution of the aforeſaid Military order of Templers, whereof the Brethren of the ſame Order were ſeiſed in their Demeſns as of fee at the time of the ceaſing and diſſolution aforeſaid: Notwithſtanding that the aforeſaid lands and tenements after the ſaid ceaſing and diſſolution, came to the hands of divers perſons by deſcent of inheritance, gift, or purchaſe, or by any other means: And notwithſtanding any Law or Cuſtom of the Realm of England, whereby this Law, Ordinance and Statute touching the aſſignment and conveyance of the foreſaid lands and tenements might be hindred, impugned, or counterpleaded.

The chief Lords ſhall not have Templers lands by Eſcheat.

III. Seeing the Order of the Brethren of the Hoſpital of St. John of Hieruſalem was likewiſe ordained, inſtituted and canonized for the defence of Chriſtians and the holy Church: It is agreed and enacted in the ſaid Parliament by our foreſaid Lord the King, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men of the Realm there being, That inſomuch as the foreſaid Order of the Templers is ceaſed and diſſolved, and the foreſaid Order of the Hoſpital is provided, inſtituted and canonized for the defence of Chriſtians, as is aforeſaid, That all the Lands, Tenements, Lordſhips, Fees, Churches, Advowſons of Churches, and liberties, with all things to them belonging, which were the ſaid Templers at the time of their ceaſing and diſſolution, ſhall be aſſigned and delivered to the foreſaid Order of the Hoſpital, and to the Prior and Brethren of the ſame Hoſpital, to remain to them and thir ſucceſſors for ever. (2) Wherefore our ſaid Lord the King, by the mutual aſſent of the Earls, Barons, and Noble men aforeſaid, of his Regal authority in the ſame Parliament, hath aſſigned to determine and deliver all the foreſaid Lands, Tenements, Lordſhips, Fees, Churches, Advowſons and Liberties, with their appurtenances, to the foreſaid Order of the Hoſpital, and to the ſaid Prior and Brethren of the ſaid Order, To have and hold to the ſame Prior and his Brethren and ſucceſſors for ever of our Lord the King, and other Lords of the Fees aforeſaid, by the ſame ſervices, by which the Brethren of the Military Order of Templers held the ſame, at the time of their ceaſing and diſſolution: As in relieving of the poor, in Hoſpitalities, in celebrating Divine Service, defence of the holy Land and in all other offices and ſervices beforetime due, by whatſoever names they be called: (3) So always, that the godly and worthy will of the foreſaid givers be obſerved, performed, and always religiouſly executed, as is aforeſaid, (4) Saving to every perſon his action, if he had any, the time of the ceaſing and diſſolution aforeſaid, againſt the ſame Templers in the foreſaid Lands and Tenements, Rents, Services, Cuſtoms, Penſions, Corodies, Liberties, celebrating of Maſſes, Alms, and other things whatſoever, and liberty to proſecute his right againſt the ſaid Prior and Brethren of the Hoſpital aforeſaid and their Brethen, and their Succeſſors, according to the Law and cuſtom of the Realm, as he might have had againſt the foreſaid Templers, if the Order aforeſaid had not been diſſolved: (5) And if it fortune that the ſaid Prior and Brethren of the Hoſpital aforeſaid, or their Succeſſors, ſhall be put out of the foreſaid lands and tenements, or of any parcel thereof, after they ſhall be ſeiſed of the ſame, they ſhall have power to recover their own according to the Law of the Realm.

All the Templers lands given to the Prior of the Hoſpital of St. John of Hieruſalem. Cok. l. 11. f. 21.

IV. And to the intent that the aſſignment before ſpecified may be publiſhed and made known to all men to whom it behoveth: (2) It is ordained and agreed in the ſame Parliament, that it ſhall be openly proclaimed in every County of this Kingdom, that all and every perſon holding the lands and tenements aforeſaid, and all others to whom it doth appertain, ſhall be at Weſtminſter one month after Eaſter-day next, if they will, to hear the concord, proviſion, and aſſignment aforeſaid, in form aforeſaid.

(6) And if the ſaid Warden will not ſo do, he ſhall have a Writ out of the Chancery, which hath been in old time ordained for ſuch perſons indicted, to be at mainpriſe till the Eyre. (7) And if ſuch Warden after he hath received the Writ, do not incontinently deliver ſuch perſons indicted to mainpriſe, without taking any thing, then the Plaintiff ſhall have a Writ out of Chancery to the Sheriff, to attach the ſaid Warden to be before the King at a certain day to anſwer, wherefore he hath not replevied him that is ſo taken. (9) And if the chief Warden be thereof attainted, the Plaintiffs ſhall have their treble damages awarded them, and the ſaid Warden ſhall be committed to priſon, and ranſomed at the Kings will. (2) By reaſon whereof, ſuch ſtuff aforeſaid is ſold to the King and to his people, in the hands of the ſaid Citizens, Burgeſſes, and other people, Denizens, more dear than they ſhould be, if ſuch Merchant-ſtrangers, and others which bring ſuch things into the Realm, might freely ſell them to whom they would, to the great damage of our Lord the King, and of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of this Realm, and grievous oppreſſion of his Commons: (3) Whereupon the ſaid Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, for them and the Commons, deſired our ſaid Lord the King in his ſaid Parliament, by their Petition, that for the profit and commodity of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of this Realm, it may pleaſe him without further delay, upon the ſaid grievances and outrage, to provide remedy.

CAP. I.

OUr Lord the King, deſiring the profit of his people, by the aſſent of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of his Realm, ſummoned at his Parliament, and by the advice of his Council being there, upon the ſaid things diſcloſed to him, and found true, to the great hurt of the ſaid Prelates, Earls and Barons, and other Nobles of his Realm, and oppreſſion of his Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all Merchants, Strangers and Denizens, and all other and every of them, of what eſtate or condition ſoever they be, that will buy or ſell Corn, Wines, Avoir de pois, Fleſh, Fiſh, and all other Livings and Victuals, Wools, Clothes, Wares, Merchandizes, and all other things vendible, from whence ſoever they come by Foreigners or Denizens, at what place ſoever it be, City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, Fair, Market, or elſewhere within the Realm, within Franchiſe or without, may freely without interruption ſell them to what perſons it ſhall pleaſe them, as well to Foreigners as Denizens; Except always the Enemies of our Lord the King, and of his Realm. (2) And if haply any diſturbance be done to any Merchant-ſtranger or Denizen, or any other for the ſale of ſuch things in any City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, or other place which hath Franchiſe, and the Mayors and Bailiffs, or other which hath the rule of ſuch Franchiſe, being required by the ſaid Merchants or other, thereof to provide remedy, and do not, and be thereof attainted, the Franchiſe ſhall be ſeiſed into the Kings hands. EDward by the grace of God, &c. to the Sheriff of Lincoln, Greeting. Whereas at our Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter in the xv. of Eaſter laſt paſt, certain Articles expreſly contrary to the Laws and Cuſtoms of our Realm of England, and to our Prerogatives and Rights Royal were pretended to be granted by us by the manner of a Statute; (2) we conſidering how that by the bond of our Oath we be tied to the obſervance and defence of ſuch Laws, Cuſtoms, Rights and Prerogatives, and providently willing to revoke ſuch things to their own ſtate, which be ſo improvidently done; upon conference and treatiſe thereupon had with the Earls, Barons, and other wiſe men of our ſaid Realm, and becauſe we never conſented to the making of the Statute, but as then it behoved us, we diſſimuled in the premiſſes by proteſtations of revocation of the ſaid Statute, if indeed it ſhould proceed, to eſchew the dangers which the denying of the ſame we feared to come, foraſmuch as the ſaid Parliament otherwiſe had been without diſpatching any thing in diſcord diſſolved, and ſo our earneſt buſineſs had likely been ruinated, which God prohibit. And the ſaid pretenced Statute we promiſed them to be ſealed. (3) It ſeemed to the ſaid Earls, Barons, and other wiſe men, that ſithence the Statute did not of our free will proceed, the ſame be void, and ought not to have the name nor ſtrength of a Statute: And therefore by their counſel and aſſent we have decreed the ſaid Statute to be void, and the ſame in as much as it proceeded of Dread, we have agreed to be adnulled; (4) willing nevertheleſs that the Articles contained in the ſaid pretenced Statute, which by other of our Statutes, or of our Progenitors Kings of England, have been approved, ſhall according to the form of the ſaid Statute in every point as convenient is, be obſerved. (5) And the ſame we do only to the conſervation and reintegration of the rights of our Crown, as we be bound, and not that we ſhould in any wiſe grieve or oppreſs our Subjects, whom we deſire to rule by lenity and gentleneſs. And therefore we do command thee, that all theſe things thou cauſe to be openly proclaimed in ſuch places within thy Bailiwick, where thou ſhalt ſee expedient. II. And the ſaid Kings in times paſt were wont to have the greateſt part of their Council, for the ſafeguard of the Realm when they had need, of ſuch Prelates and Clerks ſo advanced: The Biſhop of Rome, accroaching to him the Seignories of ſuch poſſeſſions and Benefices, doth give and grant the ſame Benefices to Aliens, which did never dwell in England, and to Cardinals, which might not dwell here, and to other as well Aliens as Denizens, as if he had been Patron, or Advowee of the ſaid dignities and benefices, as he was not of right by the Law of England; whereby if they ſhould be ſuffered, there ſhould ſcarcely be any Benefice within a ſhort time in the ſaid Realm, but that it ſhould be in the hands of Aliens and Denizens by virtue of ſuch proviſions, againſt the good will and diſpoſition of the Founders of the ſame Benefices. (3) And ſo the elections of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other religious ſhould fail, and the alms, hoſpitalities, and other works of charity, which ſhould be done in the ſaid places, ſhould be withdrawn, the ſaid Grandfather, and other lay-patrons, in the time of ſuch voidances, ſhould loſe their preſentment, the ſaid Council ſhould periſh, and goods without number ſhould be carried out of the Realm, in adnullation of the eſtate of the holy Church of England, and diſheriſon of the ſaid Grandfather, and the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of the ſaid Realm, and in offence and deſtruction of the laws and rights of his Realm, and to the great damage of his people, and in ſubverſion of all the eſtate of his ſaid Realm, and againſt the good diſpoſition and will of the firſt Founders: (4) By the aſſent of the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles, and of all the ſaid Communalty, at their inſtances and requeſts, the damage and grievances afore conſidered, in the ſaid full Parliament it was ordained, provided, eſtabliſhed, agreed, adjudged and conſidered, that the ſaid oppreſſions, grievances, and damages in the ſame Realm from henceforth ſhould not be ſuffered in any manner. (5) And now it is ſhewed to our Lord the King in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, at the utas of the Purification of our Lady, the five and twentieth year of his reign of England, and of France the twelfth, by the grievous complaints of all the Commons of his Realm, that the grievances and miſchiefs aforeſaid do daily abound, to the greater damage and deſtruction of all his Realm of England, more than ever were before, viz. that now of late the Biſhop of Rome by procurement of Clerks and otherwiſe, hath reſerved, and doth daily reſerve to his collation generally and eſpecially, as well Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, Abbeys, and Priories, as all other dignities, and other Benefices of England which be of the advowry of people of holy Church, and give the ſame as well to Aliens as to Denizens, and taketh of all ſuch Benefices the firſt-fruits, and many other profits, and a great part of the treaſure of the ſaid Realm is carried away, and diſpended out of the Realm, by the purchaſers of ſuch Benefices and graces aforeſaid: (6) and alſo by ſuch privy reſervations many Clerks advanced in this Realm by their true Patrons, which have peaceably holden their advancements by long time, be ſuddenly put out: (7) whereupon the ſaid Commons have prayed our ſaid Lord the King, that ſith the right of the Crown of England, and the Law of the ſaid Realm is ſuch, that upon the miſchiefs and damages which happen to his Realm, he ought, and is bound by his oath, with the accord of his people in his Parliament thereof to make remedy and law, and in removing the miſchiefs and damages which thereof enſue, that it may pleaſe him thereupon to ordain remedy.

(3) And ſo from time to time, whenſoever ſuch people of holy Church ſhall be diſturbed of their preſentments or collations, by ſuch reſervations, collations, or proviſions, as afore is ſaid: ſaving to them the right of their advowſons and their preſentments, when no collation or proviſion of the Court of Rome is thereof made, where that the ſaid people of holy Church ſhall or will to the ſame benefices preſent or make collation: And that their Preſentees may enjoy the effect of their collations or preſentments. (4) And in the ſame manner every other Lord, of what condition that he be, ſhall have the collations or preſentments to the houſes of Religion which be of his advowry, and other benefices of holy Church which be pertaining to the ſame houſes. (5) And if ſuch advowees do not preſent to ſuch benefices within the half year after ſuch voidances, nor the Biſhop of the place do not give the ſame by lapſe of time within a month after half a year: that then the King ſhall have thereof the preſentments and collations, as he hath of other of his own advowry. (6) And in caſe that the Preſentees of the King, or the preſentees of other Patrons of holy Church, or of their advowees, or they to whom the King or ſuch Patrons or advowees aforeſaid have given benefices pertaining to their preſentments or collations, be diſturbed by ſuch proviſors, ſo that they may not have poſſeſſion of ſuch benefices, by vertue of the preſentments or collations to them made, or that they which be in poſſeſſion of ſuch benefices be impeached upon their ſaid poſſeſſions by ſuch Proviſors; then the ſaid Proviſors, their procurators, executors and notaries, ſhall be attached by their body, and brought in to anſwer: (7) And if they be convict, they ſhall abide in priſon without being let to mainpriſe or bail, or otherwiſe delivered, till that they have made fine and ranſom to the King at his will, and gree to the party that ſhall feel himſelf grieved. CAP. XVIII.

Merchants of Ireland or Wales may bring their Merchandiſes to the Staples of England.

Staple, Raſt. 11. Merchants of Ireland and Wales which cannot ſell their Wool, &c. there, may bring the ſame to any of the Staples of England. It ſhall be felony for any Welſh or Iriſh men to carry their Wool, &c. to any other place ſaving to the Staple.

ITem, Becauſe we do well perceive, that Merchants-ſtrangers do not come ſo commonly into Ireland nor into Wales for to merchandiſe as they do into England, (2) we will of our ſpecial grace, that it ſhall be lawful to the people of Ireland and Wales, which cannot utter their Wools, Leather, Woolfels, and Lead in Ireland and Wales, to all Merchants ſtrangers to come with their ſaid merchandiſes, after that they be cuſtomed and cocketed in Ireland and in Wales, to any of our Staples in England which them ſhall pleaſe, bringing their cockets, witneſſing their merchandiſes, which they ſhall diſcharge at the Staples in England: (3) ſo that they when they ſhall come to the Staples in England, or they that bought their ſaid merchandiſes of them, ſhall not pay another time cuſtom nor ſubſidy for the ſaid merchandiſes ſo cuſtomed in our ſaid lands of Ireland and Wales. (4) And our Treaſurer, and the Barons of our Eſchequer of England, ſhall be certified two times by the year at the leaſt; that is to ſay, at Eaſter and Michaelmas, how much Wools, Leather, Woolfels, and Lead ſhall paſs out of the ſaid land of Ireland, and of the cuſtom thereof paid. (5) And in caſe that the Merchants or other people of Ireland or of Wales after that they be in the Sea with their ſaid merchandiſes, do paſs to any place other than to the Staples in England, they ſhall incur the pains and forfeitures in the ſaid third Article.

CAP. XIX.

None ſhall loſe his goods by his ſervants offence. Speedy Juſtice ſhall be done from day to day, and from hour to hour.

(2) And becauſe that Merchants may not often long tarry in one place for levying of their merchandiſes, we will and grant, that ſpeedy right be to them done from day to day, and from hour to hour, according to the Laws uſed in ſuch Staples before this time holden elſewhere at all times, when they will them complain of any, or that any will complain of them, ſo that the Merchants be not by malice delayed for default of ſpeedy remedy.

(3) And if any be convict, that he hath grieved the Merchants ſo taken in our protection, he ſhall be puniſhed by us for the contempt done to us, in as much as ſhall be judged to the Merchants for their damages. And to the ſaid Merchants ſtrangers their double damages ſhall be judged.

A Mayor and two Conſtables ſhall be choſen yearly in every Staple-town: And their authority.

Staple, Raſt. 14. There ſhall be a Mayor and two Conſtables in every Staple town, and what by their office they may do.

ITem, Becauſe the Staples cannot long continue, nor the Ordinances thereof made and to be made, be kept, if good Executors and Juſtices be not eſtabliſhed to make thereof good and ready execution: (2) We have ordained and eſtabliſhed, that in every town where the Staple is ordained, a Mayor good, lawful, and ſufficient, ſhall be made and eſtabliſhed, having knowledge of the Law-merchant, to govern the Staple, and to do right to every man after the Laws aforeſaid, without favour, ſparing, or grief doing to any. (3) And in every place where the Staple is, ſhall be two conveniable Conſtables now at his beginning placed by us, to do that pertaineth to their office as in other Staples is accuſtomed; and when they ſhall be dead, or changed, then other ſhall be choſen by the Commonalty of the Merchants of the ſaid places: (4) And that no Mayor hold the office over one year, unleſs he be newly choſen by the Commonalty of the Merchants, as well of ſtrangers as of denizens. II. And if any Merchant will complain of the Mayor or of the Conſtables, that they have failed of right, or ſhewed favour againſt reaſon to either of the parties, it ſhall be ſpeedily redreſſed by the Chancellor and our Council without delay. Regiſt. fo. 18.

III. And that the ſame Mayor and Conſtables do not, nor ordain any thing contrary to theſe Ordinances, nor make interpretation nor exception to them, otherwiſe than the words do purport; (2) but if there be any that is doubted, it ſhall be ſhewed to our Council, and there declared by good advice.

CAP. XXII.

Correctors ſhall be appointed in the Staple-towns to make and record bargains.

(5) And that no man be conſtrained to have a Corrector unleſs he will of his own good will, nor to pay any thing to any Corrector unleſs he meddle of his bargain at his requeſt.

The Officers of the Staple, and Merchants repairing to it, ſhall be ſworn to maintain the Staple, and the Laws and Cuſtoms of it.

Item, That a certain number of porters, packers, winders, workers, and other labourers of Wools, and all other Merchandiſes, be ſufficiently ordained for the place where the Staple is; and they and the Corectors, and all manner of Officers of the Staple, beſides the Conſtables, ſhall be ſworn before the Mayor of the Staple, that they lawfully ſhall execute their Office, without fraud or deceit. (2) Alſo all Merchants aliens and denizens, coming to the ſaid Staples becauſe of merchandiſe, ſhall be ſworn before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables, that they ſhall be juſtified by the ſame Mayor and Conſtables, according to the law and uſage of the Staple, and ſhall maintain as much as in them is the Staple, and the laws and uſages of the ſame, without fraud or deceit. Item, We will and ordain, that the Merchants ſtrangers ſhall chuſe two Merchants ſtrangers, whereof the one towards the South, and the other towards the North, ſhall be aſſigned to ſit with the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staples where ſome of thoſe perſons choſen ſhall come, to hear the plaints touching Merchants aliens that ſhall be moved before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables at all times that any of the ſaid perſons choſen will be there, and to ſee that plain right be done to the ſaid Merchants aliens, ſo that the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables ſhall not ceaſe to proceed in their proceſs, in caſe that thoſe perſons choſen come not thither. (2) And in caſe that debate riſe betwixt them, upon the diſcuſſing of any plea or quarrel: the tenour of the ſame plea or quarrel ſhall be ſent before the Chancellor, and other of our Council, to be determined there without delay. (3) And alſo ſix perſons ſhall be choſen, that is to ſay, four aliens, whereof two ſhall be of Almaigne, and two of Lombardy, and two of England, which ſhall be diſcreet men, and worthy of faith, and ſhall ſwear, that they ſhall well and lawfully execute their office, that is to ſay, that when and at what time any queſtion or debate ſhall riſe or come amongſt Merchants of any unreaſonable Wool, or undue packing according to the covenants made betwixt the ſellers and the buyers, that the ſaid perſons, or four of them, may before the Mayor of the Staple and the Officers, by their Oath ſay and amend as reaſon will, and thereupon credence ſhall be given to them without any contradiction.

An Ordinance of Herring, made Anno 35 *Ed.*3. and *Anno Dom.*1360.

All perſons may buy Herring in the Fair of Yarmouth openly, and not privily. No man ſhall enter into a bargain of Herring until the firſt Chapman have done with it.

Fiſh, Raſt. 7. A rehearſal of the Statute of An. 31 Ed. 3. 2. and of the inconveniences thereof.

THough that late at the procurement of ſome, doing us and our Council to underſtand, that becauſe that the Hoſts of our Town of great Yarmouth, which lodge the Fiſhers coming there with their Herring, in the time of the Fair, will not ſuffer the ſaid Fiſhers to ſell their Herrings, nor to meddle with the ſale of the ſame, but ſell them at their own will as dear as they will, and give the Fiſhers that pleaſeth them, ſo that the Fiſhers do withdraw themſelves to come there, and the Herring was ſet at a greater dearth than it was before: (2) Amongſt other things it was ordained by Us and our Council, that the ſaid Fiſhers of Herring ſhould be free to ſell their Herring to all people that will come to the ſaid Fair of Yarmouth without any diſturbance of their Hoſt or any other. (3) And when the ſaid Fiſhers would ſell their merchandizes in the Port, they ſhould have their Hoſts with them, if they would be there, and in their preſence, and in the preſence of other merchants openly ſhould ſell their merchandizes to whom they pleaſed. (4) And if other Merchants preſent would have part of the ſaid merchandize, every of them ſhould have for his part upon the taking, after the rate of the ſame merchandizes ſo ſold. (5) And the ſaid ſale ſhall be made from the Sun-riſing till the Sun going down, and not before nor after. (6) And that no Hoſtlers nor other buy Herring to hang in his houſe by covin nor in other manner at an higher price the Laſt than forty ſhillings: (7) Nevertheleſs, becauſe it is ſhewed to uſe, and to our Council by petition in this preſent Parliament, that the ſale of Herring is much decayed, and the people greatly endamaged by the points aforeſaid, that is to ſay, that many Merchants coming to the Fair, as well labourers and ſervants, as other, do bargain for Herring, and every of them by malice and envy increaſe upon other, and if one profer xl s. another will profer x s. more, and the third lx s. and ſo every one ſurmounteth other in the bargain, and ſuch profers extend to more than the price of the Herring upon which the Fiſhers profered it to ſell at the beginning: (8) And when every man claimeth his part of the Herring for the price accorded, he ſhall have his part, and the Herring ſhall be ſo divided amongſt them, that the Fiſher is ſo much grieved and delayed in the gathering of his mony, that he ſhould demand of ſo may perſons, that he leeſeth his Mart and the advantage of his Fiſhing. (9) And alſo herein, that no freſh Herring is put to ſale, but from the Sun-riſing till the Sun going down, and not before nor after, which is to the great loſs of Fiſhers, and appairing of the Herring, and damage of the people that ſhall buy the ſame; for the Fiſhing is more by Night than by Day, and often it chanceth, that the Fiſhers be ſo long and ſo charged, that they come to the Town after Sun going down, or little before, ſo that they cannot ſell their Herring in the time for the ſale limited, ſo that they muſt abide all the night and the day after upon the ſale of their Herring, and loſe many marts and profits of their Fiſhing: (10) We perceiving the miſchiefs and grievances aforeſaid, by the advice and aſſent of our Parliament, will and grant that it ſhall be lawful to every man, of what condition that he be, Merchant or other, to buy Herring openly, and not privily, at ſuch price as may be agreed betwixt him and the ſeller of the ſame Herring. (11) And that no man enter in bargain upon the buying of the ſame, till he that firſt cometh to bargain ſhall have an end of his bargain greeable to the ſeller; and that none other increaſe upon other during the firſt bargain, upon pain of forfeiture to us the double of his profer, but every man ſhall have the Herring ſo bought, according to the bargain thereof made. (12) And that every Fiſher may deliver and ſell his Herring and Fiſh at every Mart, when he cometh to the ſaid Town of Great Yarmouth, without any diſturbance or impeachment: Notwithſtanding any Ordinance made to the contrary before this time. In witneſs whereof We have cauſed theſe our Letters Patents to be made. Given at Weſtminſter the twentieth day of February, in the five and thirtieth year of our Reign of England.

All perſons may buy Herring in the Fair-time at great Yarmouth, openly and not privily: No man ſhall enter into a bargain of Herring until the firſt Chapman hath done with it. A Fiſher may ſell his Herring at any time when he cometh with it.

Co. Inſt. 2 par 489.

ITem, The Prelates and Clergy of this Realm do greatly complain them for that the people of holy Church, purſuing in the ſpiritual Court for their Tithes, and their other things, which of right ought, and of old times were wont to pertain to the ſame ſpiritual Court, and that the Judges of holy Church, having cognizance in ſuch cauſes, and other perſons thereof medling according to the Law, be maliciouſly and unduly for this cauſe indicted, impriſoned, and by ſecular power horribly oppreſſed, and alſo enforced with violence by oaths, and grievous obligations, and many other means unduly compelled to deſiſt and ceaſe, utterly of the things aforeſaid, againſt the liberties and franchiſes of holy Church: (2) Wherefore it is aſſented, that all ſuch obligations made or to be made by dureſs or violence, ſhall be of no value. And as to thoſe that by malice do procure ſuch indictments, and to be the ſame enditors, after the ſame inditees be ſo acquit, ſuch procurers ſhall have and incur the ſame pain that is contained in the Statute of Weſtminſter the ſecond, of thoſe which procure falſe appeals to be made. And the Juſtices of Aſſiſes or other Juſtices before whom ſuch inditees ſhall be acquit, ſhall have power to enquire of ſuch procurers and enditors, and duly to puniſh them according to their deſert.

FIrſt, Becauſe that before this time in time of the Noble King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, in his Parliaments holden at York and Weſtminſter, and alſo in this preſent Parliament, great complaint hath been made to our ſaid Lord, for that in many Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, and other places within the Realm of England, great damages and outragious grievances have been, and yet be done to the King, and to all his Realm, by the Citizens, Burgeſſes and other people of Cities, Boroughs, and other Towns and places aforeſaid, which have not ſuffered, nor yet will ſuffer Merchants ſtrangers, nor other that do bring, carry or convey by ſea or by land, Wines avoir de pois, ſuſtenance, victuals, or other things vendible, profitable and neceſſary, as well for the King, the Prelates and Lords, as for all the Communalty of his land, to ſell or deliver the ſaid Wines, Suſtenance, Victuals, nor other things vendible to any other than to them of the ſame Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, and other places, to which ſuch Wines, ſuſtenance, victuals or other things vendible were and be brought, carried and conveyed: (3) and by ſo much thoſe things have been and yet be ſold and ſet to the King, to his Lords, and to all his people, by the hands of the Citizens, Burgeſſes, and other people Denizens, to a great and exceſſive dearth over that they ſhould have been, if the Merchants ſtrangers and other which bring ſuch things into the Realm, might freely have ſold them to whom they would: (3) nor alſo would not, nor yet will ſuffer the Merchants ſtrangers, that do come or would come within the Realm, to buy Wools and other merchandiſes growing within the Realm, to go, travel, and merchandiſe, or abide freely as they were wont to do, to the great damage of the King, of the Prelates, of the Lords, and of all the Ream, and againſt the common profit, and againſt the Statutes and Ordinances thereof made in times paſt in the ſaid two Parliaments: (4) our Lord the King conſidering clearly the coming of Merchants ſtrangers within the Realm to be very profitable for many cauſes to all the Realm, by the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and of the Commons of the Realm, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all Merchants Aliens, of what Realms, Countries, or Seigniories that they come, which be of the amity of the King, and of his Realm, may from henceforth ſafely and ſurely come within the Realm of England, and in all Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Fairs, Markets, or other places within the Realm, within franchiſe and without, and abide with their goods and all merchandiſes, under the ſafeguard and protection of the King as long as ſhall pleaſe them, without diſturbance or denying of any perſon. (5) And that as well thoſe Merchants Aliens and Denizens, and every of them that will buy and ſell Corn, Fleſh, Fiſh, and all manner other victuals and ſuſtenance, and alſo all manner of Spiceries, Fruit, Fur, and all manner of ſmall Wares, as Silk, Goldwyre,

(12) And it is not the Kings mind, that Merchants ſtrangers, or denizens, that will buy and ſell their Wools, Woolfels, Wares, Clothes, Iron, and other merchandiſes, at Fairs and Markets in the Country, ſhould be reſtrained or diſturbed by this Statnte to ſell or buy freely in groſs or at retail, as they were wont to do heretofore. (13) And if it ſo happen, that from henceforth diſturbance be made to any Merchant Alien, or Denizen, or other upon the ſale of ſuch things, in City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, or other place that hath franchiſe, againſt the form of this Ordinance: and the Mayor, Bailiffs, or other that have the keeping of ſuch franchiſe, required by the ſaid Merchants or other in their name thereof to make remedy, do not the ſame, and thereof be attainted, the franchiſe ſhall be ſeiſed into the Kings hand: And nevertheleſs, they that have done ſuch diſturbance againſt this Statute, ſhall be bound to render and reſtore to the Plaintiff his double damages that he hath ſuffered by this occaſion. (14) And if ſuch diſturbance be made to ſuch Merchants, or to other in Towns, and places where no franchiſe is, and the Lord if he be preſent, or his Bailiffs, Conſtables, or other Warden of the Towns and places, in abſence of the Lords thereof required to do right, and do not, and thereof be duly attainted, they ſhall yield to the plaintiff his double damages, as afore is ſaid, and the diſturbers in the one caſe and the other, as well within franchiſes as without, if they be attainted, they ſhall have one years impriſonment, and be ranſomed at the Kings will. (15) And it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Chancellor, Treaſurer, and Juſtices aſſigned to hold pleas of the King in the places where they come, ſhall diligently inquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and do puniſhment according as afore is ordained. (16) And nevertheleſs, the King ſhall aſſign by commiſſion certain people, where and when ſhall pleaſe him, to enquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and to puniſh the offendors in this party, as afore is ſaid. 9 H. 3. 30.

ITem, Becauſe that our Lord the King hath perceived, as well by the complaints of his faithful liege-peole, and by their clamour by divers Petitions thereof delivered in divers Parliaments before this time, as otherwiſe by the perfect knowledge and experience of the deed, how the Churches Cathedral and Collegial, Abbeys and Priories, and other Benefices of his Realm, which were late founden, and richly endowed by his noble Progenitors, in which divers Dignities, Offices, Parſonages, Chanonries, Prebends, and other Benefices were ſolemnly and devoutly ordained and eſtabliſhed, of the aſſent of the foreſaid Progenitors of the King, and of other their noble Founders, which did give to the ſaid Paſtors of the ſame Churches, Abbies, Priories, and of other great places, the advowſons of the ſame Benefices, to the intent that the ſame Benefices ſhould be given to honeſt and meet perſons of the Realm, to ſerve and honour God diligently, and alſo to keep hoſpitality, and to inform and teach the people, and to do other worthy things pertaining to the cure of Souls, after the eſtate and quality of the ſaid Benefices: (2) and ſo was it done in all times paſt after the foundation of the ſame, till now of late, that by the informations, inſtigations, and procurements of ſome of the Kings liege-people, the ſame Benefices have been given againſt the will of the Founders to divers people of another Language, and of ſtrange Lands and Nations, and ſometime to the utter Enemies of the King and of his Realm, which never made reſidence in the ſame, nor cannot, may not, nor will not in any ſuch wiſe bear and perform the charges of the ſame Benefices, as in hearing Confeſſions, Preaching, nor Teaching the people, keeping Hoſpitality nor accompliſhing the other things neceſſary to the governance of the ſame Benefices, but only thereof have and take the emoluments and temporal profits, not having regard to the ſpiritual Cure, nor to other charges to the ſame Benefices pertaining or belonging, but maniféſtly ſuffer the noble buildings in old times were made, when the ſame Benefices were occupied by Engliſhmen, wholly to fall to decay, whereby the Divine Service is greatly miniſhed, the cure of ſouls neglected and left, the Clergy enfeebled, the Treaſure of the ſaid Realm carried to the hands of Aliens, and all the Eſtate of holy Church brought to leſs reverence than before it was wont to be: (3) and though that in the time of the ſaid Grandfather certan Ordinances, Statutes and Compoſitions were made and affirmed, wholly to put out, or at the leaſt to reſtrain the ſaid miſchiefs in this behalf; nevertheleſs, the ſaid Aliens not having regard to the ſame, do not refrain to take and receive ſuch Benefices within the ſaid Realm, but by the Comfort, Aid, and great ſuccour which they have had of the Kings liege-people, that be their Fermors, Procurators and Attornies in this behalf, and in every part of the ſaid Realm, do enforce themſelves from day to day more and more to accept the greateſt Dignities and Benefices within the ſaid Realm, and by divers cautelous manners, much prejudicial to the ſame Realm if that were ſuffered, whereby the ſaid miſchiefs do daily increaſe, and much more will increaſe, if due remedy be not the ſooner provided.

The Commons of our Realm of England have prayed us by their Petition delivered to us at our preſent Parliament holden at Northampton, containing how many Wines of divers manners oftentimes brought within the Land, which do often paſs without gauging, becauſe that the Statutes thereupon made in the time of our Grandfather, (whom God aſſoil) do not make expreſs mention of all manner Wines, and of other liquors, to the great damage of the Lords and Commons of the ſame Realm, which be oftentimes deceived in their buying, becauſe they cannot without gauge have rightful knowledge how much the ſame veſſel will contain. That it may pleaſe us, for the profit of us and our Realm more plainly to declare the ſame Statutes, in ſuch manner, that all manner of Wines, and other liquors gaugeable brought within the Realm, may be compriſed in the ſame Statutes: (2) We conſidering the ſaid Supplication to be profitable for us, the Lords and Commons of the ſame Realm, will and grant by the aſſent of the Prelates, and Lords aforeſaid, That the Statutes thereupon made (as is ſaid) be holden, kept, and put in due execution. (4) And if any ſet debate and diſturbance, and will not ſuffer the Wines or other liquors aforeſaid to be gauged, he ſhall incur the pain ordained by the ſaid other Statutes. (5) And in the ſame manner the Gaugers ſhall incur the pain compriſed in the ſame Statutes, if default be from henceforth found in them, or in their deputies in this behalf. In which Courts an Attaint may be brought upon a falſe Verdict given in Lincoln.

Attaint, Raſt. 8.

ITem, Becauſe that upon the grievous complaint of the reverend Father in God, the Biſhop of Lincoln, and the Dean and the Chapter of the Church of our Lady in Lincoln, made by their Petition to our Lord the King, and the Lords in this preſent Parliament: The Mayor and the Bailiffs of the City of Lincoln by the commandment of the King, and the aſſent of the Lords, were enjoyned and charged by Writ, to be before the King and his Council in the ſame Parliament at a certain day, with ſufficient inſtruction and information of all the matter compriſed in the ſame Petition, with full power and authority under the common Seal of the ſaid City, to anſwer for them, and the Commonalty of the ſaid City, upon all things contained in the ſame Petition, and further to do and receive that which ſhall be ordained by the King and his Council in that behalf, upon a certain pain limited in the ſame Writ; the tenour of which Petition, containing the grievances done to the ſaid Biſhop and Chapter by the people of the City of Lincoln, by colour of their Franchiſe, was ſent to the ſaid Mayor and Bailiffs cloſed within the ſaid Writ. And though the ſaid Mayor and Bailiffs at the day contained in the ſame Writ, came before the King and his Council in the Parliament aforeſaid, yet they did not bring any ſufficient Warrant from the Commonalty of the ſaid City, as they had in commandment by the ſaid Writ; and upon that our ſaid Lord the King, by the aſſent of the Prelates and other Lords in the ſame Parliament being, by default of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commons aforeſaid in that behalf, hath proceeded and examined the ſaid Petition, and the grievances therein contained. (2) And alſo becauſe that a common clamour hath been, that many of the Kings lieges often have ſuffered divers injuries in the ſaid City, becauſe in reſpect of freeholds within the ſame City, treſpaſſes, contracts, and other things riſing within the ſame City, triable by Aſſiſe, Jury, or Inqueſt, have been tried by people of the ſame City, which be ſo favourable one to another, that they doubt not to make falſe Oaths, and that becauſe they be encouraged, for as much as they have not been before this time convict by foreigners, by colour of their Franchiſe: (3) Our Lord the King, willing for the cauſes aforeſaid, to provide for the quietneſs of the ſaid Church, and full right to be done as well to the ſaid Biſhop, Dean and Chapter, and their Succeſſors, as to all other in time coming, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed in that behalf, that in Aſſiſes, Juries, and all other Inqueſts that ſhall be taken between party and party, before the Mayor and Bailiffs of the ſame City for the time being, if any of the parties feel himſelf grieved of a falſe Oath made by ſuch Aſſiſe, Jury, or Inqueſt, the Attaint ſhall be granted to him, and the Record ſent by Writ into the Kings Bench, or into the Common place. (4) And that the Sheriff impanel the Jury of ſuch Attaint, of Foreigners of the County, without ſending to the Franchiſe of the ſaid City, and that the Juſtices ſhall take the ſame Jury of the ſame Foreigners, notwithſtanding any Franchiſe granted to the ſame City, or other uſage to the contrary. (3) And moreover by the aſſent of the Lords in this preſent Parliament, and at the prayer of the Commons he hath ordained and granted, that the reſidue of the ſaid Article ſhall be wholly out, repealed and adnulled: that is to ſay, if any ſue to the King for a Charter of Pardon for murder, death of man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, or rape of a woman, if the Chamberlain indorſe, or cauſe to be indorſed ſuch Bill, he ſhall put the name of him that maketh ſuit for ſuch a Charter upon the ſame Bill, upon pain of a thouſand marks; and if the under-Chamberlain indorſe ſuch Bill, he ſhall do likewiſe, upon pain of five hundred marks. (4) And that none other but the Chamberlain or under-Chamberlain ſhall indorſe, or cauſe to be indorſed any ſuch Bill, upon pain of a thouſand marks. Merchants, Raſt.29. A confirmation of the Statute of 5 H. 4. 7. & 5 H. 4. 9. touching the uſing of Merchants ſtrangers.

ITem, Whereas in a Statute made in the time of King Henry the fourth after the Conqueſt, the fifth year of his reign, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that all the Merchants aliens, of what eſtate or condition they be, coming, abiding, or reſident within the Realm of England, ſhould be entreated and demeaned within the ſame Realm in the ſame form, manner and condition, as the Merchants denizens be or ſhall be entreated or demeaned in the parties beyond the Sea, and in no other manner, upon pain to forfeit to the King all the goods and chattels of the ſaid Merchants aliens. (2) And alſo it was ordained and ſtabliſhed in the time of the ſaid late King Henry, amongſt other things, by the Statute, that in every City, Town, and Port of the Sea of England, where the ſaid Merchants aliens, or ſtrangers, be, or ſhall be repairing, ſufficient hoſts ſhall be aſſigned to the ſame Merchants by the Mayor, Sheriff, or Bailiffs of the ſaid Cities, Towns, and Port of the Sea; (3) And that the Merchants aliens, and ſtrangers, ſhall not remain in other places, but with the ſaid hoſts ſo to be aſſigned; And that the ſame hoſts ſo to be aſſigned, ſhall take for their labour in the ſame manner as was accuſtomed of old time: (4) and for that our Lord the King hath perceived that the ſame Statutes have not been put in due execution, he willeth and granteth, that the ſame Statutes ſhall be firmly holden and kept in all points, and put in due execution from henceforth according to the purport of the ſame.

CAP. VII.

In what caſes Letters of Marque may be granted.

Breakers of Leagues, &c. Raſt.2. St. 2 H. 5. 6. Letters of Marque ſhall be granted to any of the Kings ſubjects with whom truce is broken upon the Sea.

ITem, Becauſe our Sovereign Lord the King hath heard and conceived at the grievous complaint of the Commons of his Realm in this Parliament, for that in reſpect of a Statute made at his Parliament holden at Leiceſter, the laſt day of April, the ſecond year of his reign, in which Statute is contained, that the breaking of truce and of ſafe conducts, and willing receit, abetment, procurement, council, hiring, ſuſtaining and maintaining of breakers of truce, and of the ſafe conducts of the King our Lord to be made by his liege people from henceforth, within the Realm of England and Ireland, and the Country of Wales, upon the main Sea, ſhall be judged and determined for high treaſon, done againſt the Crown, and the Kings dignity: (2) By reaſon of which Statute, though the Kings ſubjects be ſo much grieved againſt the truce, that they dare not provide remedy by way of Act, for that the Kings enemies, as well in the parts beyond the Sea, as in the Realm of Scotland, have thereof taken great courage to grieve the Kings faithful liege people, in ſlaying ſome of them, and in taking ſome of them priſoners, and alſo taking their goods and cattels, againſt the tenour of the truce, as well upon the main Sea, as upon the Marches of Scotland, whereof the ſaid Commons have humbly beſeeched our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King to provide remedy: (3) The King willing as well in this caſe as in other to take order for the indempnity of his liege people and faithful ſubjects, hath declared in this preſent Parliament, that of all attempts made by his enemies upon any of his faithful liege people againſt the tenour of any truce, taken before this time, wherein is no expreſs mention made, that all marques and repriſals ſhall ceaſe, the ſame our Sovereign lord the King will grant marque in due form to all them that feel themſelves in this caſe grieved, (4) And our ſaid Lord the King will do the like to all his liege people that feel them grieved againſt the tenor of any truce, which betwixt him and any of his enemies ſhall be newly taken hereafter. (5) And to the greater comfort of his faithful liege people, to the intent that they may the more readily, and without long delay, have remedy in this caſe: The ſame our Lord the King will, that if he or they that feel them grieved, againſt the tenor and form of ſuch truce within the Realm of England, out of the ſaid Marches of Scotland, or upon the Sea, or in the parties beyond the Sea, ſhall complain to the keeper of the Privy Seal, which for the time ſhall be, who after ſuch complaint heard and perceived, thereof ſhall make to the party complainant (if he the ſame require) letters of requeſt, under the Privy Seal, in a due form, and if after ſuch requeſt made, the party required do not make within a convenient time due reſtitution or ſatisfaction to the party grieved, then the Chancellor of England for the time being, ſhall cauſe to be made to ſuch party grieved (if he that demand) Letters of Marque under the great Seal, in a due form. (6) And as for remedy to be ordained for the Kings liege people and ſubjects, that feel them grieved in the Realm of Scotland, or in England at the Marches joyning to Scotland, againſt the form of ſuch truce, as afore is ſaid: our Lord the King ſhall give power by Commiſſion to the Wardens, as well of the eaſt Marches, as of the weſt Marches, toward Scotland, and to every of them, to hear the complaints of all them his liege people and ſubjects which be or ſhall be grieved, and to cauſe thereupon to be made requeſt by Letters to be delivered to him which hath done or ſhall do ſuch grievance, or to the Wardens of the Marches, or conſervator of the truce of the parties of Scotland, if he may well do it; or otherwiſe to make Proclamation in open places upon the Marches, that he or they which have done ſuch grievances againſt the truce, ſhall make due reſtitution or ſatisfaction to the party grieved. (7) And if they do it not within a convenient time, then at the inſtance of every of the Kings liege people and ſubjects which thereof feeleth, or ſhall feel himſelf grieved in ſuch caſe, letters of Marque be given in due form under the ſeals of the ſaid Wardens, or under his ſeal to whom the complaint ſhall be made in this caſe, without any difficulty.

HENRY King of England, &c. To his Chancellor in the County Palatine of Lancaſter, greeting. Know ye that for as much as divers men of malice and envy, and for gain and revenge have often cauſed to be indicted and appealed divers of our true liege people, of treaſons or felonies, in the County of Lancaſter, pretending by thoſe appeals and indictments, that the ſaid treaſons or felonies were committed in a certain place, where of truth no ſuch place is had in the ſaid County where the ſaid appeal and indictment is made, to the great damage and peril of ſuch our liege people, conſidering that ſome ſo appealed and indicted, dare not appear before the Juſtices in their proper perſons, to anſwer thereof, for fear of beating, maiming, or killing them, by the conſpirators or procurers of the ſame appeals and indictments, as by the Commons of the Realm of England, in our laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, by their petition there exhibited, grievouſly complaining, was ſhewed: (2) It is ordained in the ſame Parliament by the aſſent of the Prelates and great men of the ſame Realm, there being, at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, for the common profit and quietneſs of the people of the ſame Realm, that every Juſtice which hath power to hear and determine ſuch treaſons and felonies within the ſaid County, by the oath of twelve men, (of whom every one ſhall have freehold in the ſame County, to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings above all charges) before that the Exigent be awarded, without allegation of the party, as well in the parties abſence as his preſence, ſhall inquire of office, whether any ſuch place be in the County where ſuch appeals or indictments be made or to be made, or not. (3) And if it be found that there is no ſuch place within the ſame County, then ſuch appeals and indictments, and the proceſs thereupon made or to be made, ſhall be void, and holden for none. (5) And that this preſent ordinance and remedy extend as well to appeals and indictments not determined before this time as to appeals and indictments to be taken hereafter: (6) And if any Exigent from henceforth be awarded, before that ſuch inquiſition of office (as afore is ſaid) be taken, that the ſame Exigent and the awarding thereof, be likewiſe void and holden for none.

(2) And moreover, it is ordained by the ſame Statute, That at all times that ſuch forcible Entries be made, and complaint thereof come to the Juſtices of Peace, or any of them, that the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice ſhall take the power of the County, and ſhall go, or one of them ſhall go to the place where ſuch force is made. (3) And if they find, or he findeth any holding ſuch place forcibly, after ſuch entry made, they ſhould be taken and put in the next Gaol, there to remain convict by the record of the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice, until they have made fine and ranſom to the King. (4) And that all the people of the County, as well Sheriffs as other, ſhall be attending to the ſaid Juſtices, and to aſſiſt them to arreſt ſuch malefactors, upon pain of impriſonment, and to make fine and ranſom to the King. And for that the ſaid Statute doth not extend to Entries in Tenements, in peaceable mannet, and after holden with force, nor if the perſons which enter with force into Lands or Tenements, be removed and voided before the coming of the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice, as before, nor any pain ordained, if the Sheriff do not obey the commandments and precepts of the ſaid Juſtices, for to execute the ſaid ordinance, many wrongful and forcible entries be daily made, in Lands and Tenements by ſuch as have no right, and alſo divers, gifts, feoffments, and diſcontinuances ſometimes made to Lords, and other puiſſant perſons, and extortioners within the ſaid Counties where they be converſant, to have maintenance, and ſometimes to ſuch perſons as be unknown to them ſo put out, to the intent to delay and defraud ſuch rightful poſſeſſors of their right, and recovery for ever, to the final diſheriſon of divers of the Kings faithful liege people, and likely daily to increaſe, if due remedy be not provided in this behalf: (2) Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, hath ordained, That the ſaid Statute, and all other Statutes of ſuch entries or alienations made in times paſt, ſhall be holden and duly executed: (3) Joyned to the ſame, That from henceforth where any doth make any forcible Entry in Lands and Tenements, or other poſſeſſions, or them hold forcibly, after complaint thereof made within the ſame County where ſuch Entry is made, to the Juſtices of Peace, or to one of them by the party grieved, that the Juſtices or Juſtice ſo warned within a convenient time, ſhall cauſe, or one of them ſhall cauſe the ſaid Statute duly to be executed, and that at the coſts of the party ſo grieved.

(7) And if the Sheriff return at the day of the Capias returnable, that the perſons in the ſame compriſed for any of the ſame cauſes aforeſaid, cannot be taken by him, nor the ſame perſons do yield themſelves in the ſaid Chancery; that then the ſaid Chancellor ſhall cauſe to be made a Writ of Proclamation directed to the Sheriff, returnable in the Kings Bench at a certain day, that he make Proclamation in two Counties, that the perſons named in the ſaid Writ, come at the ſaid day into the aforeſaid Bench, there to anſwer to the matter compriſed in the ſaid bill, upon pain to be convict of the matter compriſed within the ſaid bill. (8) And in every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall be contained the ſubſtance of the matter compriſed in the ſaid bill. (9) And if they come not at the day of ſuch Proclamation returned, then they ſhall be holden and adjudged for convict and attainted as afore is ſaid. (10) And if they come at the Proclamation, it ſhall be inquired of them, and done in the manner as afore is ſaid. Jurors 11.

Item, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xxviij year of King Edward the Third, amongſt other things in favour and liberty of the Merchants ſtrangers repairing into the Realm of England, it was ordained, That if a plea or debate be moved before the Mayor of the Staple, amongſt the Merchants or Miniſters of the ſame, and for to try the truth thereof, an enqueſt or proof is to be taken, if the one party and the other be ſtrange, it ſhould be tried by ſtrangers: (2) and if the one party and the other be denizens, it ſhould be tried by denizens: (3) and if the one party be denizen, and the other an alien, the one half ſhould be of denizens, and the other half aliens: (4) And moreover, that in all inqueſts and proofs which ſhall be taken and made betwixt aliens and denizens, be they Merchants or other, as well before the Mayor of the Staple, as before any other Judges or Miniſters although our Lord the King be party, the one half of the enqueſt or proof ſhould be of denizens, and the other half of aliens, if there be ſo many aliens in the town or place where ſuch enqueſt or proof is to be taken, that be not parties, nor with the parties in contracts pleas, or other quarrels, whereof ſuch enqueſts or proofs ought to be taken; (5) and if there be not ſo many aliens, then ſo many aliens ſhall be put in ſuch enqueſts or proof as ſhall be found in the ſame places or towns which be not parties thereunto, nor with the parties as before is ſaid, and the remnant of denizens which be good men, and not ſuſpect of the one party nor of the other. (6) Sithence which Ordinance the ſaid Merchants aliens have been always demeaned and ruled, as well in the Staples as in other of the Kings Courts, after the form of the ſaid Ordinance, until now of late they have been thereof reſtrained and impeached by colour of another Statute made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond year of King Henry, Father of our Lord the King that now is; (7) by which Statute, for the great miſchiefs, damages, and diſheriſons, which daily do happen through the Realm, as well in caſe of the death of a man, as in caſe of freehold and other caſes, by them that paſs in enqueſts in the ſaid caſe, which were common Jurors and other, which had but little or nothing to live upon, but by ſuch enqueſts, and which had nothing to loſe becauſe of their falſe Oaths, whereby they do the more lightly offend their conſciences: (8) And for amendment and correction thereof to be had, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that no perſon be admitted to paſs in any enqueſt, upon trial of the death of a man, nor in any enqueſt between party and party in plea real or perſonal, whereof the debt and the damages declared do amount to forty marks, except the ſame perſon have lands or tenements to the yearly value of forty ſhillings above all charges: (9) becauſe of which reſtraint and impeachment ſo made to divers Merchants aliens, many of the ſame Merchants aliens have withdrawn, and daily do withdraw them, and eſchew to come and be converſant on this ſide the Sea, and likely it is, that all the ſame Merchants aliens will depart out of the ſame Realm of England, if the ſaid laſt Statute be not more plainly declared, and the ſaid Merchants aliens ruled, governed, and demeaned in ſuch enqueſts according to the firſt Ordinance aforeſaid, to the great diminiſhing of the Kings Subſidies, and grievous loſs and damage of all his ſaid Realm of England. (10) Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, and how that it was not the meaning of the ſaid late King, nor of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of the ſaid Parliament, to hinder or prejudice the ſaid firſt Ordinance by the ſaid laſt Statute, (11) and that the ſaid laſt Statute was made in reſpect of the miſchiefs and diſheriſons that happened by the falſe Oaths of the common Jurors of the Realm of England, as it appeareth by expreſs words of the ſame Statute, and how that the ſaid Merchants aliens be not common Jurors, nor inhabiting within the ſaid Realm, nor may not purchaſe nor enjoy any lands or tenements in the ſame, without the Kings ſpecial licence: (12) and the ſame our Lord the King willing therein to provide for the weal and profit of him and all his Realm, and to eſchew the damages and inconveniences which may eaſily happen in this behalf, and alſo to give to the Merchants aliens the greater courage and deſire to come with their wares and merchandiſes into this Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, being in this preſent Parliament, hath declared the ſaid laſt Statute made in the time of his Father, to be in no wiſe prejudicial to the ſaid Ordinance, nor to extend it ſelf but only to the enqueſts to be taken betwixt Denizen and Denizen, and not to other enqueſts and proofs aforeſaid: (13) and the ſaid firſt Ordinance to be effectual and ſtand in force, and to be put in due execution according to the form of the ſame, notwithſtanding the ſaid laſt Statute, or that, that the aliens have no lands or tenements to the value of forty ſhillings by the year, according to the purport of the ſame laſt Statute and Ordinance.

St. 37 Ed. 3. 2. Raſt. pl. f. 407.

An Idemptitate nominis maintainable by the Executors of a teſtator wrongfully moleſted by colour of any outlawry.

ITem, For that before this time many Outlawries have been pronounced againſt divers of the Kings liege people, as well before the Statute of Additions made at Weſtminſter the firſt year of King Henry the fifth, Father to our Lord the King that now is, as ſithence, in reſpect of which outlawries, the bodies of other perſons having ſuch and like names, as they had which were outlawed indeed, have been taken and impriſoned, and their goods and chattels for this cauſe ſeiſed by the Eſcheators of the King and of his noble Progenitors: (2) And although that by the Common Law of the Realm, a Writ of Idemptitate nominis had been maintenable for the ſame perſon, which in the form aforeſaid was moleſted and grieved; nevertheleſs, if any perſon of the ſaid Lieges, having like name as any other perſon of the ſame liege people which was outlawed in deed, had made his executors, and died, often it happened, that by malice and ſubtil imaginations the goods and chattels of ſuch Teſtator which had the ſame name as he had which was outlawed in deed, were ſeiſed and eſcheated to the hands of our Lord the King and of his Progenitors, in retardation of the execution of the teſtament of every ſuch Teſtator, for the doubt which hath been, whether any Executors made by the Common Law have a Writ of Idemptitate nowinis or not. (3) Wherefore to take away and remove all ſuch ambiguities and doubts in this caſe hereafter, of the aſſent and advice aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority of this Parliament, That a Writ of Idemptitate nominis be granted and made good and maintainable for the executors of every Teſtator, to the ſame effect that the ſame action of Idemptitate nominis was maintainable before this Parliament for any perſon himſelf which was or might have been moleſted or grieved becauſe or by colour of any ſuch outlawry. (4) And that this Ordinance ſhall have relation and force by authority aforeſaid for the Executors of every Teſtator, as well of every outlawry pronounced againſt any perſon at any time before this Parliament, as of all manner of outlawries to be pronounced againſt any perſon in time to come. Proclamations before a Writ be awarded to the Biſhop to certifie Baſtardy.

Baſtardy 3.

ITem, Whereas by a ſupplication delivered in this preſent Parliament by the Commons of the ſame, it was declared by Margaret Dutcheſs of Clarence, Johan Dutcheſs of York, ſiſters, and amongſt other heirs to Edmund Earl of Kent, Richard Duke of York, Richard Earl of Saliſbury, and Alice his wife, Ralph Earl of Weſtmerland, John Lord of Typtoſt, and of Powes, and Joyce his wife, and Henry Gray, couſins, and other of the heirs of the ſaid Edmund late Earl, as in the ſame ſupplication is ſuppoſed, that is to ſay, the ſaid Duke, ſon to Anne daughter of Alianour, another of the ſiſters of the ſaid Edmund. The ſaid Alice daughter to Alianour, another ſiſter of the ſaid Edmund. The ſaid Ralph ſon to Elizabeth, another ſiſter of the ſaid Edmund. The ſaid Joyce daughter to the ſame Alianor, mother of Anne. And the ſaid Henry Gray, ſon to Johan daughter of the ſame Alianour, (2) that whereas Alianour, wife to James Lord of Audley, pretending, calling and affirming her ſelf daughter and heir to the ſaid Edmund late Earl of Kent, and begotten and born in marriage pretenced, had betwixt him and Conſtance late wife of Thomas Lord Diſpencer, where by the ſaid ſupplication it is ſuppoſed, that the ſaid Alianour, wife to the ſaid James, is Baſtard, and never was any marriage made, had or ſolemnized betwixt the ſaid Edmund and Conſtance, (3) but the ſaid Edmund (by the ordinance, will and agreement of King Henry the Fourth, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, after great, notable and long ambaſſage had and ſent to the Duke of Millain, for a marriage to be had betwixt the ſaid Edmund and Luce, ſiſter to the ſaid Duke of Millain) did take to wife, and openly and ſolemnly married the ſaid Luce at London. The ſaid Conſtance then living and being there preſent, not claiming the ſaid Edmund to her husband, nor any dower of his lands after his deceaſe, (4) which marriage betwixt the ſaid Edmund and Luce ſo had and ſolemnized, continued without any interruption of the ſaid Conſtance or of any other, during the life of the ſaid Edmund, as divers Lords and other credible and notable perſons of the ſaid Realm do well remember. And how after the deceaſe of the ſaid Edmund, the ſaid Luce was endowed of his lands, as his lawful wife, continuing thereof her eſtate peaceably all her life.

A ſecret practiſe to prove one mulier in the Spiritual Court that is a Baſtard.

II. Neverthele ſs, the ſaid Alianour, the wife of James, upon great ſubtilty, proceſs imagined, privy labour, and other means, and coloured ways, to the intent that ſhe ought to be certified mulier by ſome Ordinary, in caſe that Baſtardy ſhould be alledged in her perſon, hath brought (as it is ſaid) in examination before certain Judges in the ſpiritual Court, not informed nor having knowledge of the ſaid ſubtilty, imagined proceſs, privy labour, and coloured ways, certain ſuborned proofs and perſons of her aſſent and covin, depoſing for her, that the ſaid Alianour the wife of James, was begotten within marriage had and ſolemnized betwixt the ſaid Edmund and Conſtance. The ſaid Dutcheſs, the Duke of York, and Earl of Saliſbury, and Alice, Earl of Weſtmerland, John the Lord of Typtoſt, Joyce and Henry, nor any of them thereof warned, nor knowing until long time after the depoſition ſo made, whereof the ſaid ſuppliants do fear them to be grieved and impeached of their inheritance had by the ſaid Edmund, by another ſubtilty and labour in the Temporal Law, to be practiſed and wrought by the ſaid Lord of Audley and Alianour his wife. (2) As if they will commence any action againſt any perſons of their own aſſent and covin, or otherwiſe, will cauſe ſuch perſons of ſuch aſſent and covin to purſue an action againſt them (as it is ſuppoſed that they intend to do.) In which action by the covin and aſſent aforeſaid, Baſtardy ought to be alledged in the perſon of the ſaid Alianour, wife of James, and thereupon by the aſſent and covin an iſſue is to be taken, and a Writ to be ſent to ſome Ordinary (where it pleaſe them, not advertiſed of the ſaid ſubtilty, aſſent and covin) to certifie if the ſaid Alianour the wife of James be mulier or not, before which Ordinary the ſame Alianour, wife of James, will alledge and prove her ſelf mulier, by the ſaid depoſitions of the ſaid ſuborned witneſſes. And then the party reputed as adverſary againſt the Lord of Audley, and Alianour his wife, in the ſaid action taken or to be taken by aſſent and covin aforeſaid, will alledge no proof nor matter, nor make any defence before the ſaid Ordinary againſt the ſame Lord Audley, and Alianour his wife, but ſuffer the matter before the ſaid Ordinary to proceed according to the meaning of the ſaid Lord of Audley and Alianour his wife. So that it is very likely, that the ſame Ordinary will certifie the ſaid Alianour the wife of James mulier; (3) which certificate ſo had and made, ought by the Law of England to diſherit the ſaid Dutcheſſes, Duke of York, Earl of Saliſbury, Earl of Weſtmerland, John Lord of Typtoſt, Alice, Joyce and Henry, and their iſſue for ever, of the whole inheritance aforeſaid: (4) whereupon the premiſſes tenderly conſidered, and to eſchew ſuch ſubtil diſheriſons, as well in the ſaid caſe, as in other caſes like in time to come, by the advice and aſſent of all the Lords Spiritual, and alſo at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority of this Parliament, that if the ſaid Alianour the wife of James be certified mulier in any Court before this time, that no manner of certificate heretofore made for the ſaid Alianour wife of James, ſhall in any wiſe put to prejudice, indamage, nor conclude any perſon or perſons but him or his heirs that was party to the plea. (5) And from henceforth all Juſtices of or in the Courts where any plea is or ſhall be depending, taken or moved, in which pleas ſo depending, taken or moved, Baſtardy is or ſhall be alledged againſt any perſon party to the ſame plea, and thereupon an iſſue joyned, which by the Law ought to be certified by the Ordinary, that the Judges or one Judge of or in the Courts where the ſaid plea is or ſhall be depending, taken or moved, before the time that any Writ of certificate paſs out of the ſame Court to the Ordinary, to certifie upon the

(8) And that the Judges of or in the Court where the ſame plea is, or ſhall be depending, taken or moved, before any Proclamation ſo to be made in the Chancery, make one time ſuch Proclamation openly in the ſame Court, and alſo another time when the Proclamation ſhall be certified by the Chancellor of England, and made in the form above rehearſed: (9) and then the ſaid Judge ſhall award the ſaid Writ of Certificate to the Ordinary, to certifie upon the iſſue ſo joyned or to be joyned; (10) and if any Writ of Certificate be made or granted, before that all the Proclamations in the form aforeſaid be made and certified, that then the ſaid Writ of Certificate, and the Certificate of the Ordinary thereupon made or to be made, ſhall be void in Law, and of none effect: (11) and if any Writ before this time be directed to any Ordinary, to certifie if the ſaid Alianour, wife of James, be Baſtard or not, and at this time not certified, if it be certified hereafter by vertue of the ſaid Writ, that the ſame Certificate of the ſaid Ordinary ſo made, be void and of none effect. Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 10 H. 6. and Anno Dom. 1432.

OUR Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xlj day of May, the tenth year of his Reign, to the honour of God, and for the wealth of him and his Realm, and for the tranquillity and eaſe of his People, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath cauſed to be enacted and eſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

Recognizances taken before the Mayor, &c. of Calice, ſhall be effectual in England.

FIrſt, Whereas it is granted to the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple of Calice, by the Charter of the Kings noble Progenitors, and by him confirmed, that they ſhall have power to take and record all Recognizances of debts before them made by any perſon, and therefore great doubts were, if the Recognizances before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables made beyond the Sea, ſhould be effectual and executory in all points within the Realm of England, as the Recognizances made before the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple of Weſtminſter be: (2) Our Lord the King willing in this caſe to take away all ſuch doubts, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that all the Recognizances of debts before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables of Calice, made or to be made by any perſons beyond the Sea, ſhall be as effectual and executory, and of ſuch force in all points within the Realm, and in the ſame form executory, as the ſaid Recognizances made before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple of Weſtminſter, or before any other Mayors or Conſtables of the Staple within the ſaid Realm be.

Staple, Raſt. 35. Recognizances taken before the Mayor of the Staple of Calice ſhall be effectual within England.

CAP. II.

Certain things required in him which ſhall be a Chuſer of the Knights of the Parliament.

ITem, Whereas at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the morrow of St. Matthew the Apoſtle, the viij year of the King that now is, it was ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that the Knights of all Counties within the Realm of England to be choſen to come to the Parliaments hereafter to be holden, ſhould be choſen in every County by people dwelling and reſiant in the ſame, whereof every one ſhall have freehold to the value of forty ſhillings by year at the leaſt, above all charges, upon a certain pain contained in the ſame Statute: (2) not making expreſs mention in the ſame, that every man that ſhall be chuſer of any ſuch Knights, ſhall have freehold to the value of forty ſhillings at the leaſt, above all charges, within the ſame County where ſuch chuſer with other like ſhall make ſuch election, or elſewhere. (3) And therefore our Lord the King willing to make plain declaration of the ſaid Statute, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained, that the Knights of all Counties within the ſaid Realm to be choſen to come to Parliaments hereafter to be holden, ſhall be choſen in every County by people dwelling and reſiant in the ſame, whereof every man ſhall have freehold to the value of xl s. by the year at the leaſt, above all charges, within the ſame County where any ſuch chuſer will meddle of any ſuch election. (3) And there he ſhall be ſworn upon a Book, that he is the ſame perſon in whoſe name the ſaid ſuit is ſued, or that ſome other credible perſon of the Kings Council make ſuch Oath for him. What Proceſs ſhall be awarded upon an Indictment removed into the Kings Bench.

Indictments 4. St. 8 H. 6. 10.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the eighth year of the King that now is, it was ordained, that upon every indictment or appeal, by the which any of the Kings liege people, dwelling in other foreign and divers Counties then where ſuch indictment or appeal is or ſhall be taken of treaſon, felony or treſpaſs, to be taken hereafter before Juſtices of Peace, or before any other Juſtice whatſoever, having power to take ſuch indictments or appeals, or other Commiſſioners or Juſtices in any County, Franchiſe or Liberty of England, before any Exigent awarded upon any indictment or appeal in the form foreſaid to be taken, that preſently after the firſt Writ of Capias upon every ſuch indictment or appeal awarded and returned, that another Writ of Capias ſhall be awarded, directed to the Sheriff of the County where he that is ſo indicted or appealed is or was ſuppoſed to be converſant by the ſame indictment or appeal, returnable before the ſame Juſtices or Commiſſioners before whom he is indicted or repealed, at a certain day containing the ſpace of three months, from the date of the ſame Writ and the return of the ſame, as by the ſame Statute plainly appeareth: (2) by which clauſe of the ſame Statute, that is to ſay, returnable before the ſame Juſtices or Commiſſioners before whom he is indicted or appealed, ſome do think that the Writ of Capias ordained by the ſaid Statute, which ſhall be directed to the Sheriff, whereof he that is ſo indicted or appealed, is or was ſuppoſed to be converſant by the ſame indictment or appeal, ſhall be returned before the ſame Juſtices or Commiſſioners, or other, before whom the indictment or appeal was taken, and not elſewhere. (3) And imagining to defraud and make fruſtrate the ſaid Statute, do ſue to remove ſuch indictments and appeals out of the hands of the Juſtices or Commiſſioners aforeſaid into the Kings Bench and elſewhere, by Certiorari and otherwiſe, unknown to the party ſo indicted, and thereupon ſue the proceſs uſed at the Common Law before the making of the ſaid Statute in the Kings Bench and elſewhere, after the removing, to the great impoveriſhing and vexation of the Kings faithful ſubjects: (4) wherefore the ſame our Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, by authority aforeſaid, hath ordained that the ſaid Statute be holden and kept, and put in due execution in all points: (5) Joyned to the ſame, that if any ſuch indictments, taken or to be taken before any Juſtices of Peace, or before any other having power to take ſuch indictments or appeals, or other Juſtices or Commiſſioners in any County, Franchiſe or Liberty of England, ſhall be removed before the King in his Bench or elſewhere, by Certiorari or otherwiſe, then after ſuch removing, before any Exigent awarded upon any ſuch indictment or appeal in the form aforeſaid taken, or to be taken, that preſently after the firſt Writ of Capias upon every ſuch indictment or appeal awarded and returned, that another Writ of Capias be awarded, directed to the Sheriff of the County, whereof he that is ſo indicted or repealed, is or was ſuppoſed to be converſant by the ſame indictment or appeal returnable before the King in his Bench at a certain day, containing the ſpace of three months or four, from the date of the ſaid laſt Writ of Capias, according to the manner and form that the Juſtices of Peace, and other in the ſaid firſt Statute contained, ought to have done before ſuch removing after the making of the ſaid firſt Statute. (6) And if any ſuch Exigent be hereafter awarded upon any ſuch indictment or appeal after ſuch removing againſt the form aforeſaid, or any outlawry thereupon pronounced, as well the ſame Exigent ſo awarded as the Outlawry thereupon to be pronounced, and every of them ſhall be holden for none, and void, according as in the ſaid firſt Statute is more fully contained.

CAP. II.

The penalty where a Sheriff is named a Diſſeiſor in an Aſſiſe.

Aſſiſe 9.

ITem, Whereas ſeveral perſons do often ſue Aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin before Juſtices aſſigned againſt divers perſons, and by craft and colluſion, to have their Writs of their ſaid Aſſiſes directed to the Coroners of the Counties where the Tenements be, to make execution of the ſaid Writs, do name in their ſaid Aſſiſes the Sheriff of the ſame County one of the diſſeiſors, where he is not, neither ever was diſſeiſor or tenant of the tenements in demand, whereby oftentimes the ſaid Aſſiſes be awarded by the default of the tenants which have no knowledge of thoſe Aſſiſes, for that they found not any Aſſiſe againſt them in the file of the Sheriff, nor have any ſuſpection of any ſuch Aſſiſe taken againſt the Sheriff and them: (2) Our Lord the King, willing in this caſe to provide remedy, of the aſſent and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained, that in all ſuch Aſſiſes purchaſed, at this time depending, or hereafter to be purchaſed between any perſons whatſoever they be, before any ſuch Juſtices, in which Aſſiſes any ſuch Sheriff is named Diſſeiſor, if the tenants in the ſaid Aſſiſes or any of them will averre, that the ſaid Sheriff is not nor ever was diſſeiſor nor tenant of the tenements in demand, but was named diſſeiſor by colluſion, the averment ſhall be received. (3) And if it be found by the ſaid Aſſiſe, that the ſaid Sheriff is not nor ever was diſſeiſor nor tenant of the tenements in demand, but was named diſſeiſor by colluſion, then the ſaid Juſtices ſhall cauſe to be abated and quaſhed the ſaid Writ purchaſed or to be purchaſed in the form aboveſaid: (4) And that the plaintiff or plaintiffs be in the grievous mercy of the King.

An Aſſiſe, &c. maintainable againſt the Pernor of the Profits.

ITem, Whereas by a Statute made the fourth year of the Reign of King Henry, Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, amongſt other things it was ordained, that the diſſeiſees ſhall have their actions againſt the diſſeiſors during the lives of the diſſeiſors, ſo that ſuch diſſeiſors thereof take the profits at the times of the ſuit commenced, as in the ſame Statute is contained more at large; the which Statute according to the opinion of many hath been intended in Writs of Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin only, and as great miſchief it is to the parties demandants in other Writs ſued and grounded upon Novel diſſeiſin, as in Aſſiſe: Wherefore our Lord the King, willing all manner of opinions and doubts in that behalf to ceaſe, hath ordained by the aſſent and authority aforeſaid, that in all manner of Writs grounded upon Novel diſſeiſin, the diſſeiſees ſhall have their recoveries, if they will, by ſuch Writs againſt the diſſeiſors of their feoffees, as well as they ſhall have in Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, ſo that the ſame diſſeiſors or their feoffees, againſt whom the Writ ſhall be brought, thereof take the profits at the time of the Writ purchaſed, notwithſtanding any gifts or feoffments made to other perſons for to delay the demandants. CAP. IV.

The Plaintiffs in Attaint ſhall recover their Coſts and Damages.

ITem, Our Lord the King, by the grievous complaint of his Commons, conſidering the miſchiefs had within the Realm, and yet not remedied, and alſo the great damage and diſheriſon that cometh by the uſual perjury of Jurors, empanelled upon Enqueſts, as well in the Courts of our Lord the King, as of other, the which perjury doth abound and increaſe daily more then it was wont, for the great gifts that ſuch Jurors take of the parties in pleas ſued in the ſaid Courts: (2) wherefore the greater part of people that have to ſue in the ſaid Courts, leave their ſuits for the miſchiefs aforeſaid, and namely in reſpect of the delays that be in the Writs of Attaints: for that in times paſt in Writs of Attaints, when the Grand Jury had appeared in Court, and were ready to paſs, one of the tenants or defendants, or of the pety Jurors named in ſuch Writs, ſometime have pleaded falſe and faint pleas, which were not triable by the Grand Jury of the attaint, and by that means delayed the taking of ſuch grand Juries until ſuch pleas were tried: and after ſuch pleas tried and found for the plaintiff, another of the Jurors tenants or defendants might plead another ſuch falſe and faint plea after the laſt continuance in the ſame attaints, and ſo every of the defendants, Jurors, or tenants after other, might plead ſuch falſe and faint plea, and delay the Grand Jury when it was ready to paſs: (3) and though that all ſuch falſe and faint pleas were found againſt them which pleaded, no pain was given them by the Common Law: (4) In regard of which delays, the grand Juries in attaints have been often grievouſly vexed and travelled, and the plaintiffs in ſuch attaints put to ſo great coſts, and thereby impoveriſhed, that they could not proſecute their ſaid ſuits, wherefore the Jurors be the more encouraged to be perjured, and to make their falſe Oaths in ſuch caſes: (5) Our ſaid Lord the King, willing thereof to provide remedy, at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, and by the aſſent of the Lords abovesaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the parties plaintiffs in all ſuch attaints ſhall recover their damages and coſts againſt all ſuch tenants, Jurors and defendants, which they have ſuſtained in that behalf, and that this Statute extend as well to Writs of Attaints now hanging, as to Writs of Attaints to be purchaſed hereafter.

The remedy where a Tenant granteth over his Eſtate, taketh the Profits, and committeth Waſte.

ITem, Becauſe that divers people in times paſt have let their Lands and Tenements to divers perſons, that is to ſay, ſome for term of life or of another mans life, and ſome for term of years, the ſaid tenants have oftentimes let and granted their eſtate which they had in the ſame lands and tenements, to many perſons, to the intent that they in the reverſion, that is to ſay, their Leſſors, their Heirs or their Aſſigns, might not have knowledge of their names, and after the ſaid firſt Tenants continually occupy the ſaid Lands and Tenements, and thereof take the profits to their proper uſe, and in the ſaid Lands and Tenements commit waſte and deſtruction, to the diſheritance of them in the reverſion: (2) It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that they in the reverſion in ſuch caſe may have and maintain a Writ of Waſte againſt the ſaid Tenants for term of life, of anothers life, or for years, and ſo recover againſt them the place waſted, and their treble damages, for the waſte by them done, as they ought to have done for the waſte committed by them before the ſaid grant and leaſe of their Eſtate. ITem, Our Lord the King conſidering the great loſſes and damages which oftentimes have come and be likely to come hereafter, as well to himſelf as to many of his Lieges, for that where as well divers Indictments and Suits for our Lord the King, as other Suits between party and party have been taken before divers Juſtices of the Peace, aſſigned by ſeveral Commiſſions of our ſaid Lord the King in divers Counties of England, and divers Pleas and Proceſſes upon thoſe Indictments have often been made, and hanging before the ſame Juſtices not determined, the which Pleas and Proceſſes have been often diſcontinued by making of new Commiſſions of the Peace in thoſe Counties, to the great loſs of our ſaid Lord the King, and of his Subjects, in delay of the ſame Pleas and Suits, and of the deliverance of his ſaid Subjects: (2) And upon that, our Lord the King willing to provide remedy, of the aſſent and authority abovesaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That in all ſuch Pleas, Suits and Proceſſes, in them to be taken and to be made before Juſtices of the Peace in any County of England, the ſaid Pleas and Proceſſes in ſuch Suits to be done ſhall not be diſcontinued by ſuch new Commiſſions of the Peace to be made: but thoſe Pleas and Proceſſes ſhall ſtand in their force. (3) And the Juſtices in the ſame new Commiſſions ſo aſſigned, after that they ſhall have the Records of the ſame Pleas and Proceſſes before them, ſhall have power and authority to continue the ſaid Pleas and Proceſſes; and the ſame Pleas and Proceſſes, and all that depend upon them, to hear and finally to determine, as the other Juſtices might and ought to have done, of and in the ſame, if no new Commiſſion had been made.

CAP. IX.

Of what length and breadth Clothes called Streits ſhall be.

ITem, Whereas in a Statute made the ſeventeenth year of King Richard the ſecond after the Conqueſt, it was ordained, That every man of the Realm might make and ſet to ſale and ſell Clothes, as well Kerſies as other, of ſuch length and breadth as him pleaſed, paying the aulnage, ſubſidy, and other devoirs, that is to ſay, of every piece of Cloth after the rate, notwithſtanding any Statute, Ordinance, Proclamation, Reſtraint or Defence made to the contrary, (2) and that none ſell nor put to ſale any Clothes before they be meaſured by the Kings Aulneger, and enſealed with the Seal thereunto ordained, upon pain contained in the Statutes thereof made, (3) and after in the Stat. made in the ſeventh year of King Henry the fourth, Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, it was alſo ordained, That the Cloth of colour ſhould contain in length eight and twenty Yards meaſured by the Back, and in breadth ſix quarters and a half; (4) and if the Cloth-makers ſhould make their Clothes of leſs length or breadth, they ſhould be forfeit to the King. (5) And after by another Statute made in the eleventh year of the ſaid King Henry the fourth, it was ordained, that Proclamation ſhould be made openly through the Realm, that no perſon making ſuch manner of Clothes or Doſins within the Realm, ſhould be ſo hardy to tack and fold together ſuch manner of Clothes before that the Aulneger hath made his ſearch and ſurveying duly to the ſame Clothes, that they hold their length and breadth, ordained by the ſaid laſt Statute made the ſaid ſeventh year, as in the ſame Statute is more fully contained. (6) Upon which Statutes made in the time of the ſaid King Henry the fourth, divers opinions have been holden in the Kings Exchequer, as the ſame our Lord the King hath conceived by the complaint of the Commons of his Realm: (7) Our Lord the King willing to repreſs ſuch opinions, of the aſſent and authority aboveſaid, hath declared, That this word (Cloth) in the ſaid Statutes before rehearſed, ſhall have relation, and ſhall be underſtood of whole Cloth called Broad Clothes and Broad Doſins, and not of other Clothes and Pieces of Clothes called Streits, now made, or to be made. (8) And moreover hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That every man may make, ſet to ſale, and ſell all manner of Clothes called Streits, containing in length fourteen Yards, and in the breadth one Yard unwatered, or elſe twelve Yards watered, without impeachment of any Officer of the Kings, paying to the King the Aulnage, Subſidies, Cuſtoms and other Devoirs, that is to ſay, of every Cloth, and of every Piece of Cloth, after the rate contained in the ſaid Statutes. (9) And if the makers of the ſaid Clothes called Streits, make any Clothes to ſell of leſs length and breadth then next above declared, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Aulneger to cut off the Liſt at the one end of all ſuch Streit Clothes, not containing the ſaid length, and the ſame to be ſold for a Remnant for a Piece, and not for a Cloth: (10) And that no ſuch Clothes be put to ſale until the Aulneger hath meaſured them, made his ſearch, and put to them the Kings Seal thereto ordained, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame. (11) And if any Aulneger enſeal any ſuch Clothes called Streits, not containing the length and breadth of the Streits aboveſaid, and cut not off the Liſt of all ſuch Clothes that do not hold the ſaid length and breadth of the Streits, that then the ſaid Aulneger ſhall pay to the King for every Piece of Cloth ſo found defective, ſix ſhillings eight pence; (12) except always that all Clothes called Streits, made or to be made, until the day of the Nativity of St. John the Baptiſt next coming, ſhall have Licence to be ſold and delivered until the Feaſt of Chriſtmas then next enſuing, of whatſoever length or breadth they be. He ſhall find Sureties, &c. that ſueth to defeat an Execution upon a Statute.

ITem, Becauſe divers perſons within this Realm in time paſt often have been taken and arreſted by divers Sheriffs and other Officers of the King, by Writs as well going out of the Chancery of the King, as of his Progenitors, to have Execution of divers Recognizances made before the Mayors of the Staple, of divers Sums, of which Sums ſuch perſons to whom the duty belonged, had no convenient remedy, other then the ſaid Executions; (2) which perſons ſo taken and arreſted for execution of the ſame Recognizances, be oftentimes brought by divers Writs De corpus cum cauſa before the King in his Chancery, out of Priſons ſons in the which they be ſo kept by force of ſuch Executions, and there they do Sue, ſhewing forth divers Indentures and other things in defeſance of ſuch Recogniſances, deſiring Writs of Scire facias to warn the party or parties at whoſe Suit they be taken and arreſted, to anſwer thereunto; (3) And thereupon by ſurety found to the King in the Chancery, have been delivered out of Priſon, notwithſtanding their ſaid Arreſt for the Execution of ſuch Recognizances, as above is ſaid, ne Surety found to the Recognizees to whom they be ſo bound to ſatisfie them of their duties, in caſe that the matters compriſed within the ſaid Writs of Scire facias, be not found nor adjudged for the Recognizors thereby bound, (4) whereby the ſaid Recognizees have been ſometime greatly delayed of their Execution, and ſometime their Execution utterly loſt, and in time to come likely to be loſt, for that no advantage nor avail thereof might come, be, or accrue to the ſaid Recognizees to whom ſuch perſons be ſo bound by the ſaid Surety ſo found to the King, ſeeing the ſame perſon ſo bound, may by the Kings Pardon be acquit and diſcharged for ever. (5) Our Lord the King conſidering that the ſaid Recogniſees to whom perſons be bound are oftentimes without remedy, if ſo be that the ſaid Recognizors would not purſue forth their ſaid Writs of Scire facias, with effect, or otherwiſe, that the matters of their ſaid Writs of Scire facias be found or adjudged againſt them, and thereupon they withdraw them to places priviledged, or eloign them out of the Realm, or elſe they would not appear, ſo that their Bodies might be put in Execution, to the great hinderance and undoing of ſuch Recognizees in time to come, (6) and alſo becauſe that the King is inherited of the taking of ſuch Sureties to himſelf by the courſe of the Chancery: (7) The King doth will that from henceforth ſuch Sureties be made as well to the King as to the party.

He ſhall find ſurety to the King and to the party that ſueth to defeat an execution upon a Statute ſtaple. Fitz. N. B. f. 105. Lanr. 79.

The puniſhment of ſuch as do make aſſault upon any that come to the Parliament, or &c.

ITem, The King willing to provide for the eaſe and tranquility of them that come to the Parliaments and Councils of the King by his Commandment, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That if any aſſault or affray be made to any Lord, Spiritual or Temporal, Knight of the Shire, Citizen or Burgeſs, come to the Parliament, or to other Council of the King by his Commandment, and there being and attending at the Parliament or Council, that then Proclamation ſhall be made in the moſt open place of the Town by three ſeveral days, where the aſſault or affray ſhall be made, that the party that made ſuch affray or aſſault, yield himſelf before the King in his Bench, within a quarter of a year after the Proclamation made, if it be in the time of the Term, or otherwiſe at the next day in the time of the Term following the ſaid quarter; (2) and if he do not, that he be attainted of the ſaid deed, and pay to the party grieved his double damages, to be taxed by the diſcretion of the Juſtices of the ſame Bench for the time being, or by Inqueſt if it be needful, and make Fine and Ranſom at the Kings will: (3) And if he come and be found guilty by Inqueſt, by Examination, or otherwiſe, of ſuch affray or aſſault, then he ſhall pay to the party ſo grieved his double damages found by the Inqueſt, or to be taxed by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, and make Fine and Ranſom at the Kings will, as above is ſaid, St. 5 H. 4. 6.

How much Waxchandlers may take for the work of a pound of Wax more then the Wax is worth.

Juſtices of Peace Mayors chief Officers and Stewards may examine and puniſh offendors.

ITem, Our ſaid Lord the King hath conceived by the complaint of the ſaid Commons, That the Wax-chandlers in divers parts of England, ſell Candles, Images and Figures, and other works of Wax made for Offerings, after the rate of a pound of Wax for ij s. and more where one pound of Wax is no more worth then vj d. whereby they gain in every pound of Wax ſo wrought xviij d. and more, by which means divers of the people be defrauded of their good intent and devotion, ſuppoſing ſuch Candles, Images and Figures, and other works to be of reaſonable value, according as they pay for the ſame, where they be of none or little value: (2) And therefore our Lord the King, willing for ſuch deceit to provide remedy convenient, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That no perſon ſhall ſell, nor put to ſale any ſuch Candles, Images, Figures and other works of Wax, at more higher price, but only after the rate of the price of iij d. more in the weight of a pound over that the common price of a pound of plain Wax is between Merchant and Merchant at the time of ſuch ſale or putting to ſale, upon pain to forfeit ſuch Candles, Images, Figures, and other works of Wax ſo put to ſale, and the value of them that ſhall be ſold againſt the form of this Statute, and to make a Fine to the King, if they be thereof duly attainted, or that it be found by examination, or due ſearch by Weights, or in other manner, that they have ſold or put to ſale any ſuch Candles, Images, Figures, or other works of Wax againſt the form of this Statute. (3) And that the Juſtices of Peace in every County where they be Juſtices, ſhall have power to enquire, hear and determine all things done againſt this Statute: (4) And that as well every Juſtice of Peace in the County where he is Juſtice, as Mayors and Bailiffs within the Cities and Boroughs, Stewards of Lords within the Franchiſes of their Lords, ſhall have power and authority to examine and ſearch as well by Weights of ſuch Candles, Images, Figures, and other works of Wax, as in other manner by their diſcretion, all them that any thing ſhall hereafter do againſt this Statute, and to puniſh them that by ſuch examination or ſearch ſhall be found guilty in the form abovſaid. A Cuſtomer ſhall diſcharge the Merchant that hath payed his Cuſtom.

ITem, For that our Lord the King by a Petition to him delivered in the ſame Parliament, by the Commons of the ſame, for the Merchants of the Realm, hath perceived, that ſeeing the Cuſtomers and Controulers in the Kings Ports do not write any Warrants in diſcharge of the ſaid Merchants of their Merchandiſes by them ſhewed and duly cuſtomed, ſome as well coming into the Realm, as paſſing out of the ſame, the ſame Cuſtomers and Controulers do imbeſil the Kings Cuſtoms, and the Merchants be greatly hindred, becauſe that the Warrants might plainly ſhew and declare their due Cuſtom, when they be unduly impeached in the Kings Exchequer: (2) The ſame our Lord the King conſidering the ſaid Deceits, by the advice, aſſent and authority aboveſaid hath ordained, That the ſaid Cuſtomers and Controulers ſhall write and deliver ſufficient Warrants, ſealed with the Seal of their Office to that ordained, to the ſaid Merchants and to every of them, for all and every of their Merchandiſes every time by them to the Cuſtomers and Controulers duly ſhewed. (3) And that the ſaid Merchants, nor any of them, ſhall any thing pay for the Warrants, but only their due Cuſtom: (4) And in caſe that any Cuſtomer or Controuler in any of the ſaid Ports, do the contrary, that then every Merchant ſo grieved may have an Action by vertue of this Ordinance, to purſue againſt every Cuſtomer or Controuler that doth the contrary, in every Court of Record: (5) And then every Cuſtomer or Controuler ſo attainted ſhall forfeit to the King for every default ten pound, and to the Merchant thereby grieved that will Sue, a hundred ſhillings.

Where the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of Cumberland ſhall hold their Seſſions.

ITem, Whereas by a Statute made in the time of King Richard the ſecond, it was ordained, That the Juſtices aſſigned and to be aſſigned to take Aſſiſes and deliver Gaols, ſhall hold their Seſſions in the principal and chief Towns of every County, that is to ſay, where the Shire-Courts of the Counties heretofore were, and hereafter ſhall be holden: (2) Our Lord the King, willing the ſame Statute to be obſerved and kept in the County of Cumberland, conſidering that the City of Carlile is the principal and chief City and Town of the ſaid County, and in the which the Shire-Court of the ſame County hath been holden before this time, hath granted and ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that the Seſſion of the Juſtices to take Aſſiſes and to deliver Gaols in the County of Cumberland, be holden in time of Peace and of Truce in the ſaid City of Carlile, and in none other place within the ſame County, as it hath been uſed and accuſtomed of old time.

Juſt. of Aſſiſe 7. St. 6 R. 2. 5.

The Juſtices of Aſſiſe, &c. of the county of Cumberland, ſhall hold their Seſſions at Carlile.

CAP. IV.

The Juſtices of Peace of Middleſex ſhall keep their Seſſions but twice in the year.

ITem, Whereas it was ordained by a Statute, That the Juſtices of Peace of all the Counties of England for the time being, ſhould ſit and hold their Seſſions four times by year, to inquire and execute all charges contained in their Commiſſion, which they be ſworn to do according to the form of the ſaid Statute upon a great pain, as by the ſame Statute more fully appeareth: (2) Our Lord the King, conſidering that all the high Courts be ſet and holden in the County of Middleſex, continually during all the four times of the Term, by which time of term the Commons inhabiting in and of the ſame County, muſt attend from time to time to inquire of all the Articles to the ſaid Courts belonging, as reaſon and Law requireth, and that preſently after every of the ſaid Terms ended, the ſaid Juſtices of the ſaid County do ſit and hold their Seſſions in the ſame County, as they ought to do by force of the ſaid Statute, more to avoid the ſame penalty then for any other neceſſary thing there to be inquired, at which Seſſions they cauſe to come before them a great part of the Inhabitants and Commons of the ſaid County of Middleſex, to inquire of all manner of things as to them is given in charge; And by that means they be charged and vexed throughout all the year, as well out of the time of Term, as in time of the Term, ſo that they have no reſt nor time to do their husbandry and their labour to get their living in any wiſe, to their utter undoing if they be not relieved in this behalf: (3) Therefore the ſame our Lord the King willing in this caſe to provide for them a remedy, hath ordained by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons of the Realm, That the Juſtices of Peace which now be, and all other hereafter for the time being, in the ſaid County of Middleſex, ſhall be clearly diſcharged of the ſaid penalty by authority of the ſame Parliament from henceforth, the Court of the Kings Bench being ſet in the ſaid County of Middleſex. (4) Provided always, That the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid County of Middleſex for the time being, keep, obſerve and execute the Court of the Seſſions of the Peace, two times in the year at the leaſt, and more often if need be, for any riot or forcible entry made within the ſame County of Middleſex, and that upon the pain and forfeiture of ſuch Sums as be for that ordained by any Law made before this time, to the end and intent that the ſaid Commons and Inhabitants of the ſaid County of Middleſex be not inforced nor compelled to appear before the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County for the time being, but at ſuch time which ſhall ſeem by the diſcretions of the ſame Juſtices of Peace neceſſary and behoofful.

The Juſtices of Peace in Middleſex ſhall keep their Seſſions but twice in the year, ſaving to inquire of riots or forcible entries.

CAP. V.

All Merchandiſes ſhipped in Creeks, ſhall be forfeited to the King, &c.

Wools, Raſt. 30.

ITem, It was ſhewed to our Lord the King, by the Commons of the ſame Parliament, That as well becauſe of undue ſearch made in the Ports and Creeks within the Realm upon divers perſons, which by ſubtil imaginations and means do ſhip Wool and Woolfels, and ſeveral other Merchandiſes which ought to repair to the Staple of Calice, and them carry and convey to divers other parts beyond the Sea, without paying Cuſtom, againſt the tenor of the Statutes thereof made and ordained, by the which means the Cuſtoms and Subſidies granted to the King be greatly impaired and decayed: (2) It was ordained by the King and all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eleventh year of our Lord the King that now is, that none, upon pain of felony, ſhould carry nor ſhip any ſuch Merchandiſes in the Staple in the Creeks within the ſaid Realm againſt the Ordinance aforeſaid: (3) nevertheleſs, divers perſons having no fear of the ſaid Statute, cuſtomably ſhip as well in the Ports as in the Creeks aforeſaid, by undue means, great value of Wools, Woolfels, and of other Merchandiſes of the Staple, and them carry into Flanders, Holland, Zealand, Brabant and Normandy, without paying any Cuſtom for the ſame; (4) And moreover, divers perſons do ſhip cuſtomably Wools and Woolfels, in divers parts of the Realm of England, which be Cocketted and accuſtomed to go to Calice, and come not there, but the ſame Wools and Woolfels carry into other parts aforeſaid, contrary to the Statute thereof ordained, by the which untrue means the King is greatly endamaged and defrauded of his Cuſtoms and Subſidies, and the ſaid Staple within ſhort time in point to be clearly deſtroyed, the Town of Calice impoveriſhed and decayed, and the Realm not increaſed: (5) Our Lord the King conſidering the Premiſſes, hath ordained by the Statute aforeſaid, That all the Wools and Woolfels, and all other Merchandiſes which by Statute ought to repair to the ſaid Staple, found in any Creeks, ſhipped contrary to the ſaid Statute and Ordinance, ſhall be forfeit to our Lord the King: (6) And moreover, that every perſon whatſoever he be, which at any time ſhall ſhip or cauſe to be ſhipped any manner of Wools, Woolfels, and other Merchandiſes to go to the Staple aforeſaid, and come not there, ſhall forfeit as much Goods as the Wools, Woolfels, and other Merchandiſes by them ſo ſhipped and carried to other places then to Calice do amount, by extent after the very value, (except the Merchandiſes which be to be excepted to paſs by the Kings Licence to other places.) Reſerved always to the King the whole moiety of ſuch Forfeitures, which be Cocketted and accuſtomed to go to Calice, and come not there, as afore is ſaid; and to them which find and ſeiſe the Merchandiſes, the other moiety, without any diminution or abatement. (7) And if any perſon take any Wools, Woolfels, or any other Merchandiſe of the Staple, in any ſuſpicious place adjoyning to the Water-ſide, in whatſoever place that it be, and no Indenture thereof made betwixt him and the Mayor, Bailiff or Conſtable of the Town in the which ſuch Wools, Woolfels, and other Merchandiſes of the Staple, be ſo layed, that then the ſame Wools, Woolfels, and Merchandiſes be forfeit; (8) And that the King have one moiety of all ſuch Forfeitures, and the Lords of the Town where ſuch Merchandiſes be ſo layed, and he which them find and ſeiſe, the other moiety to be equally divided betwixt them. (9) And every man ſhall have power by authority aforeſaid to make ſearch in every place for ſuch Goods of the Staple ſo carried or ſhipped, or laid to be ſhipped, as afore is ſaid, without impediment or diſturbance of any perſon. St. 11 H. 6. 14.

All Merchandiſes of the Staple ſhipped in Creeks, ſhall be forfeited to the King.

Merchandiſes laid in ſecret places by the water-ſide to be tranſported.

Victuals 2. St. 6 R. 2. 10.

ITem, Our Lord the King is informed by the ſaid Commons, how in the Statute made the vi year of King Richard the Second, late King of England, it was ordained and accorded, That every foreign and alien, being of the Amity of our Lord the King, and of the Realm, and coming within the City of London, and other Cities, Boroughs and Towns within the ſaid Realm of England, as well within Franchiſes as without, with Fiſh and other Victuals whatſoever, there abiding and returning, ſhould be from thenceforth under the ſafeguard and ſpecial protection of our Lord the King, and that it ſhould be lawful to them and to every of them, that they might cut Fiſh and Victuals aforeſaid by pieces, and to tail and retail them in part, and in whole, or in groſs, as they ſhall think beſt to ſell and make their profit, without impeachment or contradiction of any, notwithſtanding any Statutes, Charters, Ordinances, Priviledges or Cuſtoms made or had to the contrary: (2) And thereupon by a Statute made the firſt year of King Henry the Fourth, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Statute and Ordinance, made the ſaid vi year, ſhould be firmly holden and kept, and duly executed

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 18 Hen. 6. and Anno Domini, 1439.

OUR Lord King Henry the ſixth after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the morrow after S. Martin in Winter, the twelfth day of November, the eighteenth year of his Reign, to the honour of God, and for the weal of him and of his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath made, ordained and ſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

Letters Patents ſhall bear the date of the Kings Warrant delivered into the Chancery.

FIrſt, Whereas by ſuit made to the King by divers perſons it hath been deſired by their petitions, to have offices, ferms, and other things of the gift and grant of the King by his gracious Letters Patents thereof to them to be made, deſiring by the ſame Petitions the ſame Letters Patents of the King to bear date at a certain day limited in the ſame, the which day is often long before the Kings grant to them thereupon made, have born the ſame date; by reaſon whereof, divers of the Kings liege people having ſuch Offices, Ferms, and other things of the gift or grant of the King, by his gracious Letters Patents thereof to them long time before duly made, by ſuch ſubtil imagination of ſuch antedates deſired by ſuch Petition, of ſuch Offices, Ferms, and other things, often have been out, amoved and expelled, againſt right, good conſcience, and reaſon: (2) Our ſaid Lord the King, willing to put out ſuch imaginations, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that of every Warrant hereafter ſent by the ſame our Lord the King or his Heirs to the Chancellor of England for the time being, the day of the delivery of the ſame to the Chancellor ſhall be entred of Record in the Chancery. (3) And that the Chancellor do cauſe Letters Patents to be made upon the ſame Warrant, bearing date the day of the ſaid delivery in the Chancery, and not before in any wiſe. (4) And if any Letters Patents be from henceforth made to the contrary, they ſhall be void, fruſtrate, and holden for none.

Patents, 1.

The Kings Letters Patents ſhall bear date the day of the Kings warrant into the Chancery delivered.

CAP. II.

They which have Gavel-kind Lands to the yearly value of twenty pound, may be returned in Attaints.

ITem, Where in the Parliament of our Lord the King, holden at Weſtminſter the fifteenth year of his reign, among other Articles it was ordained, that no Sheriff, Bailiff of Franchiſe, nor Coroner, in Action or Writs of Attaint of Plea of Land of the yearly value of xl s. or more, nor in Action of Attaint of Deeds concerning Lands and Tenements of the yearly value of xl s. and more, nor in perſonal action, whereof the Judgment of the recovery extends to xl li. or more, ſhould return or impanel in any inquiſition or enqueſt, any perſons but them that be inhabiting within his Bailwick, which have eſtate to their uſe, or they to whom other perſons have eſtate of Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or Freehold, in Lands and Tenements of the yearly value of xx li. or more, within his Balliwick, out of the ancient demean, five Ports, and the tenure of Gavelkind: (2) In reſpect of which Ordinance, ſeeing within the County of Kent there be but xxx or xl perſons at the moſt, which have any Lands or Tenements out of the tenure of Gavelkind, becauſe the greater part of the ſaid County, or well nigh all, is of the tenure of Gavelkind, which perſons be continually impanelled and returned in the ſaid Actions, to the great hindrance and impoveriſhment of the ſame perſons: (3) Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the Premiſſes, hath granted, ordained and ſtabliſhed by authority aforeſaid, that thoſe men which have eſtate to their uſe, and alſo they to whoſe uſe other men have eſtate of Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or Free-hold in Lands and Tenements of the yearly value of xx li. of the tenure of Gavelkind, ſhall be returned and impanelled in all ſuch Attaints as be above recited, which Attaints be not now depending, but may depend in time to come, in the ſame manner and form as any other perſon may be returned and impanelled by force of the ſaid Statute made the ſaid xv.

Attaint, Raſt. 12. St. 15 H. 6. 5.

They which have Gavelkind lands to the yearly value of xx li. may be impanelled upon attaints notwithſtanding the Statute of 15 H. 6. 5. St. 23 H. 8. 3.

CAP. III.

Butter and Cheeſe may be tranſported without licence.

Butter, Raſt. 2: St. 21 R. 2. 17.

St. 3 H. 6. 4. 18 H. 6. 17. 10 H. 6. 7. 14 H. 6. 2.

St. 21 R. 2. 17.

The Kings people may carry Butter and Cheeſe to any place out of the Realm, being in amity with the King, without licence.

ITem, Whereas in the Statute made the xxj year of King Richard the ſecond, at the grievous complaint of his Commons, ſhewing how the Staple was limited to reſt at Calice, (2) and that all manner of Woolls, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, Tin, Cheeſe, Butter and Honey, going out of the Realm of England, ought to have recourſe to the ſaid place of Calice, and to no place elſewhere: (3) certain perſons by their ſuggeſtions had before that time purchaſed Licences to carry out Wolls, and other Merchandiſes aforeſaid, to what parts beyond the Sea that pleaſed them, of the Kings amity, to the which their Licences do extend, without coming to the ſaid places of Calice, to the great advantage of the perſons ſo having Licences, and great damage of them which have no Licence: (4) wherefore the ſaid King by authority of his Parliament holden the year aforeſaid, ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Statute ſhould be holden and obſerved as to the great Merchandiſes aforeſaid, that is to ſay, Woolls, Woolfels, Tin and Lead only, without Licence thereof to be granted but by the King himſelf. (5) In reſpect of which Statute ſo made, the Chancellor for the time being often hath denied to grant Licences for Cheeſe and Butter to be carried to any other place, but only to the ſame Calice, to the great damage of the people of this Realm: (6) Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering that Cheeſe and Butter is a Merchandiſe which cannot be well kept, nor tarry his Merchant, and will be greatly impaired by vermine and worms, and is alſo tender and of ſo ſimple price, that it cannot well bear the coſts of the Staple, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that the Kings liege people may convey and carry out of his Realm, whither it ſhall pleaſe them of the Kings amity, Cheeſe and Butter without any Licence to be purſued in any wiſe, paying for the ſame the Cuſtoms and Subſidies thereof due from time to time, any Statute made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

II. Provided that the King may reſtrain the ſame when it ſhall pleaſe him. St. 1 & 2 Ph. & Mar. 5. St. 3 H. 6. 4.

ITem, Whereas heretofore at the time of every quinzime and diſme granted to the King or to his Progenitors, the Collectors of the ſame diſmes within the Cities and Boroughs of his Realm, having Citizens, or Burgeſſes of them coming to the Parliament, have often been deputed and aſſigned of perſons dwelling within the ſame Cities and Boroughs, which and other perſons dwelling in the ſame have been often now of late made Collectors of the ſame Quinzimes and Diſmes granted to the King, as well in the Counties within which the ſame Cities and Boroughs be, as within the ſame Cities and Boroughs, to their great loſs and damage, and likely more to be hereafter, if remedy be not provided: (2) The ſame our Lord the King willing againſt ſuch loſs and damage to provide a remedy in this behalf, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That no man dwelling within any City or Borough in the ſaid Realm, of which City or Borough it hath been uſed before this time, and yet is, the names of certain men by the perſons for the ſaid City or Borough coming to the Parliament to be delivered in the Kings Chancery to be Collectors of Diſmes in the ſame City or Borough, and whereupon the King hath ſent his Letters Patents to the ſame perſons ſo named and delivered in his Chancery to be Collectors of the Diſmes, or parcel of the ſame within the ſaid City or Borough, and the which Collectors have uſed and been bound to accompt of their receit in this behalf immediately in the Kings Eſchequer, ſhall in any wiſe be deputed nor aſſigned to be Collector of any Quinzime, or any parcel of the ſame, granted or to be granted to the King or his Heirs within any County of this Realm, except that he may diſpend in the County out of the ſaid City or Borough in Lands or Tenements to the value of an hundred ſhillings by year over the charges and repriſes.

(4) And if any Letters Patents of any lands or tenements be made to any other perſon to the contrary, or let to ferm within the ſaid month of the return, they ſhall be void and holden for none. (5) The which good ſtatute and ordinance divers perſons deviſing to ſubvert, and by their ſubtilty to ſerve as for no purpoſe, have ſued to obtain ſuch gifts and grants, and ferms by the Kings Letters Patents, before any inquiſition or title found for the King of the ſame, pretending ſuch gifts and grants not compriſed nor remedied by the ſaid ſtatute, notwithſtanding that it is in like miſchief of the ſaid ſtatute. (6) Our ſaid Lord the King, conſidering the premiſſes, and willing to provide due remedy in this behalf, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that no Letters Patents ſhall be made to any perſon or perſons of any lands or tenements, before inquiſition of the Kings title in the ſame be found in the Chancery or in his Eſchequer returned, if the Kings title in the ſame be not found of record, nor within the month after the ſame return, if it be not to him or them which tender their traverſes as afore is ſaid: (7) And if any Letters Patents be made to the contrary, they ſhall be void, and holden for none. (2) Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the matter aforeſaid, and how the goods and merchandiſes of the Kings liege people in like caſe charged and taken be forfeit to the King, hath ordained and granted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid Merchants aliens at their pleaſure may charge ſuch ſhips and veſſels of Spain and of other parts, adverſaries and enemies of the King, if the Maſters, Owners, or Merchants of ſuch veſſels and ſhips having Letters Patents of the King of his ſafe conduct, ſurety, or ſafeguard for ſuch ſhips or veſſels and merchandiſes, making mention of the name of the ſhips or veſſels, and of the name of the Maſter of the Ships and Veſſels, as the manner is. ITem, For that the King is and hath been well certified of many great deceits and falſities, which have been done to him and to his Realm by ſome of the Captains which have before this time indented with the King to ſerve him in the feat of War, ſome beyond the ſea, and in divers parts, as they be appointed and bound by their Indentures, and ſome in his marches on this ſide the Sea, and their wages have been truly paid and contented by the King, according to their Indentures, for them and for all their retinue, according to their degrees, which wages many of the ſaid Captains have abuſed, and taken upon them to deduce from their Souldiers, of ſome more, and ſome leſs; ſo that ſuch from whom they have abated, have not been able to continue their ſervice, nor perform the ſame as of right and reaſon they ought to have done, and peradventure were willing to have done, if they had been fully paid; which hath cauſed them to fall to robbery and pillage, as well on this ſide the ſea before their going, as beyond the ſea when they came thither, amongſt other things it hath been a great cauſe of the long continuance of the war, and great damage and loſs which hath fallen to the Seigniories and Countries of the King in his obeiſance beyond the ſea, and not only that, but loſs alſo of great treaſure which hath been granted to the King, and paid in the form aforeſaid for the defence of his land.

CAP. I.

All Letters of Safe conducts ſhall be enrolled in the Chancery.

Safe Conducts 1.

FIrſt, Whereas poor Merchants of the King of this Realm daily be robbed by the Kings enemies upon the ſea, and in divers Rivers and Ports within the ſame Realm, of their ſhips, goods and Merchandiſes, of great riches, and their bodies taken and impriſoned with dureſs, and put to great fines and ranſoms, and the Kings poor Subjects dwelling nigh the Sea-coaſt taken out of their own houſes with their Chattles and Infants upon land, and carried by the ſaid enemies where it pleaſe them: (2) which miſchiefs come by reaſon that the ſaid Merchants be diſcouraged with force and puiſſance of ſhips, and of people defenſible to keep the ſea and the coaſts of the ſame, for that the ſhips, goods and merchandiſes by them taken from the ſaid Kings enemies, be ſometimes claimed by the Kings enemies, by colour of ſafe conducts, not duly purchaſed, nor of record inrolled, ſo that the Kings ſubjects may have notice of them, (3) and ſometime be claimed by Merchants ſtrangers of the Kings amity, to be due to them, by colour of falſe witneſſes of their nation and by Letters of Marque and Charters partly by them counterfeited, and by ſuch proofs upon ſuch claims, be reſtored to the ſame goods and merchandiſes, often taken in ſhips and veſſels belonging to the Kings enemies, and the ſaid Kings ſubjects put to great vexation and loſs of their own goods, (4) whereby the ſaid Kings enemies be greatly enriched, and their Navy ſtrongly increaſed, and the Navy and merchandiſe of the ſaid Realm of our Lord the King greatly diminiſhed, and ſuch damages and inconveniences daily be likely to increaſe and come to the ſaid Realm of our ſaid Lord the King, if ſpeedy remedy in this caſe be not provided:

All Letters of ſafe conducts which be not enrolled in the Chancery before the delivery of them, ſhall be void. St. 18 H. 6. 8.

II. Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, and that if people of the Kings amity be feared and diſcouraged to freight the ſhips and veſſels of the Kings enemies and adverſaries, their Navy in time to come will be decreaſed and diminiſhed, and the Navy of the Kings ſubjects and friends increaſed and enlarged: by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, to eſchew the miſchiefs aforeſaid, hath ordained by authority of the ſaid Parliament, That all Letters of ſafe conduct to be granted to the Kings enemies and adverſaries, or any other people whatſoever, ſhall be enrolled in the Chancery of our ſaid Lord the King of Record, before that any ſuch Letters ſhall be in any wiſe delivered to them to whom the ſame Letters ſhall be granted: (2) And that all ſuch Letters of ſafe conduct hereafter to be granted, not enrolled of record in the ſaid Chancery, before the delivery to them to be made, in the manner as is ſaid, ſhall be void and of no force nor effect.

They which will take benefit by the Kings ſafe conduct, muſt have it ready enrolled at the time of their apprehenſion.

III. And moreover, if hereafter any goods or merchandiſes be taken by the ſaid ſubjects of our Lord the King upon the ſea, or the coaſts of the ſame, charged in any ſhip or other Veſſel, which is belonging to the enemies or adverſaries of our Lord the King for the time being, not having ſufficient Letters of ſafe conducts, enrolled in the form aforeſaid, that they which ſo ſhall take the ſame goods and merchandiſes, ſhall them enjoy without any reſtitution thereof to be made in any wiſe, to whatſoever perſon the ſame goods and merchandiſes ſo taken, at the time of taking of the ſame, or before, were belonging.

Though the ſafe conduct be not preſently ſhewed, yet it doth ſuffice if it be after proved to be enrolled.

IV. Provided always, That the ſubjects of our Lord the King, taking ſuch ſhips charged with merchandiſes, not having nor ſhewing ſuch letters of ſafe conduct within the ſame ſhips at the time of the ſaid taking, and bringing them by force to a certain Port or place within the ſaid Realm, ſhall not be endamaged in their perſon nor goods for ſuch taking, if they be ready to make full reſtitution of the ſame ſhips and merchandiſes, within reaſonable time after that full knowledge is made to them of ſufficient Letters of ſafe conduct for the ſame ſhips and merchandiſes, and enrolled in the ſaid Chancery of record before the taking of them. Provided alſo, that this Ordinance ſhall begin to hold his force at the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming. 14 Ed. 4. 4.

Item, Our ſaid Lord the King hath granted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That every Merchant denizen for Woolls, Woolfels, and Tin, which ſhall be charged and ſhipped in any Galley, Carack, or other veſſel, to be conveyed and carried by the ſea by the Kings licence, or otherwiſe, to other places and Ports then to the Kings Staple, ſhall pay to the King ſuch Cuſtoms and Subſidies, and other duties, as Merchants aliens pay to the King for their merchandiſes. Provided always, That this grant and ordinance ſhall not extend to any perſons which have licences by the Kings Letters Patents to them before this time, to ſhip, carry or convey any Woolls, Woolfels or Tin, to other places or Ports beyond the Sea then to the ſtaple of Calice, but that they ſhall be of this ordinance clearly diſcharged and excepted.

No Cuſtomer, &c. ſhall have a Ship of his own, uſe Merchandiſe, keep a Wharf, or Inn, or be a Factor.

FIrſt, Our foreſaid Lord the King conſidering how that of late time divers houſhold-ſervants, as well of Lords, as of other perſons of good degree, ſhortly after the death of their ſaid Lords and Maſters, violently and riotouſly have taken and ſpoiled the Goods which were of their ſaid Lords and Maſters at the time of their death, and the ſame diſtributed amongſt them, to the impediment of the execution of the Will of their ſaid Lords and Maſters, and to the great diſpleaſure of God, and alſo contrary to the duty and truth which they ought to have had towards their ſaid Lords and Maſters, and to a perilous example in time to come, unleſs due remedy in this behalf be provided: (2) Wherefore the ſame Lord the King, by the advice, aſſent and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That after full information made to the Chancellor of England for the time being, by the Executors of any ſuch Lord or perſon, or two of the ſame Executors, of ſuch riot, taking and ſpoil made, or hereafter to be made, by the houſhold-ſervants of their or his ſaid Teſtator after his death, the ſame Chancellor by the advice of the chief Juſtices of the Kings Bench, and of the Common Bench, and chief Baron of the Eſchequer for the time being, or two of them, ſhall have power to make ſo many, and ſuch writs to be directed to ſuch Sheriffs by their diſcretion, as to them in this behalf ſhall ſeem neceſſary, to make open Proclamation in ſuch Cities, Boroughs, Towns or place, two Market-days, within twelve days next after the delivery of the ſame writs, as to the ſame Chancellor by the advice aforeſaid ſhall ſeem reaſonable, that the ſaid offendors ſhall appear before the ſame our Lord the King, or his Heirs, in his Bench, at ſuch a day as by the ſaid writ ſhall be limited, ſo that the ſaid laſt Proclamation be made by fifteen days before the ſame day of appearance. (3) And if any ſuch writ be returned at the day contained in the ſaid writ, and the writ be executed, that Proclamation is thereupon had and made according to the ſaid Ordinance; and then if the ſaid perſon or perſons which ſhould appear by reaſon of the ſaid Proclamation, make default at the day ſpecified in the ſaid writ, and do not appear, then he or they ſo making default, ſhall be attainted of Felony.

(2) And if the keepers of the priſon, whereunto the ſaid perſon or perſons be committed, do let them go at large out of the priſon of his own authority, without the conſideration and order of the ſaid Juſtices, then the ſaid keeper ſhall forfeit and loſe forty pound to the ſaid Executors: (3) And that no Protection be allowed in any Action to be taken upon the ſaid Ordinance.

CAP. II.

Jurors in an Indictment in the County Palatine of Lancaſter. Of foreigners dwelling in another County.

Jurors, 17. A reherſal of the Statute of 20 H. 6. 2. and 31 H. 6 6. That they which be outlawed in the County of Lancaſter, ſhall forfeit no lands nor goods that they have in other Counties.

ITem, Becauſe that the humble and faithful liege people of the King, his Subjects inhabiting within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, to do the King ſervice, be, and at all times were ready, and have done to him and his Progenitors, as well in the Realm of England, as in the Realm of Scotland, France, and other parts, and have been governed by the Kings Laws, and not damnified by the ſame, otherwiſe then other of the Kings liege people inhabiting in the Realm of England out of the ſame County, until now of late by a certain Statute at the laſt Parliament holden at Reading, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, That none of the Kings liege people againſt whom any Exigent ſhould be awarded, or outlagary pronounced at the Suit of the King, or of the party in the ſaid County, ſhould forfeit any Goods or Chattels, Lands or Tenements in any County, but only the Goods and Chattels, Lands and Tenements, which the perſons ſo outlawed, or they againſt whom any ſuch Exigent in the ſaid County ſhould be awarded, have in the ſame County of Lancaſter, and by reaſon of any ſuch outlagary at the Suit of the King, or at the Suit of the party pronounced within the ſame County, ſhould not be barred or diſabled of any manner of Action, nor to claim any manner inheritance out of the ſame County, notwithſtanding any Outlawry againſt them pronounced, as in the ſame Act doth more plainly appear.

II. And by reaſon of the ſame Act, if any Foreigner ſhould come into the ſaid County Palatine, and ſhould ſlay any of the liege people of our Lord the King, or ſhould commit any Treaſon, Murder, Rape, Robbery, or other Felony or Treſpaſs, or make any Contract, or do any other offence within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, that then he ſhould have no other puniſhment nor forfeiture in this behalf, but only of ſuch goods which ſuch Foreigners doing and committing ſuch horrible offences, have within the ſaid County Palatine, which for the moſt part have nothing within the ſame County: For which cauſe the ſaid Foreigners, knowing no peril, puniſhment, nor loſs of goods in the Law, to refrain or reſtrain them of ſuch Treaſons, Murders, and Felonies, be the more encouraged daily to commit the ſame within the ſaid County, and giveth them audacity daily to offend againſt the Laws of the King, his Crown and Dignity, and alſo in reſtraint of the Kings Laws, to the great loſs and final deſtruction of the ſaid liege people and Subjects in the ſaid County Palatine: (2) whereof the foreſaid Lord the King conſidering the Premiſſes, by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, hath willed, granted, and eſtabliſhed, That the Act before rehearſed and made at the ſaid laſt Parliament holden at Reading ſhall be adnulled, void, and ſtand in no force. (3) And further for the conſideration, tranquility, quietneſs, and peace of all his liege people, as well within the ſaid County Palatine, as of other his liege people out of the ſaid County, within the Realm of England, the ſame Lord the King by authority aforeſaid, hath granted, ordained and ſtabliſhed, That every Indictment hereafter to be taken before any of the Kings Juſtices in the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, or before any Sheriff in his tourn, in the ſaid County, whereby any perſon or perſons be ſuppoſed by the ſame endictment to be or to have been inhabiting or converſant out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, and within any other County within the Realm of England, ſhall be taken and had by the verdict of twelve men, whereof every of them or ſome other perſon or perſons to their uſe within the ſame County of Lancaſter, ſhall have to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings. (4) And no Proceſs ſhall be made out of any ſuch endictment, before it be duly enquired and examined before the Kings Juſtices within the ſaid County of Lancaſter for the time being, whether the ſaid Endictors, and every of them, at the time of ſuch endictment ſo taken, had Lands and Tenements within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings above all Charges. (5) And if it be found by examination of the ſaid Juſtices for the time being within the ſaid County, that the ſaid Endictors and every of them at the time of ſuch Endictment ſo taken, had not Lands and Tenements to the yearly value aforeſaid, that then the ſame Endictment, as to ſuch perſons ſo endicted, ſuppoſed by the ſaid Endictments to be inhabiting and converſant out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, ſhall be void and of no effect. (6) And alſo the ſame Lord the King, of the advice and authority aforeſaid, hath granted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed, That every Endictment from henceforth to be taken within any County of the ſaid Realm, and out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, before any Juſtice, or the Sheriff in his tourn, whereby any perſon or perſons ſuppoſed by the ſame Endictment to be, or to have been converſant or inhabiting within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, and without ſuch County where ſuch Endictment ſhall happen to be taken, ſhall be taken by verdict of twelve men, whereof every of them, or ſome other perſon or perſons to their uſe, ſhall have Lands and Tenements within the ſame County where the ſaid Endictments ſhall be taken, to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings. (8) And if it be found before our Lord the King, or any of his Juſtices, That the ſaid Endictors, or any of them, had not at that time of ſuch Endictments taken, nor that none other to their uſe had Lands and Tenements to the value of an hundred ſhillings by year, that then the ſaid Endictment, as to any ſuch perſon or perſons ſuppoſed by the ſame Endictment to be, or to have been inhabiting or converſant within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, ſhall be void, and of no effect.

How many Atturnies may be in Norfolk, how many in Suffolk, and in Norwich.

Ibid. 13. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 76. A practice of contentious Atturnies, to ſtir up ſuits for their private profits.

ITem, Whereas of time not long paſt within the City of Norwich, and the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, there were no more but ſix or eight Atturnies at the moſt, coming to the Kings Courts, in which time great tranquility reigned in the ſaid City and Counties, little trouble or vexation was made by untrue and foreign ſuits. (2) And now ſo it is, that in the ſaid City and Counties there be fourſcore Atturnies or more, the more part of them having no other thing to live upon, but only his gain by the practice of Atturnſhip: and alſo the more part of them not being of ſufficient knowledge to be an Atturney, (3) which come to every Fair, Market, and other places, where is any aſſembly of people, exhorting, procuring, moving and inciting the people to attempt untrue and foreign ſuits for ſmall treſpaſſes, little offences, and ſmall ſums of debt, whoſe actions be triable and determinable in Court-Barons, (4) whereby proceed many ſuits more of evil will and malice, then of truth of the thing, to the manifold vexations and no little damage of the Inhabitants of the ſaid City and Counties, and all to the perpetual diminution of all the Court-Barons in the ſaid Counties, unleſs convenient remedy be provided in this behalf. (5) The foreſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice, aſſent and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That at all times from henceforth there ſhall be but ſix common Atturnies in the ſaid County of Norfolk, and ſix common Atturnies in the ſaid County of Suffolk, and two common Atturnies in the ſaid City of Norwich, to be Atturnies in the Courts of Record, (6) and that all the ſaid fourteen Atturnies ſhall be elect and admitted by the two chief Juſtices of our Lord the King for the time being, of the moſt ſufficient and beſt inſtructed by their diſcretions. (7) And that the election and admiſſion of all Atturnies which ſhall be elected and admitted by the ſaid Juſtices for the time being, above the ſaid number in the ſaid Counties, ſhall be void and of no authority nor record. (8) And if any perſon or perſons uſurp or preſume to be Atturney in Courts of Record in the ſaid Counties or City otherwiſe then before is ſpecified, and that found by inquiſition taken before the Juſtices of Peace in the ſaid City or Counties (which ſhall have power by vertue of this Ordinance to enquire thereof in their Seſſions) or in any other manner lawfully proved, that then he or they that ſo preſume, if they be thereof lawfully convict, ſhall forfeit twenty pound as often as he or they be ſo convict, the one half thereof to be taken to the Kings uſe, and the other half to his uſe which for the ſame will ſue. (9) And he that thereof will ſue, ſhall have an action of debt againſt any ſuch perſon which ſo preſumeth to be Atturney, (10) and ſuch proceſs for recovery of the ſame, as lieth in an action of debt at the Common Law upon an Obligation. (11) Provided always, that the ſaid Ordinance begin and firſt take effect at the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming and not before, if the ſame Ordinance ſeem reaſonable to the Juſtices.

There ſhall be but ſix common Atturnies in Norfolk, ſix in Suffolk, and two in Norwich.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall have authority to enquire of offenders.

OUR Lord King Edward the fourth after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter, the nine and twentieth day of April, in the third year of his Reign, and by divers Prorogations and Adjournments, continued till the one and twentieth day of January, in the fourth year of his ſaid Reign, on the ſame one and twentieth day of January, to the reverence of God, and for the wealth of him and his people, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of his Commons being in the ſaid Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

The length and breadth of Clothes made to be ſold. No clothes wrought beyond Sea ſhall be brought into England.

Drapery 101. The inconveniences which have enſued to this Realm by the deceitful making of Cloth.

Firſt, Whereas many years paſt, and now at this day, the workmanſhip of Clothes and things requiſite to the ſame, is and hath been of ſuch fraud, deceit and falſity, that the ſaid Clothes in other Lands and Countries be had in ſmall reputation, to the great ſhame of this Land: (2) And by reaſon thereof a great quantity of Clothes of other ſtrange Lands be brought into this Realm, and here ſold at an high and exceſſive price, evidently ſhewing the offence, default and falſhood of the making of woollen Clothes of this Land: (3) Our ſaid Lord the King, for the remedy of the premiſſes, and to the preferment of ſuch labours and occupations which have been uſed by the making of the ſaid Clothes, by the advice, aſſent and requeſt, and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form enſuing: (4) Firſt, That every whole woollen Cloth, called Broad Cloth, which ſhall be made and ſet to ſale after the Feaſt called St. Peter ad vincula, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord M.CCCC.LXV. after the full watering and racking, ſtraining or tenturing of the ſame ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xxiv yards, and to every yard an inch, containing the breadth of a mans inch, to be meaſured by the creſt of the ſame Cloth: and in breadth ij yards, or vij quarters at the leaſt within the liſts. (5) And if the ſaid Cloth be longer in meaſure then the ſaid xxiv yards and the inches, then the buyer thereof ſhall pay to the ſeller for as much as doth exceed ſuch meaſure of xxiv yards, according to the rate of the meaſure above ordained.

The length and breadth of woollen cloth called Broad Cloth. Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6.

The length and breadth of Streits.

II. And it is enacted and eſtabliſhed by authority of the ſaid Lords, that all manner of Clothes called Streits, to be made and put to ſale after the ſame Feaſt, after the full watering and racking, ſtraining or tenturing thereof ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xij yards and iij inches, according to the meaſure aforeſaid, and in breadth one yard within the liſts.

The length and breadth of Kerſey.

III. Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That every Cloth called Kerſey, to be made and put to ſale after the ſaid Feaſt, after the full watering, racking, ſtraining or tenturing of the ſame ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xviij yards and iij inches, as is aforeſaid, and in breadth one yard and a nail, or at the leaſt one yard within the liſt.

Half Clothes.

Lambs wool, flocks or cork, ſhall not be put into Cloth but for certain cauſes. St. 7 Ed. 4. 2.

IV. Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, that every half Cloth of every of the ſaid whole Clothes, Streits and Kerſeys, ſhall keep his meaſure in length and breadth according to the rate, form and nature of his whole Cloth aforeſaid. (2) And that no perſon which ſhall make or cauſe to be made any woollen Cloth to ſell after the ſaid Feaſts, ſhall mingle or put in or upon the ſame Cloth, nor the wool whereof the ſaid Cloth ſhall be made, any Lambs wool, flocks or cork in any manner, upon pain to forfeit xx s. for every Cloth or half Cloth, wherein or whereupon any ſuch Lambs wool, flocks or cork ſhall be put or mingled. (3) The one half thereof to be to the King, and the other half to him that will ſeiſe the ſame Cloth, and duly prove the ſame to be made contrary to this Ordinance. (4) But it ſhall be lawful for him to make cloth of Lambs wool by it ſelf, without mingling with any other wool; (5) Except alſo that cork may be uſed in dying upon woaded wool, and alſo in dying of all ſuch cloth that is only made of woaded wool, ſo that the ſame wool and cloth be perfectly boiled and madered; Except alſo that cork may be put upon cloth which is perfectly boiled and madered.

Clothes ſhall perfectly purſue one order of workmanſhip.

A ſeal of Lead ſhall be ſet upon faulty cloth. Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6.

Cloth lawfully made ſhall be ſealed with a double print in Lead. St. 17 Ed. 4. 5.

Sealing of cloth which is leſs then a whole cloth, and longer then a half cloth.

The Lord Treaſurer ſhall make as many Keepers of the ſeal to ſeal cloth as he will.

V. And it is ordained and enacted, that every of the ſaid clothes and half clothes ſhall perfectly and rightly purſue and follow one order of workmanſhip, from one end to the other, without difference in the weaving, fulling, knotting or burling. (2) And in caſe any ſuch difference, or raw, or skaw cokel, or fagge, happen to be in any part of the ſaid Clothes, Streits, or Kerſeys, that then a Seal of Lead therefore ordained, and by the Treaſurer of England for the time being provided, ſhall be ſet and hanged in the loweſt part of the edge of the ſame Cloth, Streit or Kerſey, for perfect knowledge to be had to the buyer thereof. (3) And that every of the ſaid Clothes, Streit and Kerſey of the length and breadth aforeſaid, and alſo of the ſaid perfection, ſhall be from the Feaſt of St. Peter ad vincula, ſealed at the end of the ſame, with a double print in Lead, deviſed and ordained by the ſaid Treaſurer in teſtimony and witneſs of the foreſaid true length, breadth and making. (4) And if any of the foreſaid Clothes, Streits or Kerſeys, do not contain the foreſaid length and breadth, or be not of the perfect workmanſhip aforeſaid, and the ij parts of the ſame Clothes, Streits, or Kerſeys be of the true and perfect workmanſhip aforeſaid, keeping their ſaid length and breadth, that then every ſuch Cloth, Streit and Kerſey, ſhall be ſealed with the ſaid Seals, in the form aforeſaid; (5) and that every half cloth containing greater length then the half cloth, and leſs length then the whole cloth, of the ſorts of the clothes aforeſaid, being of the ſame perfect workmanſhip and breadth, ſhall be ſealed with a ſeal printed in Lead, having a mark differing from both the ſeals aforeſaid, in teſtimony and witneſs of the true length, breadth, and making of the half cloth. (6) And if any woollen cloth of any ſorts of the clothes before recited, perfectly made, and having breadth after the ſort before limited, containing iij yards and an half, or more, or leſs then the half cloth, be put to ſale after the ſaid Feaſt, the ſame cloth ſhall be ſealed with a ſeal printed in Lead, having a mark differing from any of the ſaid Seals, for a knowledge to be had of the default of the half cloth, (7) the ſaid ſeals to be deviſed and ordained by the ſaid Treaſurer, and to be put at the end of every of the half clothes, and clothes leſs then half clothes. (8) Alſo by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Treaſurer of England for the time being ſhall have power and authority to make ſuch and as many keepers of the ſaid ſeals as he ſhall think neceſſary: So that no ſtranger born be made any of the ſaid keepers. (9) And that every of the ſaid keepers ſo to be made ſhall accompt yearly of the revenues of their ſaid Offices in the ſaid Exchequer before the Treaſurer of England, and the Barons there for the time being, duly ſhewing in the ſame accompts the number of the Clothes, half Clothes, Streits and Kerſeys ſealed by them, with the names of the owners of the ſame. (10) Every of the ſame keepers to be rewarded yearly at his ſaid accompt for his labour and diligence had in this behalf at the receit of the ſaid Eſchequer, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons, without payment of any thing in the ſaid Exchequer in or for the making of his ſaid accompt. (11) And in caſe any of the ſaid keepers do ſeal any of the aforeſaid clothes with any other ſeal, or any of the ſame clothes otherwiſe made then according to the manner and ordinance above ſpecified, and that by ſufficient proof and examination ſhewed and approved before the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons, by the ſaid depoſition, teſtimony and witneſs of ſufficient perſons of good and due reputation, which have had prompt experience in weaving, fulling, and making of clothes: or if the ſame keeper do refuſe to ſeal any of theſe clothes, made according to the ſaid manner and ordinance: or if any ſuch keeper or Aulneger do take after the ſaid Feaſt, for the King, of any perſon for the ſealing or meaſuring of any ſorts of cloth, any other ſum of Mony then is contained in the Statutes and Ordinances made before this time, and not repealed; or if any ſuch Keeper or Aulnager, after the ſaid Feaſt, do refuſe to ſhew his Commiſſion of his Office to any perſon deſiring the ſame upon the ſealing or meaſuring of any ſuch clothes before rehearſed, and that examined and duly proved, that then he, as often as he ſhall offend in any of the premiſſes, ſhall forfeit the ſum of xx s. the one half thereof to the King, and the other half to the party proving the ſaid offences therein by ſuit to be made before the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons, by bill of debt in the ſaid Exchequer, in which bill like judgment and execution ſhall be had, as is accuſtomably had and uſed againſt other accomptants in the ſame Eſchequer. (12) And that theſe Statutes and Ordinances, and other Statutes and Ordinances made before this time and not repealed, concerning any of the premiſſes, ſhall be contained and ſpecified in every Commiſſion to be made to every ſuch Keeper or Aulnager, after the ſaid Feaſt. (13) Alſo whereas before this time in the occupations of Cloth-making, the Labourers thereof have been driven to take a great part of their wages in pins, girdles, and other unprofitable wares under ſuch price as they did extend to, and alſo have delivered to them Wools to be wrought by very exceſſive weight, whereby both men and women have been diſcouraged of ſuch labour: (14) Therefore it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That every man and woman being Cloth-makers, from the ſaid Feaſt of St. Peter, ſhall pay to the Carders, Spinſters, and all ſuch other Labourers in any part of the ſaid Trade, lawful mony for all their lawful wages and payment of the ſame: (15) And alſo ſhall deliver Wools to be wrought according to the faithful delivery and due weight thereof, upon pain of forfeiture to the ſame Labourer the treble of his ſaid wages ſo not paid, as often as the Cloth-maker doth refuſe to pay the ſame in the ſaid manner and form to any ſuch Labourer, put by him to the occupation in any of the ſaid parts of Cloth-making; (16) and alſo to forfeit to the ſame Labourer, for every delivery of exceſſive and unlawful weight to him committed to be wrought, vj d. for every default.

The accompt of the keepers of the ſeal, and their reward.

The penalty of the keeper of the ſeal for omitting his duty.

A Clothier ſhall pay to his workfolks ready mony, and ſhall deliver them wool according to the weight.

VI. Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That every Carder, Spinſter, Weaver, Fuller, Sheerman and Dyer, ſhall duly perform his duty in his occupation, upon pain to yield to the party grieved in this behalf his double damages: (2) And that every Fuller from the ſaid Feaſt of St. Peter, in his craft and occupation of Fulling, Rowing, or Caſeyling of Cloth, ſhall exerciſe and uſe Taſels, and no Cards, deceitfully impairing the ſame Cloth, upon pain to yield to the party grieved his double damage: (3) And that every Juſtice of Peace for the time being of every County of this Realm, throughout the ſame County, out of Cities, Boroughs and Towns where any Mayor, Maſter, Warden, Bailiff or Bailiffs, is or be, and every Mayor, where there is no Maſter, and every Maſter, where there is no Mayor, and every Bailiff or Bailiffs where there is no Mayor nor Maſter, and every Portreeve, where no Mayor, Maſter, Bailiff nor Bailiffs is or be, of every City, Borough and Town within every ſuch County aforeſaid, and every Conſtable of Hundred, where any Conſtable of Hundred is, out of every City, Borough and Town where any Mayor, Maſter, Bailiff or Bailiffs, or Portreeves is or be; and that every Steward keeping or holding Wapentake or Leet of any perſon out of City, Borough or Town, where no Mayor, Maſter, Bailiff or Bailiffs, or Portreeves is or be, ſhall have power and authority by this Ordinance to hear and determine the complaints of every ſuch Cloth-maker and Labourer, as well for non-payment of the ſaid Labourers wages, as of the ſaid forfeiture and damages, by due examination of the parties in this behalf, thereupon for non-payment of the ſaid duties and forfeiture, and for the ſaid damages to commit the ſaid offenders in this behalf to the next Gaol within the ſame County, there to remain till the ſaid duties, forfeitures and damages be fully paid to the ſaid Labourer or Cloth-maker. (2) And that every piece of Worſted ſhall be purſuing through the piece of lawful making, good and convenient ſtuff: (3) And that they ſhall hold the length and breadth as the aſſiſe was wont to be of old time rightfully accuſtomed, that is to ſay, Beds of the greateſt aſſiſe, fourteen yards largely in length, and four yards largely in breadth: and beds of the mean aſſiſe, twelve yards in length, and three yards in breadth: and beds of the leaſt aſſiſe, ten yards in length, and five quarters in breadth: (4) and clothes called Monks clothes, twelve yards in length at the leaſt, and five quarters in breadth: (5) and clothes called Chanon clothes, of the one aſſiſe ſix yards in length, and two yards in breadth: and of the other aſſiſe five yards in length, and ſeven quarters in breadth: (6) and double Motleys ſeven yards in length, and five quarters in breadth: and ſingle Motleys ſix yards in length, and five quarters in breadth: (7) and double Worſted ten yards in length, and five quarters in breadth: and the half double Worſted ſix yards in length, and five quarters in breadth: and the roll of Worſted thirty yards in length, and half a yard in breadth. Sheriffs 4. St. 23 H 6.8.

A Sheriff being not diſcharged, may occupy his office during Michaelmas Term notwithſtanding the St. of 23 H.6.8.

FIrſt, Whereas by a Statute made at Weſtminſter, in the xxiij year of the reign of King Henry late in deed and not of right King of England, called King Henry the ſixth, it was ordained, that no Sheriff ſhould Occupy his Office of Sheriff above a year, upon pain of two hundred pounds; (2) Except certain perſons in the ſaid Statute excepted, as in the ſame is more plainly ſpecified: (3) Divers and many of the Kings liege people have been grievouſly endamaged and greatly delayed of their ſuits and proceſſes every year, in the Term called Michaelmas Term, as for their actions, writs and precepts to be returned within the ſame Term, after the ſixth day of the month of November, becauſe that the Kings Letters Patents whereby any Sheriff is made, do moſt commonly bear date the ſixth day of November. (4) And though it ſo be, that the new Sheriffs be yearly choſen the morrow after the Feaſt day of All-Souls, of which new Sheriffs ſo choſen and appointed, divers of them have refuſed, and divers of them have not had their Patents, nor taken their Oath, until long time after the end of the ſaid Michaelmas Term; by reaſon whereof divers of the Kings liege people and ſubjects be greatly endamaged and delayed of their ſuits, proceſſes and precepts, which ſhould be returnable in the Kings Courts at the days of the return within the ſame Term after the ſixth day of November, that is to ſay, at the days of return called Craſtino Martini, Octabis Martini and Quindena Martini, becauſe that the old Sheriffs durſt not, nor would not take upon them to return any writ or precept after the year that his Patent did bear date, for fear of the penalty contained in the aforeſaid Statute, to the great loſs as well to the King of that which ſhould grow to him by reaſon of the ſaid proceſs, as to his liege people, by delays which they thereby ſuſtain. (5) It is ordained by authority of the foreſaid Parliament, that if any Sheriff of any County do execute or return any writ, precept or warrant in any of the ſaid Courts of the King within the ſaid Term called Michaelmas Term, after the ſixth day of November, and before any Writ of diſcharge delivered to him of his occupying of Sheriffwick, he ſhall not be damnified by force of the ſaid Statute, nor charged of the penalty aforeſaid, although that he hath occupied the Office of Sheriff after any of the ſaid days of return called Craſtino Martini, Octabis Martini, or Quindena Martini. (4) And alſo the ſaid Bowſtaves ſo brought, ſent or conveyed by the ſaid Merchants, their factors, attornies, or ſervants into this Realm, ſhall be ſearched and ſurveyed by the Mayor, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or chief Governors of ſuch Cities or Towns within this Realm, where any ſuch Carrack, Galley or Ship, ſhall hereafter come to ſafe port: (5) And the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or chief Governors ſhall aſſign two men moſt expert to ſearch the ſaid Staves, and the ſaid two men to be ſworn by the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or chief Governors, that they ſhall truly and indifferently mark the Staves that be not good and ſufficient, according to the manner as ſuch Staves in times paſt were wont to be marked, to the intent that all the Kings liege people may have knowledge of them without fraud. The penalty of them that do not perform the award and order of Commiſſioners authoriſed to pull down Wears.

Wears 5. St. 9 H. 3. 23. Statutes that have been made for the pulling down or reforming of wears and of the Commiſſioners authority.

ITem, Whereas by the laudable Statute of Magna Charta, amongſt other things, it is contained, that all Kedels by Thamiſe and Medway, and throughout the Realm of England, ſhould be taken away, ſaving by the Sea-banks, (2) which Statute was made for the great wealth of all this land, in avoiding the ſtraitneſs of all Rivers, ſo that ſhips and boats might have in them their large and free paſſage, and alſo in ſafeguard of all the fry of fiſh ſpawned within the ſame; (3) upon which Magna Charta the great ſentence and Apoſtolick curſe by a great number of Biſhops was pronounced againſt the breakers of the ſame, and the ſame ſentence is four times in the year openly declared according to the law of the holy Church: (4) and in affirmance of the ſaid Statute of the great Charter divers Statutes have been after made and ordained, amongſt which in a Parliament holden in the firſt year of the uſurped reign of King Henry the fourth it was recited, that in the xxv year of King Edward the third, progenitor of our Lord the King that now is, becauſe that the common paſſages of ſhips and boats in the great Rivers of England were oftentimes diſturbed by levying of Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes and Kedles, to the great damage of the people, (5) it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all ſuch Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes, Kedles, which were levied and ſet up in the time of King Edward, ſon of King Henry, and after in ſuch Rivers (whereby the ſhips and boats were diſturbed that they could not paſs as they were wont) ſhould be taken away and broken down, never to be ſet up again: (6) and that Writs ſhould be thereupon ſent to the Sheriff of ſuch places where need ſhould be, to ſurvey and enquire and the ſame to execute; (7) and that Juſtices ſhould be thereto aſſigned at all times when need requireth. (8) And after grievous complaint both of great men and of the Commons thereupon made in the Parliament of the ſaid King Edward the third, in the five and fortieth year of his reign, ſhewing by their petition, that the ſaid Statute was not duly executed nor obſerved according to the form and the effect thereof: It was accorded and eſtabliſhed, that the ſame Statute in that point ſhould be holden and kept, according to the tenor of the ſame: (9) adjoined thereto, that if any ſuch annoyance be done, that the ſame be broken down by due proceſs contained in the ſaid Statute, (10) and that he which again doth levy ſuch annoyances, and be thereof duly attainted, ſhall run in the pain of an C marks to our Lord the King, to be levied by the eſtreats of the Eſchequer. (11) The ſame Law ſhall be holden of annoyance made by the enhanſing of the ſaid Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes and Kedles, as by new levying, as in the ſaid Statutes more plainly appeareth. (12) And then at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, ſhewing by their petition, that the common paſſages of ſhips and boats in the great Rivers of England, and alſo meadows and paſtures, and arable lands adjoining to the ſaid Rivers, were greatly diſturbed, drowned, waſted and deſtroyed by the outragious enhanſing and ſtreiting of Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes and Kedles, made in old time and levied before the time of the ſaid King Edward, ſon to the ſaid King Henry; whereby great loſs and damage often enſued to the people of the Realm, and daily would enſue, if remedy were not provided.

II. Wherefore it was ordained and enacted by the aſſent of the ſaid Parliament, holden the firſt year of the ſaid pretenced King Henry the fourth, that the ſaid Statutes in all their articles ſhould be obſerved, firmly kept, and duly executed: (2) adjoining thereto that Commiſſions ſhould be made in due form to ſufficient perſons to be Juſtices in every County of England, where need ſhould be, to ſurvey and keep the waters and great rivers there, and to correct and amend the faults, and to make due execution by the ſaid Statutes, according to the effect of the ſame, (3) as well by their ſurvey, advice and diſcretion, as by enqueſts to be taken thereof within franchiſe and without, when need ſhall be, and to hear and determine all thoſe things aforeſaid, (4) and moreover to ſurvey the Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes and Kedels, made in old time and levied before the ſaid time of King Edward, ſon to King Henry; and ſuch as they find too much enhanſed or ſtreited, to correct, break down and amend in the manner and form aforeſaid.

III. Saving always a reaſonable ſubſtance of the ſame Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes, Kedles, ſo made in old time and levied. (2) And if any ſuch annoyances of Wears, Mills, Millſtanks, Stakes and Kedles, in letting of the paſſages and ſtreiting made in old time and levied, be judged or conſidered by the ſaid Juſtices to be broken down or amended, he that hath the freehold of the ſame ſhall do execution thereof at his own Coſts, within half a year after knowledge given to him, upon pain of forfeiture of an C marks, to be paid to our Lord the King by eſtreats in the Exchequer: (3) and he that doth levy them again, enhanſe or ſtreit them contrary to the ſaid judgment, and thereof be duly convict, ſhall run in pain of an C marks to be paid to our Lord the King by eſtreats into the Eſchequer aforeſaid, as in the ſame Statutes more fully appeareth: (4) Contrary to which great Charter, and all the Statutes aforeſaid, in divers parts of this Realm of England, both in the deſtroying of the fiſh as afore is ſaid, and in diſturbance of the paſſages of ſhips, barges, boats, and other veſſels, by divers and many people, divers Fiſhgarths, Mills, Milldams, Millſtanks, Locks, ebbing Wears, Stakes, Kedles, Hecks or Floodgates, and divers other diſturbances be daily enhanſed, levied and enlarged, to the great damage of our Lord the King, and of his faithful lieges; (5) Our ſaid Lord the King graciouſly conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons in this Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Statute of the great Charter, and all other Statutes concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be duly obſerved and kept: (6) Adjoyned thereto, that if after the Feaſt of St. Michael, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1475. by award, rule or judgment of any of the ſaid Commiſſioners aſſigned, according to the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid firſt year of Henry the Fourth, it be found that any ſuch Wears, Fiſhgarths, Mills, Milldams, Millſtanks, Locks, ebbing Wears, Stakes, Kedles, Hecks or Floodgates, be made, levied, enhanſed, ſtraited or enlarged, againſt the ſame Statute, the offenders in this behalf, contrary to the aforeſaid award, rule and judgment, being duly warned by the Sheriff or Sheriffs by Scire facias, directed to the Sheriff or Sheriffs of ſuch County or Counties where ſuch Wears, Fiſhgarths, Mills, Milldams, Millſtanks, and other noyances, diſturbances or impediments be, and within three months next after the ſaid garniſhment made, they do not duly and wholly amend, break down, and avoid the ſaid making, levying, enhaunſing, ſtreiting or enlarging, being defective as afore is ſaid in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid firſt year, that then he or they being defective in this behalf, ſhall forfeit to our Lord the King an C marks, to be paid by Eſtreats in the Eſchequer, in manner and form as in the ſame Statute more fully is contained.

The penalty of him which doth continue in his offence, or doth delay to reform it.

IV. Moreover, if the ſaid offendor or his heir or heirs, aſſignee or aſſignees, or any of them do defer or continue the ſame default, contrary to the award, rule or judgment of the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, that he or they ſo doing, deferring or continuing the ſame default, ſhall forfeit for every month after the ſaid three months ended, that the ſame default ſhall remain and be not corrected, amended nor reformed, an C marks, (2) the one half thereof to our Lord the King, and the other half to any of his liege people which in this behalf will ſue for the ſame, (3) by action of debt to be conceived by original Writ, without fine to be made or taken for the ſame in the Chancery.

V. In which action, like proceſs, rule, judgment and execution ſhall be allowed, had and made, as is uſed in other actions of debt purſued at the Common Law by writ; (2) and that the defendant in any ſuch action be not admitted to do or wage his Law, (3) nor that any protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice be allowed for the defendant in the ſame Writ.

II. And if it be ſo tryed, or that the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs or their Atturnies, refuſe to be ſworn in the form aforeſaid, That then the Defendant or Defendants be quite diſmiſſed and diſcharged in that behalf out of that Court ; The party Plaintiff to take his advantage at the Common Law, or other place convenient, as him ſeemeth good, This Ordinance notwithſtanding.
